MAC VEAGH DENIES ANDREW CHARGES IN SEARING LETTER

Secretary Says Assistant Resigned Only After Repeated Requests for Action.

ALLEGES HE FAILED DUTIES

Trip to Chicago Without Consent Declared to Have Been Made for Political Gain.

RESENTS USE OF OTHERS' NAMES

Lancaster, Mass., July 4.—[Special.]—Franklin MacVeagh, secretary of the treasury, today issued a public statement replying to the charges which were made against him in the letter of Dr. A. Piatt Andrew, in which the latter resigned as assistant secretary.

In his statement, Secretary MacVeagh says the resignation of Dr. Andrew was not submitted until after it had been requested repeatedly both by President Taft and himself. He says Andrew pleaded that he be retained and brought every influence possible to bear to have the request for his resignation withdrawn. He says the reason for asking Dr. Andrew's resignation was that the latter was unable to carry out the duties his office required and because he, without permission, went to Chicago "to gain political acquaintances," and not, as Andrew says, to seek aid for the Aldrich monetary plan.

Secretary MacVeagh says the chief reason that he made public his reply was that Dr. Andrew, in his letter, had misrepresented a number of high officials in the department. He says nothing about Andrew's charge that his "idiosyncracies" disturb the whole department.

Text of MacVeagh Statement.

"I regret that it seems necessary to refer to the letters published by Mr. A. Piatt Andrew and addressed to the president and to me," the statement of the secretary says. "The virulence of the attack has probably limited its effect, but apart from the attack upon me he misrepresented a number of the chief men of the treasury department, to whom I attribute a large measure of the success of the department work, and seems to deny that anything has been accomplished either by them or anybody else. I am obliged therefore to restore Mr. Andrew's resignation to its proper light.

"Mr. Andrew says he resigned because of the conditions in the treasury department of which he disapproves. A comparison of this statement with the facts is probably the simplest way to test the animus and veracity of his letters.

"He did not resign voluntarily, but was asked to resign—and asked repeatedly—and he used every effort and influence possible to get the request for his resignation withdrawn, and pleaded to be allowed to continue in his place.

Gives Details of Resignation.

"It was when he had failed to have the request for his resignation withdrawn, and because of this, that he made his attack—and chose to give the impression that his resignation was a matter of his own choice and determined upon for public reasons. The details as to his resignation are as follows:

"On June 24, when Mr. Andrew returned from Chicago, I formally asked in a note for his resignation. He called on me at once to urge me to change my mind and allow him to stay. At his wish I explained at length my reasons and listened to all his arguments and wishes. I felt, however, obliged to tell him the request for his resignation could not be withdrawn.

"I supposed Mr. Andrew would send his resignation promptly and as a matter of course, as I had never known of a case where such a request had not been promptly complied with.

Demands Immediate Answer.

"I waited, however, without reply until June 28. I then wrote again, repeating the request. On the 29th Mr. Andrew sent me a brief note, treating the matter with vagueness. I replied immediately, saying I could not accept vagueness, but wished to have that day either his resignation or his refusal to resign. To this he did not reply at all.

"Therefore, on July 1, I wrote a fourth time renewing the request and communicating a copy of a letter addressed to me by President Taft authorizing and directing me to ask for the resignation. I asked for a prompt reply, saying I was going out of town.

"I left Washington on the midnight train, without hearing from Mr. Andrew, and saw in the next afternoon's papers long extracts from two scurrilous letters, one to the president and one to me, which at last conveyed his unwilling resignation.

Says Andrew Pleaded Case.

"Meanwhile—as I only learned after a week—Mr. Andrew had diligently used the interval while I was waiting to secure all the influence he could to aid him in keeping his place. Besides arguing the case himself with me and with certain senators, and besides having his case argued both at the White House and before me, he argued his case himself at the White House.

"Mr. Andrew did not at any time mention to me any objection to his treatment in the treasury department except that he thought that I did not give him as much of my time as I ought; and that I had some times allowed other callers to be received when he was in my room.

"On the other hand, some of those connected with my office—and who were impartial—thought Mr. Andrew had had at certain periods too much of my time. Certainly his curious calculation of the amount of time given him will strike every one with wonderment.

Resents Use of Others' Names.

"No other complaint or criticism did Mr. Andrew ever offer. And it is hardly necessary to point out that a man whose grip on his place I could hardly shake loose could scarce-

VICE PRESIDENT OF BANK BECOMES REAL HEAD WAITER

W. G. Schroeder Takes Command When Strike of Servitors Threatens Woe to Big Picnic Party.

W. G. Schroeder, vice president of the Continental and Commercial National bank, yesterday organized a score of clerks into a waiters' brigade following a strike at Ravinia park.

The officials of the bank were giving a "summer party" at Ravinia for employes, and Mr. Schroeder was chairman of the reception committee.

All went well until the hour for luncheon arrived. Tables had been set in the park pavilion and in the grove for more than 12,000 persons, all impatient for their food.

"Sorry, but the waiters have gone on strike," announced the park manager. "We have some waiters on hand who will work, but the service will be slow."

Following the example of the vice president, a score of clerks left their places at the tables and assisted in serving, so that the festivities were not delayed by the strike.

A feature of the day, however, was a fat men's race, in which George M. Reynolds, president of the bank, and Ralph Van Vechten, a director, were among the contestants. Mr. Reynolds finished fourth and Mr. Van Vechten sixth.

ROW OVER INSULT TO GIRL; 1 MAY DIE

Dozen Men Battle in Dark Street, Until Peacemaker, Dr. D. H. Meeks, Is Hurt.

NINE PUT UNDER ARREST.

An insulted woman's scream for help early yesterday morning precipitated a free for all fight in which a dozen men engaged. One of the men as a result of the row is at the point of death and four others are facing a charge of assault with intent to kill.

Dr. Daniel N. Meeks, a dentist, is the man near death. He was struck down while acting the rôle of peacemaker. The four accused are the young men who went to the assistance of their woman friend who said she was insulted. Five companions of Dr. Meeks among whom is the man said to have offered the insult, were arrested on charges of disorderly conduct. The trouble ocurred at Sixty-third street and Ellis avenue.

Following the fistic battle Dr. Meeks, who is married and resides at 6314 Lexington avenue, was taken to St. Bernard's hospital, where it was found his skull was fractured at the base. He probably will die.

The four men charged with the assault are T. A. Blanchfield, 6328 Ellis avenue; Lloyd J. Butler, 707 West Sixtieth place; John R. Durkin, 5640 South Wabash avenue, and D. J. Sammons, 6618 South Peoria street.

Three Girls with Young Men.

With the four young men were three girls who had accompanied them to Sans Souci park. They were Miss Loretta McDermott, 713 West Fiftieth street; Miss Grace Flynn, 3245 Indiana avenue; and Miss Genevieve Mulvaney, 3340 Prairie avenue.

Blanchfield at the Woodlawn police station at night told of the row and his story is borne out by the findings of Sergeant Daniel Burns and other police, who investigated the assault.

"We had been in the park, the seven of us, and the other boys and girls were walking home with me before taking a car for their homes," he said. "We were near the corner of Sixty-third street and Ellis avenue and stopped. Miss McDermott stepped thirty or forty feet away and sat down on a bread box to fix her shoe. This other crowd passed along and four of the men stopped in front of her. One of them made an insulting remark and she called to me for help.

Says New Crowd Came.

"I ran over to the crowd and told them to let her alone. After a few words I was struck in the back of the head, where that ugly gash is. I fought back and my friends came to my assistance. I don't know who struck Dr. Meeks or how it happened."

The police rounded up the four young men with the girls after the latter had given detectives the names of their escorts, and the five friends of Dr. Meeks were taken to the station. They said they had been in the Woodlawn café and were returning to their homes after the place had closed at 1 o'clock. They told the police Dr. Meeks with Francis E. Smith, 6144 Lexington avenue, was walking alone in front of their four friends. When the quartet began to fight with the companions of the girls Dr. Meeks and Smith ran back to see what the trouble was.

"Here we must not have any trouble here; come along," Dr. Meeks is quoted as saying just before he was knocked down.

STEAMER CARRIES OFF GIRL.

Miss Ingeborg Arp Unwilling Passenger on Puritan's Return Trip Across Lake.

Miss Ingebarg Arp, 3721 Ashland avenue, was an unwilling passenger aboard the lake steamer Puritan last night on the boat's return trip to St. Joseph, Mich.

The loss of a diamond pin caused the young woman to return to the boat to search the upper deck where she had been sitting, after the landing had been made at the State street pier.

While her friends stood on the dock waiting for her the boat started on its return trip.

FORTY-ONE KILLED BY COLLISION ON LACKAWANNA LINE

Fifty to Sixty Persons Injured When Express Rams Stranded Excursion Train.

ERROR CAUSE OF DISASTER?

Engineer Says No Flagman Was Sent Back to Give Warning of Peril Ahead.

LUCKY CHANCE SAVES SEVERAL

Corning, N. Y., July 4.—[Special.]—Forty-one persons were killed and fifty to sixty injured in a rear-end collision on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western at Gibson, three miles east of here, early this morning.

Many of the victims were holiday excursionists, bound for Niagara Falls. They were aboard train No. 9, from New York, composed of two engines, a baggage car, three Pullmans, and two day coaches, which was demolished when struck by express train No. 11.

Among those who were killed was Mrs. C. E. Erwin of Chicago.

The wreck was the worst in the history of the road. Its cause, according to Engineer Schroeder of the express, was his failure because of fog to see signals set against his train. Schroeder also says there was no flagman behind No. 9, which was stalled by a freight wreck. This is denied by officials of the road.

Seriously Injured.

Several of the injured who are unconscious had nothing about their persons by which they could be identified. The seriously injured include:

ADAMS, WOLF, New York.
ANDERSON, R. J., Newark.
BRENNAN, MISS MARY, Newark; probably fatally.
CASE, A. D., and wife, Brooklyn.
GRIFFITH, JAMES, Newark; probably fatally.
HART, HERMAN, Elmira.
LOTTERHOSS, DR. GEORGE, New York.
LORENZO, CHARLES, New York.
M'KEE, MRS. MARY.
CHANDETL, NELLIE, Newark; probably fatally.
WALL, WILLIAM H., New York.

Collision at High Speed.

When Engineer Schroeder had taken train No. 11 at Elmira fifteen minutes before it was a few minutes late. The stretch of track from Elmira to Corning is fitted for fast running, and he was sending his train along at sixty-five miles an hour. No. 9 was supposed to be half an hour ahead of him.

He had no warning until he made out the outline of the rear coach of No. 9 through the fog. Then he threw in the reverse without shutting off steam.

The jerk threw the train off the track, and the locomotive plunged on to splinter the two day coaches of No. 9, filled with excursionists and to tear through the last of the Pullmans. Schroeder said the impact threw him from the cab and landed him on the roadbed.

The 100 ton engine continued its plunge through the middle of the train, grinding everything in its path until finally blocked by the debris.

Great Crowd on Excursion.

Taking advantage of the holiday excursion rates to Buffalo and Niagara Falls, many excursionists had boarded No. 9 at all points from Hoboken, including Scranton, Binghamton, and Elmira. There were also many passengers for the west. By the time Elmira was reached the train carried so many passengers that a second engine was attached.

When the train neared Gibson it was stopped by extra freight No. 61, which was stalled by a pulled out draw head on the heavy grade.

Signals which this freight train put out stopped No. 9. The first engine was uncoupled and set at work to push the dead end of the freight into a siding to allow No. 9 and also train No. 11, which was due in twenty-five or thirty minutes, to pass.

The work was slow, and during the wait many passengers from the day coaches got out. This movement undoubtedly saved the lives of many of them, as they were in a place of safety when express train No. 11 crashed into the waiting passenger train No. 9 and ground the rear coaches of that train into pieces.

ROOSEVELT TELLS CAMPAIGN ISSUE

Promises to Make Vigorous Fight to Reduce the High Cost of Living in America.

DODGED BY OLD PARTIES.

Declares Both Platforms Are Silent on the Unjust Burdens Placed on Consumers.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 4.—[Special.]—Col. Roosevelt for the first time made a direct criticism of both the Republican and Democratic platforms today and let it be known on what lines his campaign will be fought out.

He said neither the Republican nor Democratic platform showed the slightest understanding of the great social and industrial movement that is under way in this country. Both platforms, he declared, have taken up the same old policies and the same battle cries. Neither at Baltimore nor Chicago, he said, was there any apparent understanding of the kind of movement that all serious thinkers are dwelling upon—the effort to get better conditions of life for the ordinary wage earners.

One of the principal features of his campaign, the colonel said, would be to ascertain what conditions are responsible for the high cost of living and remedy these conditions. He said he regarded that as one of the leading issues now confronting the people.

"Some think the trusts are to blame and some think it is the tariff," Col. Roosevelt said, "and this is a matter which has got to be fairly met. It will be the big issue of the coming campaign."

Looks for a Hard Fight.

Asked when the progressive party movement would be fully under way and just what leaders he could count on to support him, the colonel said:

"The call for the convention of progressives in Chicago will be issued on Monday and then you will be able to size up things better. We will see things shape up in a few days. It's going to be a straight, hard fight."

Col. Roosevelt was in conference today for an hour with Charles H. Thompson of Vermont, who has for the present taken charge of his campaign in Maine, Vermont, and Massachusetts. Gov. Bass will lead the fight in New Hampshire, Mr. Thompson said.

"The progressive movement in the New England states is stronger than before the primaries. Wherever it is possible the names of the Roosevelt electors will be placed on the Republican ballot.

"There has been much to encourage us," continued the colonel. "Since Wilson was nominated I have received 500 to 1,000 letters and telegrams urging me to go on with the fight. These men realize, as we all should, that the need of a new party is more evident than ever before."

All Classes Show Interest.

The colonel also said he had received many contributions. One was from a man living on the east side in New York inclosing a check for $10. Another $10 came from a woman bookkeeper in Cleveland. These instances, he said, gave an illustration of the real feeling of the people, who were the ones vitally interested in the fight that is to be waged.

Col. Roosevelt was asked how the organizations in the states where he won at the primaries were lining up and he replied that in several states he expected the Roosevelt electors would be on the Republican ticket.

He mentioned South Dakota, Kansas, and California as states where he was already confident that the plan could be carried out. Gov. Stubbs, he said, was with him in the Kansas fight; Gov. Aldrich in Nebraska; Gov. Glasscock in West Virginia.

Not Sure About Illinois.

Col. Roosevelt said he was not yet sure what the outcome will be in Illinois. He said he thought Gov. Deneen might remain neutral in the fight.

"But it will probably be necessary to put up a progressive ticket in Illinois as well as Ohio," he added.

In Pennsylvania, Col. Roosevelt said, he had with him ex-Senator Flinn, E. A. Van Valkenburg, and other leaders. There is practically the same situation there as when he began his fight at the primaries, he said, and he expects to win again.

In Maryland former Attorney General Charles J. Bonaparte and Col. Carrington will lead his third party fight. In Ohio one Democratic mayor has come out for him since the nomination of Wilson, the colonel said. James R. Garfield is also in the fight.

People Must Win the Fight.

The colonel was just as vigorous as ever in his declaration that the progressive movement is to be carried on to the end.

"This thing has got to be done by the people or it cannot be done at all," the colonel said, "and the people are going to win their fight. I have been amazed at the response from all over the country since the nomination of Wilson by the Democrats.

"'This is the time to fight,' is the message that has reached me from nineteen out of twenty and there are many who are against me in the primary fight who are for me now and declare they could not stand the manner in which the nomination was won at the Chicago convention.

"'The Republicans must get together,' is what the others have to say. For the most part they are organization men, politicians, who would do anything in their power for political reasons to end this fight."

A letter received from State Senator Salzen of Big Gap, W. Va., said, "I have come over."

GIVES VIEWS IN OUTLOOK.

New York, July 4.—"Mr. Taft's Majority; An Analysis," is the subject of an editorial by Theodore Roosevelt which appears in the current issue of the Outlook. The writer says, in part:

"When I went into the contest for the nomination I was, of course, pitted against very heavy odds. To start with, Mr. Taft had over 260 delegates from the territories and states controlled by federal officeholders, in which there was no real Republican party, and he thus began the contest with

Killed 1911 in Chicago	1

America celebrated its sanest Fourth yesterday. The adoption since last year by many additional cities, villages, and hamlets of regulations forbidding the sale or use of fireworks resulted in a further saving of life and a lessening of the number of maimed.

In cities and villages in which the sale of fireworks was forbidden the number of casualties was greatly reduced.

In places where the use of fireworks was forbidden and the regulation enforced by the police there were no casualties.

Comparison with 1908.

The results of the passage of sane Fourth regulations in cities or the strict enforcement of old regulations are shown in the following comparison of yesterday's casualties, with those reported up to the same hour the night of the Fourth of four years ago:

	—1912—		—1908—

Dead and Injured.

At 2 o'clock this morning the casualties of the Fourth reported for 1912 are 20 dead and 648 injured. This compares with 24 dead and 881 injured reported up to the same hour last year; 28 dead and 1,785 injured reported up to the same hour in 1910; 44 dead and 2,361 injured up to the same hour in 1909.

The success of the sane Fourth idea as a life saver in cities which adopted it last year and the year before resulted in the spread of the idea to scores of smaller towns this year. The reports of satisfaction found in the sane method indicate there will be a still wider extension before the next Fourth of regulations forbidding the use of fireworks.

Big Cities Free from Accidents.

The realization by municipal authorities that absolute prohibition of the use of fireworks is the only way to assure a Fourth without casualties is apparent in the nature of the ordinances now being adopted as compared with those of previous years, which forbade only the use of certain of the more dangerous kinds of fireworks.

With few exceptions the large cities were free from accidents yesterday. The casualties that occurred were mostly in the country districts. The movement for a sane Fourth has had a remarkable growth in all sections since it was inaugurated after several years of agitation in THE TRIBUNE.

No Serious Injury Here.

Chicago's sanity in observing the Fourth was proved by the entire absence of serious injuries. Police reports gave only four accidents, not one serious, and not one due to the carelessness of the person hurt. Two were struck by stray bullets, and the third kicked by a frightened horse. Last year one Chicagoan was killed and 24 hurt. The four years previous showed thirty-one deaths and over 500 hurt, many seriously.

There were only a few scattered explosions in this city, mainly of small firecrackers. Six men were arrested for discharging firearms, and the police enforced strictly the ordinance forbidding the sale of fireworks. Chicagoans flooded the parks and playgrounds, and embarked on lake boats, government inspectors standing at every pier to prevent overcrowding.

There were in Chicago one-eighth as many fires as a year ago, none causing materia loss, and only half a dozen attributable to celebration of the Fourth. The streets were practically deserted.

Aviation Feature of Day.

Aviation was a feature of the new kind of celebrations, flights being made in various parts of the country. There was only one fatality in this connection.

Other amusements which substituted for the obsolete and hazardous one that sacrificed eyes and fingers, to say nothing of lives, consisted of parades, patriotic speeches, athletic programs, regattas, and the display of fireworks handled by experts.

Colored Man Killed in Washington.

The only exception to an otherwise sane Fourth in the national capital was the fatal shooting of a colored man.

Kansas City moved out to the fields and woods and parks and spent a safe and sane Fourth with the trees and flowers. The business streets, that formerly echoed with bursting crackers and the firing of shotguns and revolvers, were as quiet as a Sabbath day.

In Los Angeles picnics took the place of fireworks. At San Diego, Redlands, Riverside, San Bernardino, Santa Barbara, and other beach cities Sane Fourth plans were carried out.

Fond du Lac, Wis., set a new mark for the sane Fourth idea when fireworks were cut out of the program. A street pageant two miles long included twenty-five historical floats. Aviator Charles F. Walsh made three flights.

Lincoln, Neb., had its first observance of a sane and safe celebration, and its success was measured by an almost entire absence of serious injuries. The celebration was marked by a parade, with floats depicting early national history. The program was carried out save for the absence of W. J. Bryan, who was to have been chief orator.

None Badly Hurt in Milwaukee.

Milwaukee's sane Fourth prevented any serious injuries by fireworks or other explosives. The same condition was true in most parts of the state. In Milwaukee there were twenty-two persons hurt, none seriously. In 1908 there were seventy-five hurt, two dying later of their injuries.

For the first time in the history of Kankakee there were no fireworks mishaps, due chiefly to the local law prohibiting the sale of explosives.

A four day celebration of the eightieth anniversary of Princeton, Ill., closed with a sane Fourth. A flying machine exhibition was given by George W. Beatty in a Wright biplane and J. Hector Worden in a Moissant monoplane.

As the result of a strict enforcement of the sane Fourth regulations only four accidents were reported in Springfield, Ill., none of a fatal character. Springfield's celebration consisted of a union picnic of all Sunday schools at Lincoln park.

Pittsburgh, operating under stringent police regulations, enjoyed a sane Fourth. Rational use of fireworks succeeded the old time way of celebrating. Dynamite crackers, canes, and toy pistols were barred.

No Serious Hurts in Cincinnati.

At Cincinnati the Fourth of July Carnival association had charge of the celebration. Fireworks displays on the hillside parks and a parade of decorated boats on the river closed a day notable for its freedom from serious accidents.

The adoption by the city of Boston of a movement for a sane observance of the day resulted in an extraordinary decrease of accidents. Only fourteen were treated at the hospitals, and few of these were serious.

Ann Arbor, by strict regulation prohibiting the sale of fireworks and cap pistols, eliminated accidents. The city arranged a civic demonstration at Island park. Six hundred school children assembled at the court house, and after patriotic exercises marched to the park, where they engaged in an athletic program.

FILL SILK HAT WITH WATER; STATESMAN GETS A DOUCHE.

Committeeman Sapp of Kansas Victim of Practical Jokers at Seagirt—Companions Give Him the Laugh.

Seagirt, N. J., July 4.—[Special.]—Committeeman William F. Sapp of Kansas, the only old style silk hatted and frock coated statesman in the group of national committeemen who visited Nominee Wilson today, was to have remained over at Spring Lake tonight, but he came to grief as to his costume at the hands of practical jokers.

While he stood conspicuously at attention with his silk hat held behind his back some one poured a pitcher of water into it. He tried to put the hat on his head and the water poured down over his shoulders.

He then departed for the depot in a great hurry with most of his fellow committeemen laughing heartily at his misadventure.

EIGHT BOY SCOUTS SAVE MAN.

Special Detail Hospital Corps Succors an Unfortunate Overcome by the Heat.

Eight boy scouts in a special detail hospital corps at West Park No. 3, May and Twentieth streets, saved the life of a man overcome by heat.

In view of the crowds expected at the park during the day Dr. Van Vernauer, instructor, volunteered the services of the corps. In the afternoon, when the heat was greatest, John Danholf, Madison and Canal streets, sank to the ground.

The boy scouts' corps rushed to the fallen man with a stretcher, gathered him up, and took him into the hospital tent pitched within the park for the purpose. There the members of the corps, all boys, revived the heat victim with stimulants and treatment.

MOTHER SUICIDE WITH BABY.

Coroner's Jury Finds Mrs. Emma Miller Killed Herself and Child by Gas.

Mrs. Emma Miller, who lived at 2343 Marshfield avenue, committed suicide on Wednesday, and caused the death of her baby daughter by turning on the gas, with suicidal intent, according to a coroner's jury yesterday.

Witnesses at the inquest said Mrs. Miller turned on three burners in the kitchen range and four other gas jets before retiring to her bedroom, where the bodies wee found. A cat, two dogs, a parrot, and a canary bird were also asphyxiated.

Miller testified he could assign no cause for his wife's act.

WHY THE FOURTH? BOYS GUESS

Only Three of Twenty-two Know Reason for Celebration.

GREAT IGNORANCE SHOWN.

Average Lad Believes the Day Excuse for Making Noise.

A reporter for THE TRIBUNE started out yesterday to gather Young America's impressions as to the Fourth of July and its meaning. A conscientious effort was made to learn the attitude of the boy toward the day. This question was put to youngsters typical of many classes:

"Why do you celebrate the Fourth?"

Of twenty-two boys questioned only three knew that the thirteen colonies declared their independence on July 4. From the large majority of the answers it was judged the average 11 year old boy believes the Fourth is one day in the year when he is, or rather used to be, allowed to make all the noise he wanted to. That is about all he thinks about it. He may have a vague idea the day is of some historical importance, but his knowledge of firecrackers overwhelms what little he may have learned about early American history.

Just a Day "to Shoot."

Tony Belinski, 6 years old, 1311 Noble street, was engaged in the task of catching minnows with his hands in a lagoon in Lincon park when he was asked:

"Why do you celebrate the Fourth?"

Tony neglected the minnows long enough to look up and reply:

"I don't celebrate."

"Why do we have the Fourth of July celebration?"

Tony dried his hands on his trousers and then rubbed them in his hair.

"Why, to shoot," he explained. "Yes, that's all."

Maybe Tony was too young to know anything about the declaration of independence.

"So We Can Have Firecrackers."

Morris Cohen, who is 10 years old, and his brother Willie, two years older, who live at 1267 Marion street, were walking through the park when they were asked:

"Why do you celebrate the Fourth?"

"So we can have firecrackers," Morris replied, quickly.

Morris knew of no other reason. But Willie knew there is something deeper behind it all.

"Many years ago they fought for the country," he said.

That is as much as he knew about it.

Roy Gavin was trailing through the park with a wet bathing suit in one hand when the reporter approached him. Roy is 13 years old and lives at 1132 Greenwood terrace.

"I don't know," he confessed after some hesitation. "I wrote it down in a blank book at home."

Roy frowned hard in an effort to recall. Then, "I learned at school, but I've forgotten," he said.

Even the boys over in Seward park were in doubt as to just why we celebrate the Fourth.

"J is 1, U is 2, L is 3, and Y is 4." This is the idea of Thomas Flynn, 14 years old, of 1114 North Franklin street. Some of Tom's playmates rolled him in the gravel for springing it. When Tom had wiped the dust off his face he admitted he did not know the reason for the celebration.

George Wells Makes a Guess.

But George Wells, 11 years old, 1132 Sedgwick court, would not confess such ignorance.

"America beat England on the Fourth," he asserted.

This piece of misinformation did not fool Louis Levy, 11 years old, 535 West Division street.

"Abraham Lincoln died on the Fourth of July," he said.

An unusual interview was had with a small boy on North Clark street, near Erie. He was barefooted and ragged and he refused to give his name. He started to cross the street when the interviewer called to him.

"Say, kid, what's all this celebration about, anyway?"

"Why, don't you know?" he responded. He was only about 9 years old, but he said it just as though the ignorance of the interviewer was beyond forgiveness.

"No, I don't." said the reporter.

"Heil, go ask a policeman," was the rejoinder.

"The Fourth is when you shoot firecrackers, only today you don't shoot 'em," was the regretful reply of Edgar Nelson, 12 years old, 852 Sedgwick street. "Every Fourth the kids have a big time and lots of fun. This is a sad year on account of the Titanic sinking."

Harold Golleher, 12 years old, 1418 Hudson avenue, was certain he knew why the Fourth is celebrated.

"It's the day the negroes were set free," he announced triumphantly to his companions who had admitted they did not know why the day was celebrated.

Winn Kommer Has an Idea.

Winn Kommer, 12 years old, 1410 Sedgwick street, was a bit hazy on the subject, but finally ventured the opinion:

"George Washington signed the declaration of independence on the Fourth."

Rowan Kittwaski, 880 Elston avenue, delivered himself of his knowledge in this sentence:

"I don't know nothin' about it."

Bennie Cekander, 10 years old, 112 West Erie street, thought George Washington was born on July 4. His brother, Frankie, a year younger, proudly corrected him with the statement:

"America whipped England on the Fourth."

Frank Bennett, 11 years od, 127 West Erie street, had a new point of view.

"It is celebrated so men can make money selling fire crackers," he said. "They ain't selling no crackers this year, so they ain't no Fourth."

August Holz, 680 La Salle avenue, derided his companions for refusing to guess.

"You kids act like you never been to school," he said. "The declaration of independence was signed on the Fourth. I know where it was signed, too—in Paris."

FOURTH OBSERVED IN PARIS; HONORS GIVEN LAFAYETTE.

Stars and Stripes Placed on Tomb of General During Elaborate Celebration of the American Holiday.

PARIS, July 4.—The observance of the Fourth of July in Paris this year was an especially elaborate one. H. Cleveland Coxe, the United States consul general, representing the Sons of the American Revolution, placed the Stars and Stripes on Lafayette's tomb in Picpus cemetery.

Later in the day special exercises were held at the Lafayette statue in the Tuileries garden. Myron T. Herrick, the American ambassador, delivered an address, dwelling on the services of Lafayette to the United States.

Thousands Welcome Taft.

Beverly, Mass., July 4.—Beverly had a joint celebration today in honor of the Fourth and the return of its most distinguished summer residents, the president and Mrs. Taft.

Thousands of persons stood for more than an hour at the Beverly station to greet the president when his train pulled in from Boston an hour late. Crowds lined the street to watch him pass, and hundreds more marched behind his automobile to Parametta, the summer White House.

"It's good to get back to Beverly again," said the president to the reception committee that met him at his station. Mrs. Taft smilingly nodded her approval of that sentiment.

CAPITOL FLIES NEW FLAGS.

Washington, D. C., July 4.—The new national flag, bearing forty-eight stars, emblematic of all the states, including the recently admitted Arizona and New Mexico, was flung from all federal structures in the country and from the American navy throughout the world today. Thirteen stars only will be permitted in the blue square of the flags that are less than five feet wide, to avoid overcrowding. The red field on the president's flag was changed to blue today.

IN PARK 20,000 PERSONS SEE BALLOONIST DASH TO DEATH.

After Refusal to Put on Life Line for Ascent Tom Moore Falls 3,500 Feet from Parachute.

Belleville, N. J., July 4.—[Special.]—In view of 20,000 persons gathered in Hillside park, near here, Tom Moore, who had done parachute drops at the park for the last five seasons, fell from the bar of his parachute this afternoon and was dashed to death 1,200 feet below. Before the ascent he had refused to put on the life belt.

Moore stayed in the ballon until he reached a height of about 3,500 feet. He was scheduled to make a triple drop. There was three parachutes on his bar and he was to open one, sail on that some distance, cut it loose, sail with another, cut that loose, and reach the ground on the last sail.

The string of parachutes was cut loose with Moore sitting on the bar. The second parachute had opened up and he was sailing downwards nicely when suddenly he pitched backwards from the bar and fell headlong.

CHICAGO'S FOURTH WITHOUT A DEATH

Only Four Minor Injuries Traceable to Obsolete "Insane" Ideas.

FEWER FIRES THAN EVER

Parks, Beaches, and Lake Draw Vast Throngs to Safe Celebrations of Day.

Without a death or a serious injury Chicago passed yesterday the nearest approach to a thoroughly sane Fourth in a generation. Police returns showed only four minor injuries traceable to vestiges of the old insane Fourth ideas.

The city accustomed to one long, loud, continuous tumult of giant firecrackers, torpedoes, and revolver shots, was almost as quiet as on Sunday.

Here and there were sporadic pops of small crackers and a few gunshots, but the police enforcement of the prohibition of fireworks sales was effective. This was the final step necessary to the banishment of the old time disorder which made necessary the Sane Fourth movement begun by THE TRIBUNE. Incidentally the mercury reached 80, making the day the hottest of the year.

A year ago there was one death and twenty-four injuries in Chicago; in 1910, two deaths and twenty-seven injuries; in 1909, one death and 118 injuries; in 1908, twelve deaths and 312 injuries; and in 1907, sixteen deaths and 321 injuries.

Fires Also Make New Record.

Last year there were 164 fires, just breaking the record of 163 established on July 4, 1910.

Up to midnight last night there had been 97 alarms, only a few of them traceable to fireworks.

The only injuries were received by non-celebrants, who had to suffer for the sins of others. The list follows:

ANDERSON, STANLEY, 8 years old, 4852 North Robey street; nose broken and scalp wounds; was trying to quiet horse under which some one had thrown a lighted cracker.

HIRSHOVICH, MRS ANNIE, 1427 West Twelfth street; struck in right side by stray bullet; taken to Michael Reese hospital; not serious.

KRUEGER, FRANK, 11 years old, 2503 North Monticello avenue; cheek struck by bullet from cartridge placed on street car track at Lawndale and Fullerton avenues; not serious.

MACHUDT, STANLEY, 12 years old, 1618 North Marshfield avenue, shot in right leg with small rifle by Arthur Trayling, 15 years old, 2241 North Rockwell street.

Arrests for Violating Fourth Rules.

Arrests were all for using firearms or exploding cartridges on car tracks. The prisoners asserted they did not know they were violating the law. The list follows:

BURGER, PETER, 28 years, 1254 West Thirty-first street, and KRADJENSKI, ANTHONY, 21, 282 Keeler street, both arrested by Deering station police for firing rifles in front of their homes.

WISTIRE, JAMES, 19 years, 5419 South Bishop street, and SWEENEY, JAMES, 21 years, 5326 South Lowndale street, arrested by Englewood detectives for placing torpedoes on Ashland avenue car tracks.

BEDEMA, JOHN, 350 West Seventy-first street, arrested for firing revolver while at West Sixty-third and Wallace streets.

PANOS, SAMUEL, 18 years, 1221 West Adams street, arrested by Desplaines street detectives for firing revolver.

SARADIS, John, 21 years, 2427 Clybourn avenue, arrested by Sheffield avenue police for putting cartridges on tracks.

It was the best and sanest Fourth Chicago has spent in years and presented a remarkable contrast to previous anniversaries. There were patriotic celebrations in almost all the parks and playgrounds, and the first opportunity to spend the holiday quietly that has been offered within the memory of many.

Din Lacking; No Regrets.

There clearly was something missing. Every one realized it. It is not easy to spend a lifetime of independence days in the midst of a steady bombardment and then accept without comment such quiet as reigned on the 1912 anniversary. It was not at all like previous years and every one knew it, but no one missed the features of the old time celebrations.

That is, no one of mature years regretted the passing of the din. Many young Americans who had demonstrated their patriotism in previous years by tying strings of crackers to tails of family cats or by blowing away fingers and patches of hair in unexpectedly sudden explosions—these young persons admitted dislike for the reform.

Their fathers and mothers spent much of the day rubbing their eyes in wonder and offering prayers of thanksgiving that they would reach sunset with the same number of children they had when the day dawned.

Lake and Beaches Attractive.

There was quite enough to do. Probably the lake and lake shore attracted more people than anything else the city could offer. Estimates by the steamship companies were that around 30,000 traveled on the principal boats during the twenty-four hours ended at midnight. Probably 5,000 made use of the small boats. How many spent most of the day and evening on the lake shore in Jackson and Lincoln parks and the open beaches beyond cannot be guessed. A guard at the Jackson park pier was asked.

"I should guess about 12,000," he said wearily. "Every one from Indiana and Iowa has moved into town and walked down this pier."

There were 8,000 at the morning game in Cubs park and 15,000 in the afternoon. At the minor parks scattered over the city there were thousands more. In the public playgrounds men and boys were either playing or watching.

In Lincoln park every variety of amusement was indulged in except fireworks. The crowd which took advantage of the city's north side breathing space was declared by Cy De Vry to be a record breaker in numbers. There were thousands of family picnics.

South Side Parks Popular.

It was a typical Sunday crowd that gathered in the south side parks early in the forenoon and stayed until closing time. The golf links and tennis courts in Jackson park were besprinkled with hatless and happy young men and women. Here the only sounds and sights of the national celebration were human voices and the national colors. Every one was picnicking and no one seemed to regret that explosives of former Fourths were missing. Family picnics were everywhere.

At night the Sane Fourth association entertained thousands of people in Armour square, West Thirty-third street and Shields avenue; Palmer park, One Hundred and Eleventh street and South Park avenue; Sherman park, West Fifty-second street and Center avenue; Bessemer park, East Eighty-ninth street and South Chicago avenue; McKinley park, Hamilton park, Seventy-second street and Normal avenue; Davis square, West Forty-fifth street and South Marshfield avenue, and Cornell square, West Fifty-first and South Wood streets.

Thousands of boys in the small parks engaged in contests at the Moseley, McCormick, and Wrightwood municipal playgrounds. The programs extended through the afternoon and into the evening, a band furnishing the music at each of these places and speakers addressing the assemblies after the athletic and spectacular parts of the programs were finished.

The programs at all the playgrounds were similar in many respects, but each had its special features. At the Moseley, boys and girls, many of them colored, presented a gypsy dance, horseback wrestling, Cornish wrestling, Roman spear battle, spar and pillow fight, and a "maid of the mist" dance.

Southwest Siders Make Merry.

At Cornell square the children of the southwest side had their Fourth celebration, minus fireworks and explosives. Games, drills, swimming contests, and a track meet provided entertainment for the youngsters in the afternoon. In the evening a band concert and folk dances with the reading of the Declaration of Independence furnished entertainment for the adults.

About 200 children took part in the afternoon exercises, while nearly 2,000 more crowded about the park field. The games were under charge of H. C. English, director of the park, and began with swimming contests in the park tank.

The sane Fourth celebrations in the west side parks and three small parks in the afternoon and evening attracted thousands of children and their parents. In Douglas, Humboldt, and Garfield parks band concerts were given in the evening.

At West Park No. 3 it was estimated that there were in attendance 12,000 persons, the majority of them being children. An exhibition of gymnasium work and folk dances was given in the afternoon, in which nearly 4,000 children took part. At 8 p. m. a stereopticon lecture and concert were given.

The day was observed by a program under the auspices of the Sane Fourth association at the Garden Air dome, Argyle and Evanston avenues, in the evening. Music was furnished by a part of the Seventh Regiment band, and there were patriotic songs and moving pictures. The use of the theater was donated by the management.

Celebrations on North Shore.

Of the sane Fourth celebrations in the villages along the north shore, Glencoe furnished the largest program. There was the firing of a sunrise gun and a flag raising by the boy scouts of the village. The rest of the morning program consisted of field and track sports for the children. In the afternoon the children were given a ride in automobiles. In the evening, after a picnic on the lawn in Lake Front park, a stereopticon lecture was given by Harry F. Atwood. Then came fireworks on the beach.

Kenilworth's celebration was its first at which all kinds of fireworks were prohibited. The feature was a parade in the morning.

Winnetka held its twenty-fifth Fourth of July celebration yesterday, at which no fireworks were permitted. It was the first of the north shore villages to start sane Fourth celebrations.

Evanston Not Strictly Sane.

Evanston, although not holding a strictly sane Fourth, did everything in the way of providing amusements in order to keep the children away from fireworks. In the morning there was a swimming meet. In the afternoon the Foster Athletic association gave a program of athletics of all kinds on Foster field. In the evening there was a concert.

Thousands attended two neighborhood celebrations in Oak Park. Patriotic music, addresses, and games made up the program.

The Fourth was celebrated by at least 5,000 residents of Grand Crossing in a parade which extended four blocks. Five bands supplied the marchers with music.

POLICE SURPRISE SCHMIDTS; USE TOO MANY FIREWORKS.

Michigan Resident and Her Two Children Forced to Forego Varicolored Balls of Fire in Sane Fourth Town.

An unexpected fireworks display, which drew the attention of hundreds of passengers from returning lake boats last night on South Water street, was brought to an abrupt end by a sudden rush of police. Mrs. C. F. Schmidt of St. Joseph, Mich., evidently knew nothing of the "Sane Fourth" enactments of the Chicago city council, and, together with her two children, celebrated their arrival by turning loose a number of Roman candles.

The vari-colored balls of fire were flying about rather indiscriminately over the heads of the crowd, much to the delight of a number of newsboys and the astonishment of sedate Chicago citizens, when Patrolman Edward A. Brokaw at the head of several policemen descended upon the tribe of Schmidt.

Mrs. Schmidt was profuse in her apologies when she learned she had transgressed the law. She immediately groped about in a capacious handbag and drew forth several bunches of old fashioned firecrackers and two crackers of the "giant" variety. These munitions of war she hastily offered to the police, unheeding the protests of her two boys. Upon her promise to refrain from further celebration while in Chicago she was permitted to go to the home of friends without being arrested.

FALLS 3 STORIES; ASKS DRINK

Congress Hotel Guest Leaps from Window in Delirium.

SMASHES A GLASS AWNING.

Has Arm Broken, but Wants Bartender's Services When Retired.

In a delirium while intoxicated C. W. Stansell, a promoter from Kansas City, Mo., jumped through the window of his third floor room at the Congress hotel shortly after noon yesterday. He struck against the hotel's street sign, breaking off a score of incandescent bulbs, and crashed through the glass covered porte cochere over the Congress street entrance.

"Give me a drink," he said to the hotel doorman, when a half dozen persons rushed to his side.

Dr. J. D. Hammond found his injuries to consist apparently only of a fractured left arm, that was set by assistants of the doctor. Stansell was then removed to the Presbyterian hospital, where it was said last night he was in a restless condition.

Maid Tries to Hold Man.

Stansell, before his delirious fit, was sitting in a chair in his room, partly dressed, while Nellie O'Malley, a maid, was making up his bed. According to the girl, she was patting the pillows, when the man jumped to his feet, shouting, "Don't let 'em catch ms. Get away!"

He jumped to the open window, burst through the screen, and climbed out, catching hold of the heavy chain that holds the electric sign. Miss O'Malley seized him by the trouser legs, but released her hold when the garment began to come off.

Stansell then swung out, let go of the chain, and fell. The crash of breaking glass brought many guests of the Congress and Auditorium hotels to the windows. They were in time to see Stansell strike the sidewalk.

Advised to "Sober Up."

Stansell registered at the hotel on June 24 in an intoxicated condition. Frank Florentine, clerk, said yesterday that he was given a room because he had been a guest at the hotel before, and was known to be a relative of Isaac Jordan, a lawyer living at Highland Park. Paul Goren, one of the hotel's managers, counseled him to sober up.

Nothing was known of Stansell at the hotel except that he and Jordan, who is ex-Judge Grosscup's son-in-law, had mutual business interests, and Jordan was said to be serving him as attorney.

HERE'S MOST FORGIVING DAD

ELDER CALLS FOR POLICE.

Later He Goes to Station, Admits Error, and They Walk Out.

John Sermach went on record yesterday as an indulgent and forgiving father, ready to acknowledge an error. Early in the afternoon he and his son, Mike, participated in a discussion at their residence, 4816 Winchester avenue, over the merits and origin of Independence day. The boy grew emphatic to the point of insolence. The "old man" reached for his son, who struggled and struck his father on the nose.

"It's a thrashing you want," said the angry father as he rolled up his sleeves and spat on his hands. "Come to it."

The battle was brief. Its result did not upset the dope of the fistic world that old age must inevitably yield to the prowess of youth. Suffering both in body and spirit the father called the police. Mike was lodged in a cell at New City police station. He had been there two hours when the desk sergeant was startled by the appearance of "the old man."

"Officer," said he, "I've been thinking it over. It's no bit of business for a father to contradict a son's argument when he's in the right. Will you please let Mike out? A chip of the old block is that boy and he won't lay down for no man."

The boy emerged. Father and son walked out arm in arm, "to have a little drink," they said.

BOMB SHAKES NEIGHBORHOOD.

Iron Shell Full of Powder Breaks Window and Damages Chimney of a West Side Residence.

What is believed to have been a bomb was exploded in the passageway adjoining the home of John Heuss, 6220 South Green street, last night. It broke a window, knocked two bricks off the chimney, and caused some excitement in the neighborhood. According to Heuss the bomb was probably made of a quantity of powder poured into an iron shell. The fragments broke the window and dislodged the bricks.

STREET CAR RUNS DOWN MAN; CREW QUICKLY KIDNAPS HIM.

Janitor Stolen Away to Sheridan Park Hospital by Chicago Railways Company—Police in the Dark.

Robert Hanna, a janitor, 3727 Grand boulevard, was bruised on the shoulders and his scalp cut in two places yesterday when knocked down by a Clark street car at Belden avenue.

Before the police learned of the accident the injured man was "kidnaped" by men in charge of an ambulance ordered by the car crew from the Sheridan hospital, to which institution he was taken.

Later the police were notified by the hospital authorities of the accident. Information as to the identity of the crew of the car was denied the police and detectives started an investigation.

Give Happiness to Orphans.

Children up to 9 years old, all inmates of the Chicago Home for the Friendless and the Chicago Orphan asylum, were given a jolly time last night by residents of Grand boulevard, living on the west side of the avenue, between Fifty-first and Fifty-second streets. Isaac Marks arranged the entertainment. Japanese lanterns illuminated the lawns, where 350 children were welcomed with food and red fire.

College Inn Manager Poisoned.

Ernest Belfeld, manager of the College inn at the Hotel Sherman and one of the officials of the hotel, was taken to the family residence, 3304 Calumet avenue, yesterday suffering from an incipient attack of ptomaine poisoning, believed caused by eating too ripe fruit.

RENEWS ICE FUND TO BENEFIT POOR

"The Tribune" Starts Out This Season with Contributions by Benevolent.

GIRLS SELL LEMONADE.

Boy Cuts Weeds and Sends Money to Help Needy Sick Children.

THE TRIBUNE has renewed the plan of other years to supply free ice to poor children during the heated term. The first contribution was received yesterday. The donors are three little girls—Mary Cox, Mary Crary, and Cathleen Ward—who made $1.05 selling lemonade.

The little girls write they would like to contribute regularly to The Tribune Ice fund for poor sick children. All contributions may be mailed to THE TRIBUNE and they will receive immediate acknowledgment in this column.

The contributions received during the day are:

"Lemonade Girls" $1.05, Charles H. Edwards .20, William Nussbaum, 5.00, Pickwick club..... 1.00, M. B. Matteson... 1.00.

This Pickwick club may be new to some readers. It was organized by little Margaret Campbell, 7143 Princeton avenue, to swell THE TRIBUNE Ice Fund. The members are all under 11 years old, and the weekly dues are 1 cent. The club is composed of Catherine Clark, Dean Clark, Quinlan Short, Dorman Short, James Short, Emily Watt, Carolyn Reed, Albert Reed, John Andrew Whyte, Mercer Whyte, Mary Louise Campbell, and Margaret Campbell.

Matteson writes he made his $1 digging weeds. Charles H. Edwards writes he will be a regular contributor.

"If some little boys—say one or two—who are not old enough to work, will send me a letter I may be able to do something for them," Mr. Edwards writes. "Any letter will reach me if addressed to Charles H. Edwards, general delivery, Hammond, Ind."

BAND DEFIES THE FEDERATION.

Say They Tried to Join Organization, but Were Not Permitted Except as Individuals.

While the Chicago Federation of Musicians refused to give any band concerts in the south side parks yesterday, the Letter Carriers' band played in Davis square last evening. The members declared, furthermore, that they intended to defy the Federation of Musicians and play all the band concerts they have assigned to them throughout the season.

Members of the Letter Carriers' band declared yesterday that the Federation of Musicians has in its ranks many members who do not depend on their profession for a livelihood. H. I. Tansor said the leader of the Seventh Regiment band is a saloonkeeper and the manager is a dentist.

"One-half of the members of the Chicago Federation of Musicians work at various trades and occupations," said Mr. Tansor, "and no objection is made to them. No objection would be made to us either if we did not belong to the American Musicians' union, which has been fighting the Federation of Musicians."

FIGHT FOR DELAY ON LORIMER VOTE

Friends of Accused Senator Plan to Hide Behind "Legislative Day."

MORE SPEECHES TO COME

Members of Majority of Committee Hope to "Explain" Course in Matter.

BY JOHN CALLAN O'LAUGHLIN.

Washington, D. C., July 4.—[Special.]—In spite of the fact the senate agreed to dispose of the Lorimer case on Saturday there is reason to believe a vote will not be taken until the middle of next week.

This delay will be obtained through the action of the so-called legislative day. That is to say, when the senate finally acts, whether it be July 10 or 11, the day will remain July 6 under congressional practice.

In explanation of the delay it is said, a number of senators desire to speak either for the expulsion of Mr. Lorimer or in defense of their position that he should be retained under the doctrine of res adjudicata. Mr. Lorimer has served notice he intends to address the senate.

Majority Members to Speak.

Besides Mr. Lorimer, majority members of the investigating committee deem it important, in their own interest, that they should set forth the reasons why they voted to give the Illinois senator a whitewash.

Thus the country may expect to hear Senator Dillingham of Vermont, who was chairman of the committee; Senator Gamble of South Dakota, who was defeated recently because of his action in upholding Lorimer; Senator Jones of Washington, who spoke and voted against Lorimer last winter and now is a convert to the Lorimer cause; Senator Johnston of Alabama and Senator Fletcher of Florida.

It will be the effort of these men to answer Senator Kern of Indiana, who made an exhaustive speech against Lorimer when the debate opened a month ago.

Arguments in opposition to the further retention of Mr. Lorimer in the senate will be made by Senator Kenyon of Iowa and Senator Lea of Tennessee.

Borah May Answer Plea.

It is understood that Senator Borah of Idaho will participate in the debate, addressing himself to the question of res adjudicata for the purpose of replying to this plea advanced by the majority of the committee.

Senators Root and Cummins also will discuss the same question, and Senator Bailey of Texas may be induced by the Lorimerites to respond to their arguments. The senate will have a further statement of the facts from Senator Crawford of South Dakota.

It is the general impression around the senate that the vote will be heavily against Mr. Lorimer.

TELLS OF THREAT TO ELOPE IN ENGLISH DIVORCE TRIAL.

Nurse Says Wife of Archdeacon Colley's Son Declared She Would Leave Home with Upton.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, July 4.—The hearing in the cross petitions for divorce of Capt. Colley, a son of the archdeacon, and his wife, in which spiritualism figured to a certain extent, was resumed yesterday.

A nurse, who did not wish her name to be revealed, and for which reason was alluded to as "Miss C.," testified as to hearing Mrs. Colley threaten to elope with the Hon. Eric Upton and also announcing her determination to shoot herself and her husband. "Miss C." admitted under cross examination that she and Capt. Colley were at one time engaged.

Mrs. Colley then took the stand. She said her husband was aware of the letters to her from Eric Upton. She denied that they were couched in affectionate terms. Mrs. Colley said she had asked Upton to cease using endearing expressions.

Mrs. Colley admitted giving Clunes, the vaudeville performer, $150, but said she thought it was the usual thing to give artists presents.

Eric Upton denied he had been guilty of any impropriety with Mrs. Colley. He said he had never asked Mrs. Colley to elope with him.

GREETERS WIND UP SESSIONS.

Closing Banquet of Hotel Men's Organization Is Held at the Hotel Sherman.

The purposes and future of the Greeters' association formed the topic of the several speakers at the closing banquet of the hotel men's organization at the Hotel Sherman last night.

David Ohmarck of Chicago, the new president of the national organization; Ben C. Fitch of Indianapolis, Col. William Anderson of Omaha, C. Fred Braendlin of Boise, Idaho; Carl Laux of Decatur, Ill.; Leigh Fuller of Denver, and Robert T. Martin of New York were the speakers.

Roland H. Hawks was toastmaster.

MACVEAGH DENIES ANDREW CHARGES

ly have found his place undesirable or his associations unendurable.

"If Mr. Andrew could represent himself as resigning voluntarily when he was with unusual difficulty forced to resign, it causes no wonder that he should, without warrant, call as witnesses a group of important men of the department, who nearly all immediately contradicted him—and whose immediate assurances to me by telegraph and telephone are among the pleasantest happenings of my official life. No one in the department who has done successful work would, I believe, indorse any of Mr. Andrew's statements.

"There is nothing out of the usual in Mr. Andrew's case. The work of the treasury department has been and still is strenuous, owing to the program adopted at the beginning of the administration, and it is necessary to have all three of the assistant secretaries not only able but efficient.

"Andrew Was Not Efficient."

"It was a great disappointment to me that Mr. Andrew was not efficient enough to meet the requirements and that it was necessary to get some one else. That is all there was to it when the change was decided upon.

"Subsequently, in direct disobedience to my instructions, written and then repeated in two interviews sought by him, and without my knowledge until he had left Washington, he went to the Chicago convention when the other two assistant secretaries already had gone by previous arrangement.

"This irresponsible conduct must have led in any event to his prompt separation from the department. Mr. Andrew, I see, has made the statement that he told me he wished to go to Chicago to further monetary legislation. This is clearly an afterthought. He made no mention whatever of the monetary question. He gave only one reason for wishing to go. He says he intended to go into politics and the convention afforded a splendid opportunity to make political acquaintances."

Many Tell of Confidence.

Secretary MacVeagh, who is a visitor at the residence of Bayard Thayer, today received many telegraph and telephone messages from friends and official acquaintances expressing confidence in his administration of the department.

Secretary MacVeagh will go to his summer home at Dublin, N. H., tomorrow. He will return to Washington Sunday night, after visiting Beverly, Mass., to confer with President Taft.

House Inquiry Begins Soon.

Washington, D. C., July 4.—The issue raised between Secretary MacVeagh and A. Platt Andrew will be thoroughly aired soon in a house investigation proposed by Representative Cox of Ohio.

The officials whom Assistant Secretary Andrew cited as being dissatisfied with Secretary MacVeagh's attitude have taken on various attitudes. Commissioner Cabell of the internal bureau, Auditor Kram of the postoffice department, and Director Ralph of the bureau of printing and engraving have telegraphed Secretary MacVeagh that their relations with him always have been cordial.

Treasurer McClung Silent.

Lee McClung, treasurer of the United States, whose relations with Mr. McVeagh are said to have been especially strained, declined to make any statement whatever.

Controller Murray, who is out of town, has informed treasury officials he is willing to make a public statement that there was no friction between him and Secretary MacVeagh.

Assistant Secretary Andrew's friends, however, say that before making public the letter containing his criticisms of Secretary MacVeagh Andrew submitted it to practically all the officials whom he cited and that it received their approval. The others declined to discuss that feature of the question today.

COL. LEWIS BACK; HOPEFUL.

Declares Illinois Entitled to Credit for Nomination of Wilson and Marshall.

Col. James Hamilton Lewis, Democratic candidate for United States senator, returned to Chicago yesterday from the convention at Baltimore.

"The nomination of Gov. Wilson and the lead for Gov. Marshall were all started by Illinois," said the colonel. "The honor done me by the convention in calling me to preside from time to time over its deliberations was intended as a tribute to the Democracy of Illinois. I am entitled to no personal distinction.

"The nomination of Wilson means that Illinois will go Democratic and I hope will contribute to my election as United States senator."

DENEEN WORKING FOR COMPROMISE

Prospects Point to Agreement Eliminating New Party State Ticket.

GOVERNOR COMING HERE.

Will Be in Chicago Tomorrow and Details of Arrangement Are Expected.

Gov. Deneen will come to Chicago tomorrow on his way to make an official inspection of the First cavalry camp at Worth. It is understood his visit will have considerable political significance, as he is expected to take the opportunity to have a final conference with his intimate political lieutenants regarding the complex presidential situation in the state.

The signs in evidence are portending that there will be no third ticket in the Illinois campaign, and that the governorship will settle down to a straightaway fight between Gov. Deneen and Edward F. Dunne.

Jones-Merriam Forces Active.

It is in evidence the Jones-Merriam progressives, who were badly worsted in the direct primaries, are expecting to take advantage of the situation and assume the leadership in Illinois as representing the Roosevelt sentiment, probably with the intention of placing on a thirtd ticket some of the candidates who were defeated in April, after the La Follette fiasco and the change of base of some of the avowed progressive leaders.

This fact, more than anything else, according to the gossip which has been reported from over the state, led to the repeated suggestions heard yesterday, that arrangements are to be perfected, almost immediately, which will put an end to talk of a third party state ticket in Illinois and an agreement which will be satisfactory to the friends of Col. Roosevelt and to the strongly organized allies of Gov. Deneen.

Construction of Statute Vital.

The construction which may be made of the Illinois elections statute is to play an important part in the concluding negotiations and the difficulties which stand in the way of naming a new third party ticket are responsible largely for the strong compromise talk.

There is no compulsory provision in the Illinois law that the names of the presidential and vice presidential candidates be placed at the head of the party tickets above the names of the candidates for presidential electors and there is no provision for placing the names of candidates, other than those of the regular political parties, upon the Australian ballot.

nearly half the necessary number of delegates to nominate him.

"In addition, he had with him the votes of certain purely boss controlled states, like New York, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Utah, Wyoming, and Colorado, where the voters had no chance to express their preference, and where the leading papers were controlled by the special interests, so that the sources of general information were choked and the truth was sedulously hidden from the people. Adding these votes to the others, Mr. Taft had nearly 400 delegates in whose selection the people had no say whatever.

Victory at the Primaries.

"Nevertheless, we started in, making our fight especially in the primary states. In these states the rank and file of the Republican voters had their say instead of the politicians, and in these states we beat Mr. Taft on the popular vote over 2 to 1 in a total vote of 3,000,000 or thereabout, and in delegates beat him nearly in a proportion of 7 to 1. So overwhelming was our victory in the states where the people had a partial chance to express themselves in primaries that we overcame Mr. Taft's nearly solid vote from the rotten borough states and among the boss picked delegates and obtained a clear majority of all the delegates elected to the convention—that is, about 500 delegates.

"By Mr. Taft's direction and connivance, and under the personal supervision of his private secretary and one member of his cabinet, Messrs. Barnes, Penrose, Guggenheim, Crane, Franklin Murphy, and Mr. Taft's other lieutenants proceeded to steal from the people enough delegates fraudulently to convert my majority into a minority.

Cites Fraud in Convention.

"The nominating vote for Mr. Taft was 561, being 21 beyond the majority necessary to nominate him. From these 21 the first to be subtracted are two votes which the chairman, Mr. Root, in his capacity of modern Autolycus, the 'snapper-up of unconsidered trifles,' took from Massachusetts. This leaves a majority of but 19.

"There were on the roll over 90 Taft delegates who had been defeated by the people, as delegates, but had been seated as such by the national committee. Not one of the 90 men opposing the Taft delegates had as poor a title as the Taft delegates from the borough of Manhattan, from the City of New York. As regards 78 of them, their title was absolutely plain and quite as good as the title of the unconfested Taft delegates.

"Deducting merely the latter number, Mr. Taft's vote sinks at once to 481, or 60 less than were required for his nomination. These 481 represented the maximum of legally obtained votes which Mr. Taft could claim in the convention. It was 60 votes less than were necessary for a nomination. Not only was the nomination of Mr. Taft absolutely fraudulent, but so was the seating of Mr. Root, and so was every motion adopted by the fraudulent national convention."

WILSON AMAZES PARTY BOSSES

Lets Them Know He Is to Be Practically His Own Campaign Director.

COMMITTEE TO SIT HERE.

Candidate Will Take a Dominant Part in Deliberations of National Body.

Seagirt, N. J., July 4.—[Special.]—Norman E. Mack, chairman of the Democratic national committee, emerged from a crowd on the lawn of the Little White House this afternoon and announced:

The Democratic national committee will meet in New York City on July 15."

"Hold on," interrupted Roger Sullivan of Illinois. "Chicago would be better."

"No," said Mr. Mack, "it's all settled—New York, noon July 15."

"If you will come to French Lick," called out Thomas Taggart of Indiana, "I'll pay all expenses," and then Mr. Taggart paused.

"Say, Norman," he whispered, jerking his head in the direction of the big front veranda of the summer home of New Jersey's governor, "hadn't you better speak to him about it?" accentuating the "him."

"That's so," said Mr. Mack with a start, and he straightway dashed up the steps. Five minutes later Mr. Mack made another announcement.

Committee to Meet Here.

"The Democratic national committee will meet at Chicago at the Congress hotel at noon on July 15," he said.

This was the recognition of Woodrow Wilson, governor of New Jersey, and nominee of the presidency, as not only the standard bearer but the real leader, the boss of the Democratic party of the United States, this season.

There was no doubt about it, not a person at Seagirt today will dispute it.

Wilson Picks the Place.

The committee is going to meet at Chicago because Woodrow Wilson chose that place and he is going to be at Chicago on that date to participate in the deliberations. By that time he will have made up his mind about the chairmanship and he will let it be known.

"He's the boss," said Thomas Taggart. "He's the boss now and he will continue to be the boss for the next four years, no matter how the election goes."

Although no one would make the formal statement, it was intimated that the national headquarters will be in Chicago.

Ollie James will arrive at Seagirt tomorrow or Saturday to arrange for the notification meeting. Gov. Wilson will deliver a speech of acceptance and will supplement it with a letter when the time comes. This ceremony will come some time after the Chicago meeting.

BRYAN IN CHICAGO TALKS OF ISSUES

Colonel Says Tariff, Trusts, and Money Questions Will Be Paramount.

SEES A WILSON VICTORY.

Declares Third Party Would Cut Chiefly Into Strength of Taftites.

According to William Jennings Bryan, Woodrow Wilson will be elected next November, and the tariff, trusts, and money questions will be paramount issues.

The colonel spent the Fourth at the Hotel La Salle with Mrs. Bryan, on their way to Nebraska from the Baltimore convention. They reached Chicago at 8 o'clock in the morning, and rested during the day, the colonel answering many letters and telegrams and long distance telephone calls and writing editorials for the Commoner. After a late dinner they took the train for Nebraska.

Feels Fit After Hard Strain.

Mr. Bryan said he was in good physical and mental condition, notwithstanding the terrible strain during the convention, and he looked as he said he felt, "fine."

Before leaving Baltimore the colonel estimated Wilson would have a plurality of 2,000,000 votes over Taft. Asked if he still held to that figure, he replied:

"In estimating Wilson's plurality at 2,000,000 I was not counting on a third party. That might reduce the plurality some, and yet not much, because many Republicans will vote for Mr. Roosevelt who would not be willing to vote for a Democratic candidate. That will largely reduce Mr. Taft's vote. Taft will be the contender for the Roosevelt votes, not Mr. Wilson."

"What do you think of Gov. Osborn of Michigan coming out against the Roosevelt third party?" the Nebraskan was asked.

"I have read what the governor said," he replied, "but I do not expect as large a proportion of support from the progressive leaders as from the rank and file of that party. This campaign will be more like the campaign of 1904, excepting that Mr. Wilson will represent the fighting force.

"Mr. Roosevelt's campaign will be directed toward weakening the campaign and candidacy of Mr. Taft. He may drive some of our reactionary Democrats over to Taft, but with our platform and ticket he cannot expect to draw many progressive Democrats to himself."

Tariff and Trusts Vital.

Regarding the makeup of the platform and the placing of the trust problem to the fore, Col. Bryan said:

"We put the tariff question first and the trust question second in arranging the platform, but you will find the party's position is clearly and strongly stated on all important questions.

"The single term for the presidency will attract a great deal of attention and also the declaration favoring direct primaries. One of the best planks is the one declaring for the popular election of national committeemen, the committeemen to begin service when elected. This change will prevent a holdover committeeman from organizing the convention."

"Will the money question be one of the main issues," was asked.

"Yes, it will cut a big figure, but not so much as the tariff question, which is responsible for the high cost of living, and probably will have greater force than any other issue during the campaign."

Tells Position on Vice Presidency.

"What are your views regarding the vice presidency, and does your advocacy of Burke or Chamberlain indicate any difference with Gov. Marshall?"

"No," replied the Nebraskan. "Acting as a delegate and feeling as a delegate, I did what I could to obtain a candidate for the vice presidency who would add strength to the ticket.

"I favored Burke or Chamberlain for two reasons. First, because they live in a section where progressive Republicanism is strongest, and I thought that either one would give us several states in the northwest. Both are excellent men, and their records commend them.

"The second reason is that North Dakota and Oregon started with Wilson in his opposition to Parker for temporary chairman, and that was the turning point of the convention.

"However, while I think that either Burke or Chamberlain would have brought more votes to the ticket, Marshall is a powerful man on the stump and has an excellent record.

Fires Shot at Watterson.

"What do you think of Col. Watterson's prediction that the third party will succeed?" Col. Bryan was asked.

"Mr. Watterson's predictions have not all come true, but if such a misfortune as he predicts should overtake us, I hope the Lord will give us strength to bear them with more cheerfulness than Marse Henry bears his."

"Is it not queer, colonel, that Gov. Wilson has not replied in a public manner to your congratulations as he has given the press regarding other messages?"

With a far away look toward Lake Michigan the Nebraskan slowly replied he did not believe it necessary for a public expression.

"But it was not necessary for Mr. Wilson to reply to other congratulatory messages received," was suggested.

"Well," the colonel replied, "he did not believe it necessary, and I did not even think of it."

Elected President of Woman's Federation.

MRS. PERCY V. PENNYBACKER.

Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker of Austin, Tex., who yesterday was elected president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, is a native of Virginia, but was reared and has always made her home in the "Lone Star" state. She is an authoress, platform speaker, and business woman.

TEXAS WOMAN FOR FEDERATION HEAD

Mrs. Pennybacker Defeats Mrs. Carpenter for President of Women's Clubs.

CHICAGO ASKS FOR MEET.

Will Present Offer to Entertain Next Biennial Convention in This City.

San Francisco, Cal., July 4.—[Special.]—The principal officers of the general federation of women's clubs, elected by ballot on Wednesday, were announced tonight as follows:

President—Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, Texas.
Recording secretary—Mrs. Harry L. Keefe, Nebraska.
Corresponding secretary—Mrs. Eugene Reilley, North Carolina.
Treasurer—Mrs. John Threadgill, Oklahoma.
Auditor—Mrs. Charles H. McMahon, Utah.

Mrs. Pennybacker received 556 votes, to 255 cast for Mrs. Carpenter.

Chicago to Seek Convention.

Mrs. George Bass, president of the Chicago Women's club, and Miss Minne Starr Granger, head of the Illinois State Federation, are to present tomorrow the offer of Chicago to entertain the next biennial convention.

Mrs. Bartlett Crane of Michigan, a prominent worker in outdoor civic improvement, is to speak before the convention tomorrow in the interest of her work.

Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker was in a dangerous condition late this afternoon, and an operation was expected, but she rallied, and is now reported as resting easily.

Mrs. Potter Speaks in Park.

The chief feature of the celebration of the Fourth today was the address at Golden Gate park by Mrs. Frances Squire Potter of Chicago on "The New Independence."

The keynote of her speech was this opening sentence:

"This is the supreme moment of my life, because it is the first time I have ever been permitted to address the men and women of a sovereign state as equals."

She showed how the new tendencies of the time had brought men and women to work together in the great movements for social and civic reform and how this work would be greatly stimulated by giving suffrage to women in all the states, which she declared would soon be realized.

Raid a Disorderly House.

Detectives yesterday raided an alleged disorderly house at 7 North Carpenter street, and arrested Catherine Brown, the keeper, two women inmates, and four men.

BOATS CAUGHT IN SQUALL

One Launch with Eight Persons Victim of Wind.

ONE CRAFT IS CAPSIZED.

Bathers at the Beaches See First Real Disaster.

A score or two of small craft, from rowboats to yachts, were caught in a northeast squall on Lake Michigan near shore yesterday afternoon. One launch containing eight people was disabled two miles off shore, and a small yacht was capsized. Nobody was drowned.

L. B. Reitman, 3400 South Paulina street, his wife, four children, and two other relatives were in a gasoline launch a mile off the Chicago Beach hotel when the squall broke. In the rough sea caused by the sharp wind the engine was disabled.

Hotel Guests to Rescue.

The boat drifted towards shore, and its helpless condition was seen by people at the hotel, who telephoned the Jackson park life saving station. Capt. Stinigen and his crew responded and rescued the party, towing the launch into the Thirty-ninth street pier.

The yacht Louisa, a twenty foot craft, was under full sail with a full breeze about 300 feet off Jackson park beach when the squall struck. The Louisa turned slowly over on its side, giving the four young men aboard ample time to crawl up over its upper side. Then they squatted on the keel till a launch came out and took them aboard. None of the crew on the Louisa got even his feet wet. An eighteen foot dory with four men aboard was disabled off Jackson park. The men were picked up by a passing launch.

Here's a Hair Raiser.

Just before the squall hit the lake a man called up THE TRIBUNE.

"I'm out on the north shore," he said. "I went down to the lake a little while ago. It was so still and hot, and the humidity so high that I was oozing perspiration. Suddenly the big, black clouds loomed up over the water. My hair stood straight up. I thought maybe there might have been something in the lemonade I had been drinking and spoke to others standing near me. They felt it, too. One bald head said he knew he was sprouting a new head of hair. When the rain fell the hair fell, too. What was it?"

"I don't know what it was," said Prof. Cox, "unless the air was surcharged with electricity."

BOATS COLLIDE; MAN MAY DIE.

South Haven, Mich., July 4.—[Special.]—Daniel W. Lux, 1142 West Jackson boulevard, secretary of the Young & Gardner Leather Novelty company of Chicago, was probably fatally injured by the collision of two boats, a launch and a row boat, at a resort up river at 5:30 this afternoon.

PLOT TO BLOW UP ARMY OF MADERO

Chihuahua Mined in Preparation for Mexican Federal Troops.

REBEL KILLS AMERICAN.

Shot Dead on Doorstep While Going to Funeral of His Wife.

El Paso, Tex., July 4.—Reliable information was received here tonight that hundreds of dynamite mines are buried in the streets and houses in the city of Chihuahua in preparation for the entry of the federals.

They have been laid where they will explode upon the slightest contact.

Americans and foreigners who know of the location of the explosives intend to remain within their residences until the arrival of Gen. Huerta, who has been apprised by spies of the spots where the mines are concealed.

Killed at His Home.

William Adams, an American citizen, was killed two days ago as he stood on his doorstep in Colonia Diaz, the Mormon colony seventy-five miles south of Juarez. It is alleged that a rebel shot Adams as the latter left his house to attend his wife's funeral.

O. F. Brown, agent in El Paso of the Mormon colony, has sent the following telegram to Senator Smoot in Washington:

"William Adams murdered at his own door step in Colonia Diaz by red flagger. Conditions unsettled and no guarantee of protection to Americans, where there is a question between Americans and the natives. People making appeals to rebels for protection."

Rebel Army Falls Back.

Mapula, Mexico, July 4.—Under cover of darkness the entire rebel army withdrew early today from Bachimba, a distance of twenty-five miles north of Mapula, which is but fifteen miles below the city of Chihuahua.

The whole rebel army will retreat toward the American border, abandoning the city of Chihuahua to the federals.

Will Seek Ammunition.

The rebels will still maintain an organization in large columns, but their efforts for some time will be devoted to getting ammunition. It is believed that with the entire army nearer the American border ammunition will come faster than heretofore.

The rigid patrol of the American troops is blamed by the rebels for their lack of ammunition, and feeling toward the United States for its strict embargo on the passage of arms into the rebel zone has by no means improved.

Did This Ever Happen to You?

Never Could Happen with ESSENKAY

Punctures, blow-outs or leaks are simply impossible once your tires are equipped with Essenkay—the wonderful new substitute for air.

Under a liberal 30-day free trial offer and an ironclad, legal guarantee we are "making good" on one of the most remarkable discoveries of the automobile age.

A Wonderful Invention

Essenkay is unlike anything ever before employed to supplant air in automobile tires.

It is a secret composition with remarkable properties which are the marvel of tire experts and which have baffled chemists for years.

It is absolutely impervious to heat, cold, pressure, moisture or friction—yet it rides like air on the roughest roads. It is absolutely impossible to change its consistency—we guarantee it.

Essenkay is always the same—never gummy—never too hard or too soft.

Contains No Rubber

Observe this fact.

Essenkay does not contain a single particle of rubber. We positively guarantee that there is no rubber in it—either new or reclaimed.

This alone is revolutionary.

All so-called "tire-fillers" containing rubber have failed to stand the strain, because rubber first blooms, then oxidizes, then decays.

Essenkay contains no glue, glycerine, gelatines or any element that can be dissolved by water. Therein lies its strength.

We ask an opportunity to meet your objections. No matter what your idea of the so-called "filler" is, please call or write for all the proofs.

The coupon below brings information by mail—without obligation or expense.

NO PUNCTURES—NO BLOW-OUTS

Essenkay "ENDS TIRE TROUBLES"

30-DAY FREE TRIAL

Essenkay can be installed in practically any tire made. It is used in old or new casings in place of inner tubes and does not affect tires in any way. You have the privilege of a 30-day test. Call at our salesroom or send the coupon for particulars.

A DAY RECLAIMED.

July 4, 1912, was a heartening day, a peaceful, orderly day during which patriotism found expression as a sentiment. The continued efforts to do away with the false celebration came to their highest success. As an illustration of law enforcement the day was perfect.

We are done now, we think here in Chicago at least, for good and all with releasing the inmates of Bedlam to celebrate Independence day. We are delivered from the brutalities of high explosives. We no longer prove that we are maniacs or idiots in rejoicing that we're free. We have pulled out the weeds of rowdyism and given sentiment a chance to grow.

We are making a fresh start and the men and women interested in giving to the day its proper character and its proper demonstrations will see to it in succeeding years that it is recognized, as it deserves to be, that it is marked in the lives of American citizens as a day of encouraging inspiration and of grateful memories.

CHIVALRY.

George Horaney is an attendant at the Elgin asylum for the insane. The other day while bathing one patient he was attacked by another. Instead of fighting back Horaney allowed himself to be thrown, striking the tub and fracturing his knee. It is said he will be disabled for a long time and may be crippled permanently.

Many men have been called "heroes" for less than this. A man who could keep his courage and his nervous control in such circumstances is rare. But back of this courage and self-control there is a still finer and rarer quality, the essence of the golden rule. In spite of pain and danger Horaney did not forget that his assailant was not responsible. That was in the spirit of one who, persecuted and betrayed, said: "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do."

Horaney has set a very high example of chivalrous conduct. Money cannot reward such an act, but the state owes him a debt which it should pay him in substantial form.

"DUX FEMINA FACTI."

The last dive has been driven from West Hammond. Thus one of the most interesting campaigns for municipal reform and social decency in the history of our country closes in triumph.

West Hammond is a small town, and the campaign for its social and political regulation has not involved great names, great masses of people, or material interests of imposing size. But within this microcosm were active all the forces which have made municipal misgovernment in America the darkest phase of the national experiment. The pathology of West Hammond was that of New York. The symptoms were the same. The cure was that which it must be whenever cities are to shake off the wasteful and vicious exploitation of predatory politics.

That cure was courageous, disinterested, and unyielding leadership relying upon a direct appeal to the good in human nature and drawing directly upon the unfailing resources of decent citizenship inherent in the masses of our people.

It is significant, too, that, as Virgil said of Carthage, dux femina facti, the leader of this achievement was a woman. Miss Brooks stands for more than herself. She is of the multiplying class of devoted and enlightened women who in the United States are to be found in the forefront of virtually every great reform. America has produced nothing finer or more precious than these women, who are more than justifying the high place womanhood has in American civilization.

THE GARBAGE PROBLEM.

The mayor's garbage commission is convinced that a reduction plant can be operated in a sanitary manner and practically without offensive odors. The reduction process creates two valuable products. Accordingly, the aldermen favor this method because they hope to get for the city a revenue from the sale of the refuse.

The commission recommended that bids be received on the basis of the contractor erecting a plant and disposing of the garbage on a site provided by him and also on a city owned site. There is considerable merit in the latter suggestion. The commission says a municipal site will obtain more bids, higher bids, and fairer competition, as well as give the authorities more power of regulation. Not one word in favor of the privately owned site can be found in the entire report. Assuming the judgment of the commission is sound, the city site program will permit the appropriation of more money for refuse collection. If a reduction plant can be operated without objectionable features, as the commission says, a municipal site should be reasonably easy to secure. Before the council adopts a policy, the proper administrative officials should report they have arranged to lease or purchase a site. Or they should frankly say they cannot get one. In which event the commission would be placed in the position of recommending something which the administrative officials found impossible to carry out.

The suggestion of publicity of accounts by Ald. Lawley should receive council approval. If the contract provides that the city controller shall have access to the books of the successful bidder, the city will have opportunity to know the profits of the business.

Ald. Egan has a resolution pending before the finance committee which provides preparation of specifications and to make a survey of the collection of all wastes. This idea has been urged by various civic organizations and should have been one of the recommendations of the garbage commission.

THE PRESIDENT'S PARTNER.

When the Democratic convention had nominated a candidate for the presidency after a protracted and desperate struggle, many of the delegates hurried away. They were not interested in the choice of a vice presidential nominee. Several of the strong men of the party had declined to consider this nomination.

At Chicago the situation was the same. The men who would have brought strength to the ticket declined, and the present incumbent, who four years ago became "a nominee by exhaustion," was nominated on the same terms.

This cynical neglect of the vice presidency is one of the most striking examples to be had of the gambling spirit of America. The vice presidency is by no means an unimportant office. It is an office of the highest importance, as our history has proved. Three times in half a century it has been the threshold of the presidency through the sudden death of the president, and twice in the period preceding.

In the face of this grim record the Republican convention of 1908 placed a standpatter in the possible succession to an assumed progressive, and though the late Democratic convention committed no such stultifying inconsistency, it hardly can be said that its attitude toward the vice presidential nomination was what it should have been.

We are gambling with national humiliation and misfortune in neglecting the fact that the almost powerless vice president of today may be the all powerful chief executive of tomorrow. For example, what if James Schoolcraft Sherman should succeed to the presidency—"Sunny Jim," the friend and ally of Lorimer, standpatter and reactionary?

How is this grave evil to be corrected?

THE TRIBUNE believes it can be corrected by making the vice presidency what it ought to be, the junior partnership of the presidency.

The president and the vice president should make a partnership in the business of government, and the junior member, instead of being relegated to a sinecure, should be kept actively in the business of the concern whose head is the president. He should be a member of the cabinet, participating in its councils and helping to shape policy, solve problems, and perfect administration.

The vice presidency was not intended by the founders to be a nonentity or an accident. The first plan of filling this office was to give it to the candidate who received next to the highest vote. This, of course, was incompatible with the party system, but it showed that the importance of the office was not ignored by the statesmen who made the constitution.

Let us restore the vice presidency to its proper place in our scheme of government. Let us make it the junior partnership to the presidency, an office of the highest rank, an opportunity for the most important service, a real preparation for the responsibility which may devolve upon its incumbent.

If it is made what it should be, we shall have no more "candidates by exhaustion," but men of the highest political type will seek it.

In the news columns will be found certain ghastly details of the celebration.

As all events, the unsafe and insane features of the Fourth are in course of ultimate extinction.

PROBABLY when you see Woodrow Wilson and Editor Bok together you will discover that they don't look so very much alike, after all.

BEN TILLMAN says he has prayed that he might live long enough to see a real Democratic president, and that his prayer will be answered next March. The senator's friends should advise him to keep on praying. A lot of things might happen between now and next March.

FIGURING on the dope, whatever that may mean, there seems to be no way of stopping the Giants now. It took Mr. Reulbach too long to gain control, and Mr. Brown did not Hit His Stride soon enough.

BOATS made of cement have been sailed in Mobile bay and found seaworthy. The builders of the Columbian exposition constructed a battleship of brick, as some of you may remember, but it never amounted to anything, either as a seagoing craft or as a floating fortress. We see now that it should have been built of cement.

IN A MINOR KEY.

Too Fly.

"Mother, may I go out to vote?"
Asked little Bessie Bowles.
"Yes, dear; put on your hat and coat,
But don't go near the polls."

Lessons from the Past.

"Suppose you do find your honest man, Diogenes," said one of the fellows in the crowd; "how will you recognize him?"

"I'll know him," responded Diogenes, "by his habit of minding his own business and not looking like any of you chaps."

From which we learn that men who wear celluloid clothing should not approach too near a lighted lantern.

Presence of Mind.

Thus she reproached him:

"Alfred, this is the first time you have come to see me for more than a month!"

Thus he explained:

"Kitty, I've decided that when a young fellow can't keep from thinking of a girl every moment of his life it's time for him to quit seeing her."

"Kiss me, Alfred, dear!"

He hesitated a moment—and was lost.

And Good Ears.

A nose for news has Auntie Bliss
That's really something fine;
She gets the things the papers miss.
She's on a party line.

Wasted Endeavor!

"My sympathies," observed the smoking car philosopher, "are all with the colonel, but if I were in his place I'd give it up—four-fifths of the people never will call him anything but Ruce-velt." C. W. T.

How to Keep Well. By Dr. W. A. Evans

HEALTH AND WEALTH

Questions pertinent to hygiene, sanitation, and prevention of disease, if matters of general interest, will be answered in this column. Where space will not permit or the subject is not suitable letters will be personally answered, subject to proper limitations and where a stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Dr. Evans will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases. Requests for such service cannot be answered.

Bertha L. asks: "What is the cause of prematurely gray hair? Is it due to lack of some nourishment in the system? Can anything be taken to prevent it?"

REPLY.

The hair loses its pigment and a little air gets into it. These two happenings make a hair "gray." Nothing can be taken to prevent gray hair. So far as we know, gray hair is not due to lack of some nourishment in the system.

USE OF BRAN BREAD.

E. B. writes: "Kindly state how much bran bread one should eat daily for constipation. Is there any danger of eating too much? You have published recipes, etc., but never have stated what amount should be taken and how often. I eat several pieces at every meal."

REPLY.

Enough to get results is the measure. Eat plenty of fruit and vegetables. Drink plenty of water. Remember the need of an abundance of water in summer.

NIGHT WORK A MENACE.

A. D. R. asks: "Is night work injurious to health?

"2. Will consumption result from not getting enough sleep?

"3. How many hours are required sleeping days?

"4. Is beef, iron and wine a good tonic to take during the summer months?"

REPLY.

1. To most people it would be. If you can sleep eight hours quietly in the day and establish regular habits of eating and exercising, it will not be.

2. A person getting too little sleep will be unduly susceptible to infection. Consumption is a kind of infection.

3. On an average, eight; some more, some less. A night worker requires the same number of hours of sleep as when he was a day worker.

4. Yes, provided you take exercise, air, and out of doors with it.

RELIEF FOR HEARTBURN.

E. F. writes: "I am suffering with heartburn. Can you please give me a remedy for relief?"

REPLY.

Most cases of heartburn yield to (1) regulation of the bowels and (2) very light diet, say one-half what you now are eating.

PERSPIRING AT NIGHT.

H. W. S. writes: "I am a young man, 22 years of age, weigh 158 pounds, feel well, and have a good appetite; but I perspire so profusely, especially nights, that I am wondering if it is natural or not."

REPLY.

As you are in good health, do not worry about perspiring at night. Do you sleep under too many bed clothes, or wear too heavy clothing, or keep your room too warm? Try sleeping on the porch or the roof.

MERE MATTER OF DIET.

F. R. writes: "What would you suggest as a proper diet where one is not habitually but infrequently constipated? I eat a light breakfast but am invariably hungry at noon, and it is hard to avoid overeating at that time. Otherwise I am ordinarily prudent. Should I leave my noon dinner hungry?"

REPLY.

It is a good plan to leave every meal hungry. Most of those who are constipated in winter get over it in summer. The reason: they eat fruit and vegetables and drink plenty of water. It does little good to eat vegetables and fruit unless the rougher parts are eaten.

SMOKING BAD FOR BOYS.

H. E. asks: "Does smoking a pipe hurt a boy of 19 if the smoke is never inhaled?"

REPLY.

Yes; it may and it probably will. Smoking poisons the nervous system. Grown people stand it fairly well, and most of them are not much harmed by it. Growing boys do not stand it well and most of them are harmed by it. Inhaling makes the harm worse, but harm is done regardless of inhaling.

ECZEMA.

Subscriber writes: "Would you bar fresh strawberries, cherries, blackberries, and raspberries from the menu of a person who has been afflicted for several years with eczema in one of its worst forms? Also what would you advise as to eggs, tomatoes, or cheese?"

REPLY.

Neither strawberries, cherries, blackberries, nor raspberries should cause your eczema to get worse. My opinion is the same as to eggs, tomatoes, and cheese. Let me suggest that you go over to the library and read Pusey's little book on "The Care of the Skin." Try the Public library and, if not there, the Crerar.

CIGARETS.

V. V. K. writes: "I am 23 years old and smoke possibly fifteen cigarets a day. I am strong and healthy but have a slight cough continually and cough a great deal after a cold has apparently disappeared. Do these conditions suggest a cigaret cough? Do you consider cigarets made of Turkish tobacco more harmful than others? I inhale deeply and get little consolation from cigars."

REPLY.

Cigarets is the probable explanation of your cough. I know of no reason why Turkish cigarets should harm more than the others.

PURITY NEEDED IN MILK.

L. V. asks: "I want to call your attention to one matter you have never attended to. That is in regard to unclean milk. I have sometimes in buying milk failed to get a strictly clean article. It is a piece of carelessness I have been unable to account for. After reflecting over the matter a good deal I have concluded that our dairymen do not clean their cows before milking. When I was a boy I lived in the country, and my parents kept two cows. My mother did the milking and she saw to it that the cows were clean.

In Ohio there is a state law for inspecting the condition of the milk, but none, so far as I can learn, for inspecting the condition of the cows. It seems to me there ought to be such a law. Is there such a law in Illinois?

REPLY.

This column has contained a good deal on milk. It will contain more now that the warm weather is here. Dirt in milk is of much less consequence in winter than in summer. Most ordinances cover the subject of dirt in milk in several ways. Frequently they specify that the milk shall not contain dirt. Some of them specify what is known as the dirt test—straining one pint of milk through absorbent cotton, whereupon the dirt is seen on the cotton. Some of them specify that milking shall be done in small mouthed pails or through strainers. Some of them specify that the milkers' hands and the cows' udders shall be clean. Frequently a certain score—the government score—is specified, and clean udders is a prominent requirement on that card. The difficulty about all method requirements is in getting them carried out. An inspector cannot be present at every milking, so it pretty nearly, though not entirely, comes back to the carefulness of the producer and the watchfulness of the consumer. You are right. It is most important—as important as the tuberculin test.

LA MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

[Copyright: 1912: By the Brentwood Company.]

COUNT ALEXANDER VON WELSBERG, after disappearing more than a month ago from his English country seat, Woollas Hall, near Worcester, has just been found wandering in a demented state near Cromford in Derbyshire. He has royal blood in his veins and a most romantic history.

His father was the late Duke Elimar of Oldenburg, half-brother of the late grand duke, and uncle, therefore, of the present sovereign ruler of that German state.

Duke Elimar was a most gifted man, and there are many Germans in this country who have laughed to their heart's content at those popular farces which are constantly represented on the Teutonic stage here as written by "H. Guenther," or by "I. Meyer," the two pen names under which he was accustomed to conceal his identity.

Duke Elimar served with distinction in the war of 1866, and again in that of 1870, but was so horror-stricken by the scenes which he witnessed on the battlefield that he took a prominent part in the work of the international peace societies, several letters and pamphlets bearing his name and title having appeared in print on the subject of peace.

Like some other members of German royalty, he sought beauty and charm, rather than rank, when looking for a wife, and, instead of marrying a princess of the blood, contracted a perfectly valid, ecclesiastical union with Natalie Vogel, who was of peasant birth, and upon whom Emperor Francis Joseph later conferred the title of Baroness Vogel von Friesenhof at the pressing request of the duke.

During the last two decades of his life Duke Elimar, who died about eleven years ago, resided with his wife and his only son at his beautiful château of Erla, not far from Vienna, and it soon became a favorite resort for everything that was most brilliant in art and literature in the Austrian capital. He was, however, never seen at court functions.

At his death his nephew, the grand duke, bestowed upon Baroness von Friesenhof's son (the grand duke's cousin, therefore, and like him a descendant on the distaff side of the great Gustavus Adolphus of Sweden) the title of Count von Welsberg, under which name he received a commission from the kaiser in the Prussian Garde du Corps at Potsdam, and subsequently married a daughter of the well known German racing man, Count Frederick von Hahn.

Count Alexander von Welsberg was perfectly content with his position in life until Count Leopold of Lippe obtained from the Lippe legislature, from the supreme court of the empire, and from a special tribunal presided over by the late King Albert of Saxony, a decree vesting in him the sovereignty of the principality of Lippe, despite his morganatic origin, through his American maternal grandmother.

This led Count Alexander to put forward claims to a place in the line of succession to the grand duchy of Oldenburg. He put his interests in the hands of one of the most important law firms in Germany, which presented a demand upon the reigning grand duke for recognition of their client as a full-fledged prince of that sovereign house, entitled as such to a large income from the extensive family property and to a civil list from the state treasury.

The importance of this request is apparent, when one considers that the reigning grand duke is in delicate health, that his only son is a frail boy of about 10 years, that his only brother is a confirmed bachelor, and an invalid, and that, had Count von Welsberg's pretensions been admitted, he would be, after them, heir to the grand ducal crown, with rights superior to the czar's brother-in-law, Duke Peter of Oldenburg (in spite of his title, a Russian by birth and nationality), and also to the kaiser's two brothers-in-law, Duke Ernest Gunther, and Duke Frederick Ferdinand of Schleswig-Holstein.

As, moreover, the kaiser's second son, Prince Eitel Fritz, is married to the only daughter of the Grand Duke of Oldenburg, it will be seen that the position of Count von Welsberg as a lieutenant of the Garde du Corps at Potsdam and, as such, in the immediate entourage of the kaiser and his family became very awkward.

He was given by Emperor William the alternative of either withdrawing his claim or of being placed on the retired list.

He chose the latter, and, being subsequently defeated in all the actions brought by his lawyers in support of his pretensions, found it preferable to transfer his residence to England, since life in Germany, with the kaiser and all his relatives against him, was the reverse of pleasant.

Count Alexander is fairly well off, but is, however, dependent on an allowance from his mother, Baroness von Friesenhof, who resides at her Hungarian castle of Brogyan, in the County of Bars.

It was to her that Duke Elimar left the whole of his considerable fortune at his death.

The life of Count von Welsberg in England has not been altogether happy, as he has failed to "catch on" with the county society of Worcestershire, where his residence is situated, and this, together with the feeling that he was an exile, unjustly deprived of his lawful rights, seems to have preyed upon his mind to the point of unbalancing it.

Much has been written about the villa of Hvidur, in the suburbs of Copenhagen, which is owned jointly by Dowager Queen Alexandra of England and by her sister, the dowager empress of Russia, and where they are fond of residing together when in Denmark, instead of at one or another of the royal palaces.

Few, however, are aware that its site and name are those of a former château which figures in Danish history much in the same way that Woodstock and Fair Rosamond figure in that of England.

The Rosamond of old Danish days was born in the Netherlands, and the king whom she enthralled was Christian II., who flourished in the sixteenth century, and was married to Princess Isabella of Austria, sister of Emperor Charles V.

Her name was less poetic than that of her English prototype, being Dyveke, which may be translated "Little Dove," and she was the daughter of a gigantic virago, Vrouw Sigbrit, a market woman of Bergen.

It was there that Dyveke Sigbrit's rare beauty attracted the attention and won the heart of Prince Christian, then Danish viceroy of Norway, and she became his wife in everything but name, her strong-minded mother living in the palace with her and acquiring the most extraordinary mastery over her left handed son-in-law.

In fact, when he became king of Denmark, Vrouw Sigbrit became his principal political adviser and virtual premier, and ultimately received the control of the entire state finances, her empire over Christian lasting for years after her daughter's tragic death, celebrated in the well known ballad, "The King of Denmark's Ride."

THE QUITTERS.

Seven Little Governors, like a row of bricks;
One got cold feet, then there were six.

Six Little Governors, all of 'em alive;
One went for Wilson, then there were five.

Five Little Governors, loyal to the core;
If another one quits then there'll be four.

MR. WILSON owes his nomination to the fight that T. R. made here and the fight that Bryan made at Baltimore; that is conceded even by such tory journals as the New York Times. Wilson was rammed down the throats of the majority to head off Roosevelt. Ergo, (1) the Democratic party as a whole is progressive, and (2) a progressive Republican ought to vote for Wilson.

IF that sort of logic appeals to you, go to it. But our impetuous and wildly emotional nature requires another kind of leader and a less complicated cause. The Democratic party now acclaims its nominee, not because he is Woodrow Wilson but because he is a likely winner.

THERE has been a hurricane of protest against the stolen nomination at Chicago, but protest, like all talk, is cheap; support requires sincerity and courage. The W. G. N. is in the battle van. Let the fainthearts trail.

In speaking of the sudden death of Mr. Steinwender, a friend of his who knew him well paid a high tribute to his character as a merchant and good citizen. He said: "He was one of the best judges of green coffee I ever knew, and this expert knowledge came to him as a sort of intuition."

TRUST DEED ON HIS LOT.

Chicago, July 1.—[To the Friend of the People.]—I bought a lot of a man some time ago and I find there is a trust deed against it for $200, the grantor being the man who sold the lot to me. Under the statute of limitations how long after the deed is made out can I file suit against this man? A. G. T.

An action may be brought against the grantor any time within ten years after you receive the deed. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

EXTENDING KEDZIE AVENUE LINE.

Chicago, July 2.—[To the Friend of the People.]—I intend to buy lots near Kedzie avenue and Lawrence avenue. Real estate men in that locality tell me that the Kedzie avenue car line is to be extended north from Elston avenue to Foster avenue this summer; also that a new bridge would be put in on Kedzie avenue over the north branch of the Chicago river, and that the contract for $20,000 had been let for same.

The question of an extension on Kedzie avenue is under consideration. No ordinance has yet been passed. WILLISTON FISH,

BECOMING A CITIZEN.

Section 1 of the fourteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States reads in part as follows: "All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the state wherein they reside . . ."

A boy born in a foreign country may become a citizen of the United States by himself filing a petition for naturalization after he reaches the age of 21; or, if his father becomes a full citizen before the son reaches the age of 21, the naturalization of the father confers citizenship upon the son, if residing in this country.

UP TO THE LANDLORD.

Chicago, June 27.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—I signed regular Chicago standard lease for a flat, from May 1. The tenants occupying the premises would not move at the expiration of their lease at that time, and the lessor failed to get them to vacate the flat until May 18. He now demands rent from me from May 1 until May 20, claiming under the Illinois statutes it is the duty of the lessee to secure possession of the premises, by law, if necessary. Is he right, or is it necessary for the lessee to secure a contract from the present occupants to move before he can feel certain that possession can be obtained of leased premises?

Will you kindly advise me if I have not legal grounds for the additional expense by reason of failure to secure clear possession? T. J. B.

1. The landlord must deliver the premises to the tenant. Under the above circumstances you owe no rent for the period May 1 to May 18.
2. Yes. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

TROUBLE WITH LANDLORD.

Chicago, July 3.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Where the landlord occupies the ground flat of a two family house can the tenant forbid the landlord the use of his rear porch for the purpose of hanging out washing? 2. How much time is a tenant allowed in which to vacate a flat after notification without cause? 3. Can a tenant compel his landlord to defray his moving expenses under the foregoing condition? Can the tenant be compelled to pay rent for the use of the flat in the interval between the time of notification and vacation when no lease or prior agreement exists? E. O.

1. Yes, unless the lease has some provision in regard to this.
2. To the end of the lease, or, if there is no lease, thirty days.
3. No.
4. Not if the landlord requests him to move and the tenant agrees. Otherwise, yes.

POLICEMEN SHOULD ACT.

Chicago, July 3.—[To the Friend of the People.]—I notice in THE TRIBUNE your reply to "Night Worker" who complains of the violation by the hucksters of the ordinance against crying their wares, and it seems strange that it is necessary to call the attention of a policeman to these violations or to swear out a warrant against them in order to have a stop put to this nuisance. The policemen surely can hear this nerve racking bawl of the peddler as well as any one else, and, knowing it is prohibited by ordinance, why can't they arrest the violators the same as violators of any of the other laws and ordinances? Even a threat would have the desired effect. I also am a night worker and one of the thousands who are deprived of their proper rest on account of this unnecessary howling.

PROPERTY OWNERS OBJECTED.

Chicago, July 3.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Drexel avenue between the Midway and Sixty-third street is in an almost impassable condition—full of mud holes and rough places. The street is lined with a good class of buildings, but they are inaccessible to vehicles. Not only this, the street lighting consists of gasoline lamps far apart and ranged on one side only. Why is it that this street is not improved? And what action must be taken to bring it about? As a property owner I would like to know whether this matter has ever been considered by the city authorities. Can you find out for my information as well as those residing along the above street? If so it will be esteemed a great favor.

MARY HEWSON.

Proceedings were recently started to repave Drexel avenue, from Sixtieth to Sixty-third streets, with asphalt. A majority of the property owners protested that the street was in good condition and did not need improving. That being the case, nothing more can be done for a year. It is up to the property owners. The city can do nothing while a majority of the owners oppose the improvement.

BANKRUPTCY AND A DUN.

Chicago, July 3.—[To the Friend of the People.]—I have just been advised that a friend of mine has received a notice from a retail rating agency in this city advising him substantially that unless he pays a certain bill within a few days' time he will be placed on their books as a deadbeat. This man failed in business and went through bankruptcy five years ago and was discharged of all obligations, the one in question among them. What action can he take to prevent this move on the part of the rating company? Has he any defense?

J. W. W.

If this debt was scheduled and discharged in bankruptcy as you say, there is no legal liability to pay it now, unless since the bankruptcy promises have been made to pay. If the agency spreads such reports, it will be guilty of libel.

MARRIAGE PROBABLY ILLEGAL.

Chicago, June 25.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—A woman is granted a divorce in a county in Indiana in which she and her husband resided. The court inhibited her remarrying before two years from date of divorce. At the end of one year, however, she marries again. Not being able to get a license in the county where divorce was granted because two year inhibition on marriage was not up, a license was obtained in an adjoining county, but the marriage took place in home county, where license had been refused. The woman and husband now live in Chicago.

1. Can any penalty be inflicted for marrying before the two year inhibition period has elapsed?

2. Is the woman lawfully married in Indiana and Illinois?

3. Can you get a license in one county in Indiana and be married in another county, lawfully? M. A. O'M.

1. Yes; but only in Indiana.
2. Not in Indiana, and probably not in Illinois.
3. Yes. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

DENEEN IS A PROGRESSIVE.

Pontiac, Ill., July 3.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Some one who signs himself "A Progressive Roosevelt Republican" requests Gov. Deneen to state his position. I say to this person that if he will study Gov. Deneen's record for the last twelve years he will not need to ask this question. Deneen has been fighting for this cause while many of us have been sleeping. We had an eleventh hour enlisted progressive candidate for nomination for governor who tried to build himself up by attempting to tear a good man down. What happened to him?

Gov. Deneen is the real progressive candidate for governor. "Nuff sed."

ANOTHER PROGRESSIVE ROOSEVELT REPUBLICAN.

TIME FOR A NEW PARTY.

Flora, Ill., July 3.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I have read THE TRIBUNE ever since 1856, the year the Republican party was born. My first vote was for Abraham Lincoln and never have I missed voting for the Republican nominee for president since. It has been a grand old party and for years its grand old men stood up for the rights of the people and humanity, and the people have shown their love and respect for it almost ever since it was born.

But at last the people placed their confidence in one man and elevated him to the highest position in their gift, to be betrayed by him and his satellites in the most shameful manner, and at last destroying the party of the people. But another party, phœnix-like, will arise from the purifying fire and ashes of the old Republican party. I hope in November next to cast a ticket of that new party of the people.

I suggest the name for the new party to be the People's National party, eliminating all reference to any of the present parties and uniting all persons who believe in the rule of the people and wiping out of all special privileges. REUBEN S. PRICE.

BALTIMORE PLATFORM FAILURE.

Would you please take a nation wide straw vote to see which shows the best among Roosevelt, Taft, and Wilson? Let it continue. He has my vote. We want Roosevelt. J. A. L.

PROGRESSIVES IN THE LEAD.

Boaz, Ill., July 3.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Our precinct will support the new party. Teddy will poll more votes than Taft and the Democrat nominee together. Our precinct will poll about 200 votes and about fifty of those are Democrats, and out of the other 150 I have only found up to this time ten who will vote for Taft, and out of these ten there are seven who never look at a political paper of any kind. That shows that the majority of Taft's supporters desire more light. Will they receive more light? They will by the aid of the progressive party.

I have always been a true blue Republican and always will be, but I shall not vote for Taft and graft, and I think I am one of a million or more that will do the same, judging from my own precinct.

Ambia, Ind., July 1.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—With perhaps nearly all of your readers, I have watched the recent parting of the progressive and standpat factions of the Republican party. In my township and two border townships, out of a total of 291 Republican votes Taft received nine votes at the April 9 primary. Deneen was well supported. He owed his success in the primary to the fact that when THE TRIBUNE put the calling of the extra session of the legislature to pass the preferential primary law up to him he responded without delay.

The people were grateful, and it won him his nomination without a doubt.

As a delegate to the convention Mr. Deneen apparently decided he should throw a few crumbs to the Taft faction.

Detectives Say It Is Impossible for Police to Locate Gambling Under New System.

SLEUTH TELLS OF TASK.

"Only Dubs in Game Are Using Chicago Telephone Wires," He Asserts.

Handbook gambling in Chicago is rapidly increasing. That is admitted by the detectives who are assigned to its suppression. The detectives assert the use of the automatic telephone makes it practically impossible for them to locate gambling places by listening on the wires. In addition, the detectives assert, the Illinois Tunnel company, which operates the automatic system, gives no assistance, while the Chicago Telephone company is credited with giving information frequently.

The latter corporation often telephones the police department when they are asked to place a telephone in a location asking if the police have any objections. The sleuths assert they have never received that sort of information from the Illinois Tunnel company.

Remove Automatic Phones.

"In the last ninety days," said one of the subscribers of Sergeants Sloier and Etchingham, in charge of the gambling squad, "we have removed about forty phones. Half of them have been automatics. I believe that if we could locate the automatic phones as easily as we can the manually operated phones, we would have had two or three times as many automatics out as we have obtained. The man with the test set gets on the automatic lines and the ticks, which indicate the number of the phone called, come so fast that he cannot count them."

He then produced an automatic dial to prove the reporter could not ascertain the number called. Then he continued:

"Recently we pulled four phones out of a vault in the American Express company's building. Those were automatics and were used by Jack Barry as a clearing house. Now, the automatic company knew when they placed four of their phones in the vault that they were putting in those phones for gambling purposes, or they are so innocent over there that they ought not to be running a telephone system. Yet they never tipped the police.

"In the Revere house recently we found five automatic phones in one room. That place was operated by one of Mont Tennes' men. Any chump would know when he is putting in those phones that he was helping out gamblers. The phone company never gave us a tip.

Gamblers Make Escape.

"All the wise gamblers are using the automatic phones. Only the dubs are using the lines of the Chicago Telephone company. Take O'Leary. We got an automatic from his place a few days ago. While we were trying to trace the line thirty fellows escaped from the blacksmith shop back of O'Leary's. Tom Burns' cigar store on Thirty-ninth street near Vernon avenue had an automatic. So did Karr & Kennedy's place, 837 North Clark street; John, Newton's, 547 West Madison street; William Freeze, 68 West Chicago avenue; Mike Crowe's hotel, at Chicago and Dearborn avenues, and G. F. Adams' place, at 319 South La Salle street."

While the detective was talking in walked Policemen Fromicke and Johnson with an automatic phone, which they said they had taken from the basement at 135 West South Water street. The keeper, who gave his name as Charles Robinson, and seven inmates were arrested.

"Now those boys did not locate the gambling place by means of the automatic phone," went on the informant. "They found the gambling place and then when they searched it they found the automatic.

Get No Help from Company.

"A couple of years ago we were ordered to confiscate phones used for gambling. We did. I have helped smash dozens of them. Now that is all changed. We carefully preserve the instrument, bring it to the office and the telephone company calls for it. Of course, I don't know what they do with it, but it's a good guess that some of these are put in for gamblers at other places. I don't mind letting the companies have their phones back if they were helping us catch the gamblers. But the automatic people don't help us in any way.

"I know of at least one handbook place where we took out an automatic phone and later went back to the same place to find the company had put in another instrument.

"It has been reported around in the department that the automatic company stands in with the administration, so there are some things I can't tell you without letting them know who is giving out the information.

"I have been wondering whether they will count the gamblers as bona fide subscribers in that investigation. Prof. Bemis is making a list of the number of subscribers. I don't know whether this is true or not, but it has been gossiped around that the company in putting in phones for the gamblers last year insisted upon getting their pay in advance. The police would be glad to trace down some of those who have paid in advance, for we might find some gamblers at the other end."

KILLED BY RIVAL AUTO BUS

Conductor on Motor Vehicle Is Brushed Off by Passing Car.

OWNER OUT ON $1,000 BOND.

Physician Pronounces Victim Dead After Fall in Street.

Stanley Palczyk was killed instantly yesterday by an autobus while collecting fares on the side-step of another motor car going in the opposite direction. The accident occurred at Milwaukee and Fifty-sixth avenues.

Leon Brukwicki, 5084 Avondale avenue, owner and driver of the machine that brushed Palczyk off, was arrested on a charge of assault, and later released on a bond of $1,000 for his appearance in the Shakespeare avenue court today.

Loaded with Passengers.

The machine on which Palczyk was collecting fares was being driven by Charles E. Ilsen, 4812 Milwaukee avenue. He said he did not know where Palczyk lived.

Ilsen's machine, loaded with passengers, was in Milwaukee avenue. Brukwicki's bus, with only a few passengers, was coming downtown.

Palczyk was brushed off by the end of Brukwicki's machine and thrown to the ground. A physician was summoned, but the victim was dead when he arrived.

Doctor Hurled from Auto.

Dr. M. O. Hoover, 1536 Grand avenue, had a narrow escape from injury and his automobile was partly wrecked on Wednesday night when it was struck by another machine in Ashland avenue.

The accident occurred near the physician's office. He escaped injury, although thrown from his automobile. Persons who saw the accident told Dr. Hoover the other automobile was driven by a chauffeur who gave the name of Quinn, and said he was employed by the Newberry garage, 1186 South Paulina street. There were two passengers in the machine.

MAN MAY DIE AS RESULT OF MYSTERIOUS STREET DUEL.

Police Are Investigating Encounter in East Twentieth Street—Two Wounded, One in Seven Places.

A mysterious shooting, which may result in the death of one of the participants, is under investigation by the police.

Nicholas Falarie, proprietor of a grocery at 108 East Twentieth street, was shot seven times while in front of his store shortly before noon yesterday. He is in a critical condition at St. Luke's hospital.

His assailant, Salvatore Marino, 42 years old, a barber, living at Archer avenue and South Dearborn street, was shot through the right cheek. He is in the bridewell hospital.

According to witnesses, the men met in front of Falarie's store, and both drew revolvers. Marino used an automatic pistol and fired seven shots in rapid succession. All took effect in the lower part of Falarie's body and legs. Falarie fired but twice. The police were unable to learn the cause of the duel.

SLEEPS NEAR WINDOW; FALLS.

Man Who Sought Cool Breeze Found with Fractured Skull and Broken Spine.

Frank Carter, a negro, moved his bed up to the window of his third floor room at 3156 Groveland avenue Wednesday night in order to get every bit of cool air stirring. He went to sleep. The police found him lying unconscious on the pavement below his window. The fall had broken his spine and fractured his skull. He was taken to the County hospital, where the surgeons who examined him said his injuries probably would result in his death.

SHOTGUN ENDS MAN'S LIFE.

William Reiner, Son of Farmer Near Barrington, Accidentally Shot in Shoulder.

William Reiner, the 21 year old son of a farmer near Barrington, Ill., was fatally shot Wednesday night when he and a friend were preparing to drive to a neighboring town to celebrate the Fourth. In attempting to place a shotgun in the buggy Reiner caught the trigger against the seat of the vehicle and received the full charge in his right shoulder. He died in the Sherman hospital at Elgin.

A Store's Method of Meeting Emergencies Is the Measure of That Store's Progress.

The July Clearing Sales

Have an important service to perform this year; that of preparing for the new lines of merchandise that will go into the completed store building a few months from now.

To make speed we resort to the time honored methods in vogue since the first clearing sale was thought of: changing prices to lower figures. The broken lines are offered on terms so favorable that many extra salespeople are required to wait on customers. In every section prize bargains are being picked up by shrewd shoppers.

WOLGAST WINNER; STOPS JOE RIVERS LOSER SAYS FOUL

Referee Welch Calls Knockout in Thirteenth Round Amid Storm of Protests.

WILD SWING ENDS BATTLE

Mexican Is Floored by Body Blow and Champion Sprawls Across His Prostrate Body.

FIGHT MARKED BY VICIOUSNESS

BY HARRY GILMORE JR.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 4.—[Special.]—After thirteen desperate and thrilling rounds Ad Wolgast, the lightweight champion, was today returned a winner over Joe Rivers in the most complicated result that could be realized. A knockout with the full ten count administered is the explanation of Referee Jack Welsh, while various other opinions will be sent broadcast by many of the newspaper scribes at the ringside.

Fortunately my reservation had me right in the Mexican's corner, where the climax occurred. Directly after a fierce mixup Wolgast lunged in with a sweeping left directed to Rivers' body in a half hooking delivery, landing heavily on Rivers' stomach. The blow was just a shade low, and Rivers went down on the broad of his back, placing his hands down over his groin as an indication that he had been fouled. Wolgast must have been overbalanced, for within a second after Rivers had fallen to the floor the champion toppled over on top of him, straddling Rivers' right knee. This apparently disabled the champion, for he was helped to regain his feet by Referee Welsh, while the latter continued to count out Rivers.

"You Win," Welsh to Wolgast.

As soon as Wolgast was up he walked to the center of the ring and toward his own corner, holding himself low as if he himself was unable to continue. "You win," shouted Welsh to the little Dutchman as he passed to his corner, and amid the tremendous shouts and confusion only those at the immediate ringside knew what had happened.

Welsh hurried from the ring, and, while the fact that Wolgast was returned the winner was generally made kown in a hurry, it was hardly clear to even newspapermen on what basis his decision was rendered.

One conception immediately arrived at was that Welsh had declared Wolgast a winner on point of disqualification in that Rivers had fouled Wolgast, but this is a ridiculous view for it was the champion's own misfortune in falling, and no such ruling could be made.

Amid the disturbance in the packed arena and the confusion in Rivers' corner came shouts of "Foul," "Foul," "Foul." I heard Welsh count to eight at the same time helping Wolgast off Rivers. As soon as Wolgast had crossed to his own corner, Welsh proclaimed him the winner and said that he had counted ten just as the final bell sounded.

Rivers Claims Foul Blow.

When the actual result became generally known, a tremendous roar of dissatisfaction went up with shouts of robbery from the Rivers end. It was anything but robbery. Welsh is a courageous referee and while the mixup was a confusing one he did not hesitate in counting the Mexican boy out the second he dropped from the blow. While openly admitting that the fatal blow landed right on the belt line, with a fraction of the glove showing low, it was not sufficient to be characterized a foul and the real force of the punch was felt above.

Up to the thirteenth and final round Wolgast was a decided winner and had his plucky opponent badly bunged up, with the betting questionable whether or not Rivers would last the fifteen rounds. It was undoubtedly one of the best and most terrific lightweight battles that the coast has seen while it lasted and though Rivers failed in his aspirations to become the champion, he will be great in his defeat, for he fought desperately and as savagely as a wildcat until the champion had calmed him down after the seventh round.

Much to the surprise of all, in the opening round Wolgast started off in an easy, careless mood, with Rivers peppering him at intervals with lefts and landing a clean right hand uppercut to the face. With the sound of the next gong Rivers came out and tore after the champion in terrific style and the house went wild.

Wolgast Spills His Blood.

In a fierce mixup Wolgast broke from a clinch with blood streaming down his back from a wound in the back of his head, inflicted in a collision with Rivers' teeth. This seemed to infuriate the little bull from Cadillac and what a grand exchange of wallops resulted. Rivers' lip was split and his nose showed the claret, but he came all the more desperately and with slashing right hand punches to the chin and repeated uppercuts sent the champion to his corner with decidedly the worst of the round.

With the starting of the third round Wolgast came strong in his aggressive, tearing style and from then on the champion's superiority became all the more pronounced until the sixth. Badly battered and bleeding, the Mexican took a decided stand, lunging ferociously with hard right hand punches that forced Wolgast to break ground. In a hard mix up at the ropes Rivers forced Wolgast over the ropes and with the two back into the ring one of the best struggles of the day took place.

It was easily Rivers' round and, renewed hope went up for the game youngster who was at this stage giving the champion all he could take. Ad took it and came out for more and from the seventh round on there was never a glowing prospect for the native son. Wolgast continued to punish him severely in the clinches, but all the time Rivers was there trying and fighting desperately to the last.

Even in Twelfth Round.

Another spurt in the twelfth easily entitled Rivers to an even break of the round, for he landed one of the best of his right hand punches right to the chin point, and staggered Wolgast across the ring. It was just a flash, though, for Joe was tiring under the terrific pace.

While the Mexican was fresh and strong he measured equally in every respect with everything the champion sent, but as I predicted, he was eventually fought out by the evertearing champion, and after his dash and strength was spent in the seventh round there was but one result to look for.

Joe Herrick Shades McKenna.

Fort Wayne, Ind., July 4.—[Special.]—Joe Herrick of Chicago and Patsy McKenna of Fort Wayne went ten fast rounds here this afternoon. Herrick was the aggressor throughout, and was given the popular decision, though McKenna was the favorite. Nick Little, also of Chicago, was knocked out in the second round by Frank Mason.

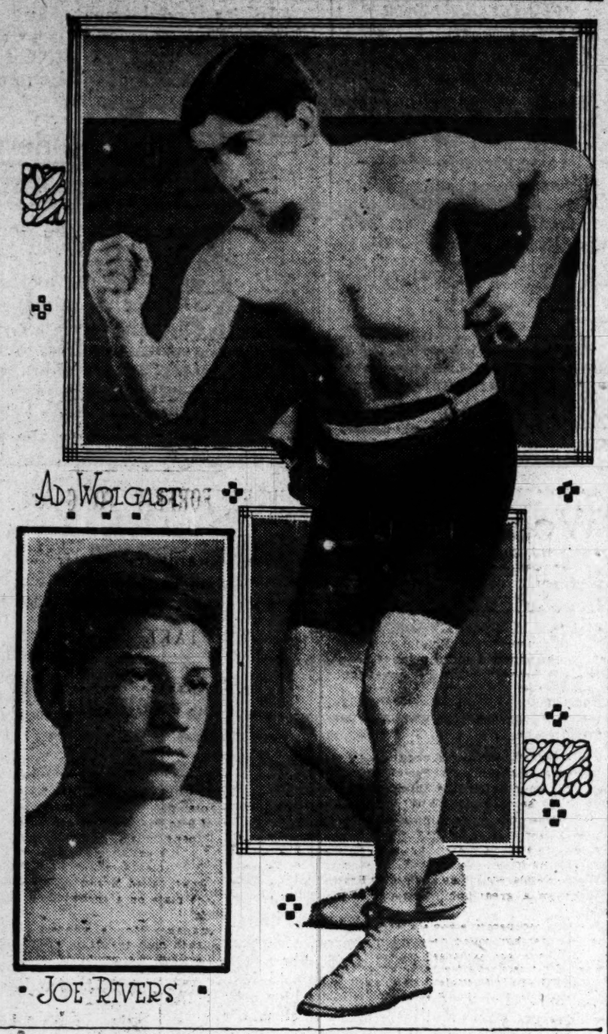

Berg and Petroskey Draw.

Oakland, Cal., July 4.—Otto Berg of Austria and Ed [Sailor] Petroskey of the Yerba Buena naval station, middleweights, boxed ten rounds to a draw here today.

Mantell and Thompson Draw.

Sacramento, Cal., July 4.—Frank Mantell and Cyclone Johnny Thompson fought a twenty round draw here tonight.

Lightweight Champion and Beaten Rival

Wolgast-Rivers Fight by Rounds.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

FIRST ROUND—Time called at 4:12. Rivers led and they clinched. Rivers landed three lefts to the face in quick succession and Wolgast covered. Rivers appeared faster and his blocking was better. In a clinch Rivers sent in three stiff rights, jarring Wolgast. Rivers' round.

SECOND ROUND—Rivers opened a gash on Wolgast's neck, from which the blood spurted in a stream. Rivers pecked Wolgast ten times without a return, and then put a stiff left to stomach. Rivers landed right to Wolgast's nose, starting a new flow of blood. Wolgast often fell short, while Rivers never missed. Rivers' round.

THIRD ROUND—Wolgast took stiff left in stomach and head. The boys exchanged hard rights and lefts. Wolgast missed a right swing and Rivers put another left to the wind. They fought like tigers. Wolgast went to a clinch and covered. Both were smeared with blood. In a clinch Rivers opened the wound in Wolgast's neck. Round even.

FOURTH ROUND—Rivers sent Wolgast's head back with a right. Wolgast clinched, but could not land at close range. Again Rivers rocked Wolgast, but the champion bored in. Wolgast found much difficulty in hitting Rivers. He missed again and the Mexican put in left and right to the wind. It was Rivers' round.

FIFTH ROUND—They went into a clinch and both held on. Wolgast put light left to jaw, but missed a fight. In a neutral corner Rivers put left and right to wind and received a light right to jaw. Then they stood in the middle of the ring looking at each other. They clinched and Rivers nearly upset Wolgast with a right to jaw. Round even.

SIXTH ROUND—Wolgast missed and was nearly upset again. Then Rivers put stiff left to wind. Another right to the jaw rocked Wolgast, but he bored in. Wolgast's judgment of distance was poor. In a clinch Rivers put right to jaw and Wolgast went down. He was up in an instant and they fought like tigers, head to head. Rivers' round by a wide margin.

SEVENTH ROUND—Both were cautious In a clinch Rivers backed the champion to the ropes. Wolgast then sent in left and right to wind, Rivers covering. In the break both landed light lefts. Rivers then jarred Wolgast and the champion was wild, hitting low. Both seemed tired and clinched. Wolgast again hit low. Rivers' round.

EIGHTH ROUND—Wolgast tried with right and left and missed both. Wolgast suddenly rushed and put lefts and rights to wind, chasing Rivers around the ring. Both then seemed content to box at long range. Both were tired and slowed down considerably. The round was slightly in Wolgast's favor.

NINTH ROUND—After a clinch Rivers put light left to the stomach. Wolgast began to crouch to protect his stomach. Rivers seemed to be resting as he kept away. It was the tamest round of the fight. Wolgast rushed suddenly and put a stiff left to stomach, making Rivers wince. Wolgast's round by a shade.

TENTH ROUND—Wolgast rushed and Rivers blocked, making the champion miss a left. Rivers kept away, poking Wolgast and stepping back. In a clinch Wolgast made Rivers cover with swings to jaw. Rivers suddenly jumped in and put a hard right over Wolgast's kidneys, taking nothing in return. Head to head they exchanged fearful body smashes and were clinched at the bell. Wolgast's round.

ELEVENTH ROUND—Wolgast missed left to wind and Rivers hit him three times without return. Rivers put hard left to jaw Both slipped and nearly rolled out of the ring. Rivers then stood still and took four or five hard lefts and rights to jaw, but never winced. He then sent a hard left, staggering the champion. Wolgast's smile had disappeared and he seemed very tired. Round even.

TWELFTH ROUND—Wolgast sent right to wind, rushing Rivers to ropes. Wolgast then tried hard to land on wind, but could not get through Rivers' defense. Time and again the champion missed, with Rivers vainly attempting to follow up the advantage. Both rushed, and head to head it was, an exchange of terrific blows. Rivers' round.

THIRTEENTH ROUND—Rivers rushed. Wolgast nearly went over from right to jaw, but bored right in, putting left to wind. "Take your time, Joe," shouted Manager Levy to Rivers, "you got him." Twice Wolgast missed, Rivers putting in lefts to face. Wolgast was getting wilder, but Rivers kept away. Wolgast suddenly crouched and sent a terrific left directly over Rivers' groin. At the same time Rivers put his right to Wolgast's jaw, and the champion went down. Rivers fell, writhing in pain, and Referee Welch began to count Claims of foul were made in behalf of Rivers. Welch picked Wolgast from the floor and declared him winner. His seconds carried him from the ring. Rivers was lying on the floor, but in a moment arose unaided. The ring was in a semiriot. Welch, seeing the crowd coming, announced that Wolgast was the winner and disappeared.

POLARIS WINNER IN HOLIDAY RACE

Yawl Takes Time Prize in Independence Day Regatta Event of C. Y. C.

SLOOP ILLINOIS SECOND.

Widsith, in the Thirty Foot Division, Finishes in Front of Clark's Gloria.

BY JOHN G. DE LONG.

James O. Heyworth's big yawl Polaris was the star performer in the open Independence day regatta sailed under the auspices of the Chicago Yacht club. Polaris, sailing under the colors of the promoting organization, had no competition in its class and started from scratch against the fastest time of the other boats. The Heyworth yacht went through the entire fleet and won time prize with a mark of 1:14:48, as against 1:16:47 by the next fastest boat—Roy Barcal's sloop Illinois.

Eleven of the larger boats in the Chicago, Columbia, and Jackson park squadrons, in addition to ten of the Chicago Yacht club's one designers, crossed the starting line and furnished good sport for the large holiday crowd that visited the lake front clubhouses during the afternoon. Illinois of the Chicago Yacht club was the winner in the thirty-five foot sloop class, with George B. Currier's sloop Leda of the Columbia Yacht club second.

Widsith Takes Class B Race.

In the thirty foot B division A. E. Rohde's Widsith of the Columbia Y. C. finished in front of J. E. Clark's Gloria of the same organization. Other winners of the day were J. F. McGuire's Lipton cup holder Columbia of the Columbia Y. C. in the twenty-one foot cabin class; Edward Rosing's La Rita of the Chicago Y. C. in the thirty foot A class; Julian Armstrong's Aloha of the Chicago Y. C. in the eighteen foot class, and L. J. Lamblin's Invader of the Columbia Y. C. in the twenty-one foot raceabout class.

In the forenoon race between the one designers, Pug, sailed by H. S. Powers, won by two seconds from Opob, sailed by Dr. C. H. Keogh. Susette, sailed by Curtis Smith, was third, thirty seconds astern. In the afternoon race Susette was the winner with a lead of one minute and fifty seconds over Opob. Terrier, sailed by J. H. Benedict, was third, forty seconds astern. The open regatta was sailed over the Chicago Yacht club's ten mile course. The wind was moderate from southeast. The first leg was a close haul, the second a spinnaker run, and the final a reach.

CROWD OF 15,000 SEES RACES AT LINCOLN PARK BOAT CLUB.

Fise Strokes Winning Eight Oared Shell Over Half Mile Course in 2:41—Also Wins Junior Singles.

BP KEENE GARDINER.

An estimated crowd of 15,000 persons saw the annual Fourth of July regatta of the Lincoln Park Boat club in the Lincoln park lagooon yesterday afternoon. The eight oared race was the feature of a spectacular program. Fise stroked the winning boat, making the half mile course in 2:41. Fise also won the junior single shell event in 3:10. He defeated G. Green, who was a close second.

The program was diversified. Shell and gig races afforded the crowd which lined both banks of the lagoon excitement, while those who were fortunate enough to be near the clubhouse were delighted with the burlesque features, the tub races and the tilting contest. The regatta was delayed in starting, and rain drove the spectators to cover before the last event was raced. For this reason many missed the eight oared shell event.

C. Loehde won the first event, the gig race. He was hard pressed at the finish by James Templeton, who was second. The time was 3:51. J. M. Corbett won the novice single shell race in the fast time of 3:21. A. Johnson was second. The four oared gig event for novices brought out a pretty struggle, but Hoff's superior stroking gave his crew a hard earned victory. G. V. Gordon and Evertsen were easy victors in the double shell race for juniors. Summaries:

Eight oared race—Won by E. Fise, stroke; G. Hall, No. 7; J. Gollen, No. 6; B. Hoff, No. 5; E. Howell, No. 4; A. Rehberger, No. 3; E. Evertsen, No 2; E. Korf, bow; D. Dunn, coxswain.

Gig race—Won by C. Loehde; James Templeton second; Phillips third. Time, 3:51.

Single shell, novice—Won by J. M. Corbett Jr.; A. Johnson second. Time, 3:21.

Four oared gig, novice—Won by crew No. 1: Hoff, stroke; Mass, No. 3; Rose, No. 2; Collander, bow; Warhelm, coxswain. Time, 3:44.

Single shells, juniors—Won by E. Fise; G. Green second. Time, 3:10.

Four oared shells—Won by seniors; E. Fise, stroke; J. Gollen, No. 3; E. Koof, No. 2; F. Heines, bow.

BABY RELIANCE BOATS TAKE SPEED HONORS AT DAVENPORT

New York Speedster Owned by J. Stuart Blacklon and J. J. Ryan's Craft Win Fast Events.

BY H. COLE ESTEP.

Davenport, Ia., July 4.—[Special.]—It was all Reliance at the opening day's races of the Mississippi Valley Power Boat association at Davenport. Two boats bearing this name were entered—Baby Reliance, with an eight cylinder engine, owned by Commodore J. Stuart Blackton of New York, and Baby Reliance III., with a twelve cylinder motor, owned by J. J. Ryan of Algonac, Mich. Both are only twenty feet long and showed wonderful bursts of speed.

Baby Reliance won in the twenty and thirty-two foot class races. In one five mile lap it made the round in 8:04, a rate of thirty-seven miles per hour. This speed was exceeded only four times last year by larger boats. In the thirty-two foot class race Baby Reliance made twenty miles in 35 minutes.

Slow time, however, was made in the twenty foot class event, which was first number on the program. Five boats started and Baby Reliance III., piloted by J. J. Ryan, took first, making the fifteen miles in 34:16 2-3, about 4 minutes slower than the average time for this distance at previous regattas. Neither Baby Reliance was opened up and they both loafed on the course to allow [illegible]

LANSING FEATURE TO QUEEN WORTHY

Scores Victory in Straight Heats, Easily Defeating Lord Guyton.

THREE IN ROW FOR ANVIL.

Speeder, Driven by Geers, Shows Heels to Three Others in 2:08 Trotter Class.

BY HENRY TEN EYCK WHITE.

Lansing, Mich., July 4.—[Special.]—Two trotters which performed with a show of class as well as speed showed up today, one of them, Queen Worthy, which is an M. and M. horse, and also is in the $10,000 trot at Grand Rapids, winning the 2:24 trot with ease.

The other, the chunky little stallion Anvil played with the 2:08 trotters in slow time.

There was considerable talk about Lord Guyton, it being claimed he would trot three heats in 2:12 or better in the 2:24 purse, but when it came to doing the trick and the stallion tried to step away with Queen Worthy she took all the run out of him by a half mile in 1:06¼, finishing as she liked in 2:14½.

Onward Todd beat Guyton for the place in the second mile, the time being 2:15, but in the third round the Arion horse came back right well. This mile was in 2:11¾, because Murphy wanted to give his mare stiff work for coming engagements and not because the others were close at the finish.

Two to Run in Slow Classes.

It now seems certain the New York driver will start two horses in all the big slow class purses, as Director Todd, also in his string, is named in them, and is up to some 2:10 or better miles. Helen H. Connor, distanced in the first heat of the 2:24 trot, was later worked several miles, two of them faster than any in the race.

Anvil was a great trotter, his best heat, 2:08¾, being easy all the way, and Fair Maiden, driven by Dean, was the only one capable of making him go that fast. The Chicago driver upset the calculations of the best figurers when he beat Fanny Stanton, the top heavy favorite, in the 2:09 pace, with Molly Darling, the miles being 2:08¾, 2:09¾, 2:12¾. Fanny Stanton was unsteady and with her on a break in every heat Molly Darling had an easy win. After trying twice with Early Thacker and finding the job was a hopeless one, Geers rode easy in the third heat.

A lot of money was bet on the 2:06 pace, with the California stallion, Jim Logan, favorite over the field. It was figured by some that the Indiana mare, Gold Seal, was good enough to trim the far west horse, and she did get the verdict in the first heat, but the judges treated her a shade leniently, as she broke just before reaching the wire and finished only a nose in front, while Jim Logan was on his gait all the way.

Logan Takes Next Two Heats.

In the second mile Logan took the mare away from the wire at such a clip that she broke in the first sixteenth, and in the final one he led all the way by a small margin, Gold Seal giving up the fight inside the distance.

REFEREE VERDICT TO JACK JOHNSON; STOP BOUT IN 9TH

State Police Take Hand When Match Develops Into Rough House Affair.

NEGRO MASTER ALL THE WAY

Champion, Ever Smiling, Repulses Attack; Jim Flynn, Angered, Starts Butting Tactics.

FIREMAN SORRY SIGHT AFTER GO

BY T. S. ANDREWS.

East Las Vegas, N. M., July 4.—The battle between Jack Johnson and Jim Flynn for the world's heavyweight title came to a sudden end in the ninth round when Capt. Fornoff of the state police, personal representative at the ringside of Gov. McDonald, stepped into the ring and ordered the bout stopped. He based his action on the ground that it had developed from a boxing match into a rough house affair, principally through the butting tactics of Flynn.

Prior to starting the contest the men had agreed that if there should be any interference Referee Ed Smith should give a decision to the man having the better of it up to that time. When Capt. Fornour interfered Referee Smith immediately declared Johnson the winner. There was no argument about the decision.

The fight, as a matter of fact, was mostly Johnson's. The negro champion had Flynn at his mercy most of the time. Never did he appear in danger, althouhg there were times when Flynn would make a rush and spurt. His friends then would take heart and cut loose with yells for him to tear into the champion.

Johnson Offers a Target.

These yells had no effect on Johnson. The black even pushed out his stomach at times for Flynn to hit at, just to show the white what little chance he had when Johnson wanted to block him. Yet Flynn did hurt Johnson at times and in a long fight would have had a splendid chance.

Johnson fought just as he said he would before the battle. He took his time, let Flynn do the rushing at his pleasure, and countered with jolts, straight left hand jabs, and uppercuts with right and left until he had Flynn bleeding and bruised. Jack hit Flynn when and where he pleased. He never lost his head once, but used that left jab to Flynn's nose and mouth just to tantalize the latter and get him to rush into more straight lefts and uppercuts.

Flynn made the same mistake that Tommy Burns did in Australia. He tried to carry the fight to Johnson and rough it—just what the colored man wanted. Flynn had one chance and that was to act on the defensive and carry the fight along fifteen or twenty rounds to learn whether Jack could stand the pace.

Flynn Starts Rough Work.

After being stung a few times, Flynn threw all chances to the winds and tried to rough it with the hope of landing a body blow that might get the money. He might have known after the first two rounds that his only hope was to tire out the negro giant and then begin the roughing work.

Flynn claimed that Johnson held and apparently he did, but in many cases when the claim was made Johnson simply had Flynn blocked by putting gloved hands against Flynn's shoulders and holding him off at arm's length.

It was a case of the matador toying with the bull, for Johnson certainly toyed with Flynn. There is no denying that Flynn was as strong as a young bull and full of fight, but that is all the more reason why he should have reserved his strength and played to wear down the big fellow.

Johnson Always Smiling.

Throughout the battle Johnson was smiling. He evaded Flynn's attacks with the utmost ease whether the Pueblo man led with the hands of his head. Only once in the nine rounds did he show any wish to end the fight and yet ringside opinion was unanimous that he could have put Flynn out at any time he happened to fancy, whether in the first or the ninth round.

The champion opened up only once early in the fight, when Flynn landed his only good blows, right and left hooks to the jaw, delivered during a clinch. Johnson appeared nettled at his own carelessness and smashed a right uppercut through Flynn's guard which rocked the white man on his feet. Then the champion smiled again and went back to the monotonous delivering uppercuts in the clinches which reduced Flynn's face to a bloody mass in each round.

Apparently Johnson did not attempt to hit hard. He contented himself with a slow, steadily scientific chopping, every blow finding its way through the barricade of gloves and elbows behind which Flynn crouched.

Negro's Defense Perfect.

It was a perfect exhibition of guarding and hitting in the clinches as far as Johnson was concerned. Not a blow Flynn started reached him with any steam behind it. They were smothered or tossed aside unless Johnson chose to allow his opponent to batter away at his stomach, smiling the while over Flynn's shoulder.

When the fight was over there was not a mark on Johnson's body beyond a cut inside his lower lip which bled slightly for a few minutes. Immediately after the fight he hastened to the betting counter to collect his wagers. He drove away from the ringside in his automobile and was forced to address the crowd in the big room before he could leave for his camp.

Flynn was rushed to his camp from the arena. He was not hurt, cuts and bruises on his face being the only damage.

When the men entered the ring at 2:45 o'clock it was apparent that Flynn was the favorite with the crowd, for his appearance was the signal for a demonstration almost as great as Jim Jeffries received at Reno. Johnson received the plaudits of only a few friends, but that satisfied smile was ever present, while Flynn appeared all business.

No Handshake at Start.

With the call of time Flynn called over from his corner: "Shall we shake hands?" Johnson replied that it made no difference, so there was no handshake.

Flynn rushed almost immediately and Jack made him miss. Even in this round Flynn butted and was warned by the referee. Johnson then came boring in and uppercut fiercely with his right, drawing first blood from a blow to the cheek. Jack smiled at Flynn as he went along and toyed with him as a cat would with a mouse.

That wonderful left of Johnson's played havoc with Flynn's face in the second, for he jabbed the white man a dozen times without a return. When Flynn would rush he would hold him off with his long left or hold him in a viselike grip in a clinch, to suit himself. It was this that Flynn claimed was holding. If Jack did hold it was cleverly executed. Flynn's short reach would not permit him to land a blow from any distance, and when he got in close, Johnson nearly always had him blocked.

Johnson Bleeds from Mouth.

In the third Flynn drew blood from Johnson's mouth, having started a fever sore on the mouth to bleeding with a right overhand jolt while in a clinch. This was the best round Flynn had. He set a terrific pace, sending in many body blows, and the way Johnson blocked after that would indicate that the body blows had considerable effect.

It also had the effect of getting Jack roiled, for he cut loose in the next round and made Flynn take a lot of punishment, driving him to the ropes with hard right uppercuts and left jolts. Still with all this bruising Flynn appeared fresh at the bell, showing that he possessed wonderful stamina.

Flynn started the fifth with a rush and reached Jack's neck with a nastly left hook, but the colored man sidestepped and began that tantalizing left jab on Jim's nose and eyes again. Then to show that he was the master, he leaned over Flynn's shoulder and laughed at his seconds while he tapped him on the back of the head. It was here that Flynn began yelling at the referee to "make him stop holding." The referee warned both men and before the round ended Jim had taken another bunch of punishment.

Protests Against Holding.

Flynn kept calling in the sixth to make Johnson stop holding, and with the seconds of both men walking just outside the ropes along the outside of the ring the excitement became intense. The crowd thought Johnson was being hurt by Jim and howled like mad for the fireman to finish him, but the negro only smiled and jabbed Jim after he had been warned for butting.

Johnson punished the Pueblo man badly in the seventh, driving his left to Jim's face and making him bleed at the nose. The eighth began to have the appearance of the end, for Flynn kept butting and the referee kept warning him. It could not go long that way and many could see the end approaching, for it was evident Flynn was determined to rough it and take a chance of getting away with it. Johnson was sore, too, and drove home some nasty right uppercuts and left hooks.

With the start of the ninth, Johnson said to the referee: "This man is butting and fouling. I thought you would be fairer to me."

The referee evidently was about to give the verdict to Johnson on a foul, for he could not have done otherwise the way things were going, when the captain of police stepped into the arena and said: "This bout is off. It has got beyond a boxing match and is now a roughhouse."

Referee Smith was soon surrounded by a crowd, but he gave the decision to Johnson without the least hesitation.

Johnson Leaves Las Vegas.

Jack Johnson got away tonight on the limited, having booked his reservations in San Francisco. Johnson was jubilant over what he termed an easy victory. "But I would rather have had it on a knockout," said "Lil Artha." "I have had many offers for vaudeville dates in the east, and also to box in New York, and probably will accept one with Palzer, if terms are right. Then it will be off for Australia. The sooner the better for me."

After the fight some claimed Flynn was justified in roughing it on account of Johnson holding, while others could see no cause for Flynn's tactics and said the ending served him right. The crowds did not linger long, but left on the first trains, and by 11 o'clock few fans were here who came into town yesterday and today.

There was considerable kicking over the decision when the police captain interfered, but Referee Smith could do nothing else, as the men had requested that a verdict be given in case of interference.

The attendance was given at 3,200 and the receipts at $27,000, with a loss of $22,000.

STATEMENTS AFTER FIGHT

East Las Vegas, N. M., July 4.—[Special.]—Statements made after the fight by the principals and the referee follow:

JACK JOHNSON—Flynn is a tough fellow and hard for any one to whip, but he might have done much better had he fought a clean battle. He butted repeatedly and fouled. I never felt myself in danger at any time, and certainly was not hurt by his body blows, as he imagined. Why, I let him hit me purposely in one round to prove that he could not hurt me there. He was stronger than I expected, but never dangerous. I will let Sam McVey and Sam Langford show which is better and then go to Australia to meet the winner.

JIM FLYNN—That big smoke can't stop me in fifty rounds. He held me continually in clinches. He is clever at the trick and got away with it, the same as he did with Tommy Burns. He cannot hit hard enough to stop me, and I would have worn him down before the twentieth round. He got me sore by holding me and I lost my temper and tried to retaliate for what he was doing to me. In the sixth round I had him weak, and he knows it. He is afraid to meet me in a private go, or any other kind, and I will furnish my own side bet.

REFEREE ED SMITH—Flynn was given every consideration possible. He butted continually after I had warned him, and refused to heed the advice of his own men. Johnson may have held at times, but it was done so cleverly that he could hardly be reprimanded for it, although I did warn him against any such work. Flynn knows better, and there was no excuse for his actions. He might have been disqualified in the seventh round had I drawn the lines closely, but I was anxious to give the people who came hundreds of miles to see the battle a chance for their money.

LOSE $22,000 ON TITLE BOUT; JACK JOHNSON GIVEN $31,100.

Promoters Hit Hard by Las Vegas Fight, Which Draws $27,000 Gate—Flynn an Ingrate, Says Greiner.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

East Las Vegas, N. M., July 4.—[Special.]—Art Greiner of Chicago, the former auto racer, who was interested in the venture with Curley, was bitter against Flynn for losing in the manner he did and did not mince his words.

"Flynn had a chance to make good," said Greiner, "but he did not prove equal to the occasion in any particular. He not only fought a foul fight, but spoiled the pictures for us by his uncalled for work.

"The pictures were the only chance we had to get even. Flynn acted the part of an ingrate, while Johnson acted the part of a gentleman.

"We lost $22,000 on the venture. Up to noon today we had taken in a little over $20,000, but we paid Johnson his $31,100 in full. The total was $27,000. I am only sorry that the fight was not a better one. We had knockers from the start to the last, and probably they are now satisfied."

JOE MANDOT WHIPS TEMPLE IN SUDDEN CHANGE OF FORM.

New Orleans Fighter, Defeated by Milwaukee Man Not Long Ago, Turns Tables at Memphis.

Memphis, Tenn., July 4.—[Special.]—Joe Mandot of New Orleans defeated Ray Temple of Milwaukee in the Phoenix A. C. arena this afternoon by winning almost every round of their eight round bout. They had met a few weeks ago, when Temple gave Mandot a severe beating, but the boxers stripped today in different condition, with Temple showing lack of form and Mandot in the best of shape.

There were no knockdowns, but plenty of blood was spilled. Temple started the blood to flowing from Mandot's mouth in the second round, but Mandot fought furiously thereafter and had Temple bleeding in the closing rounds.

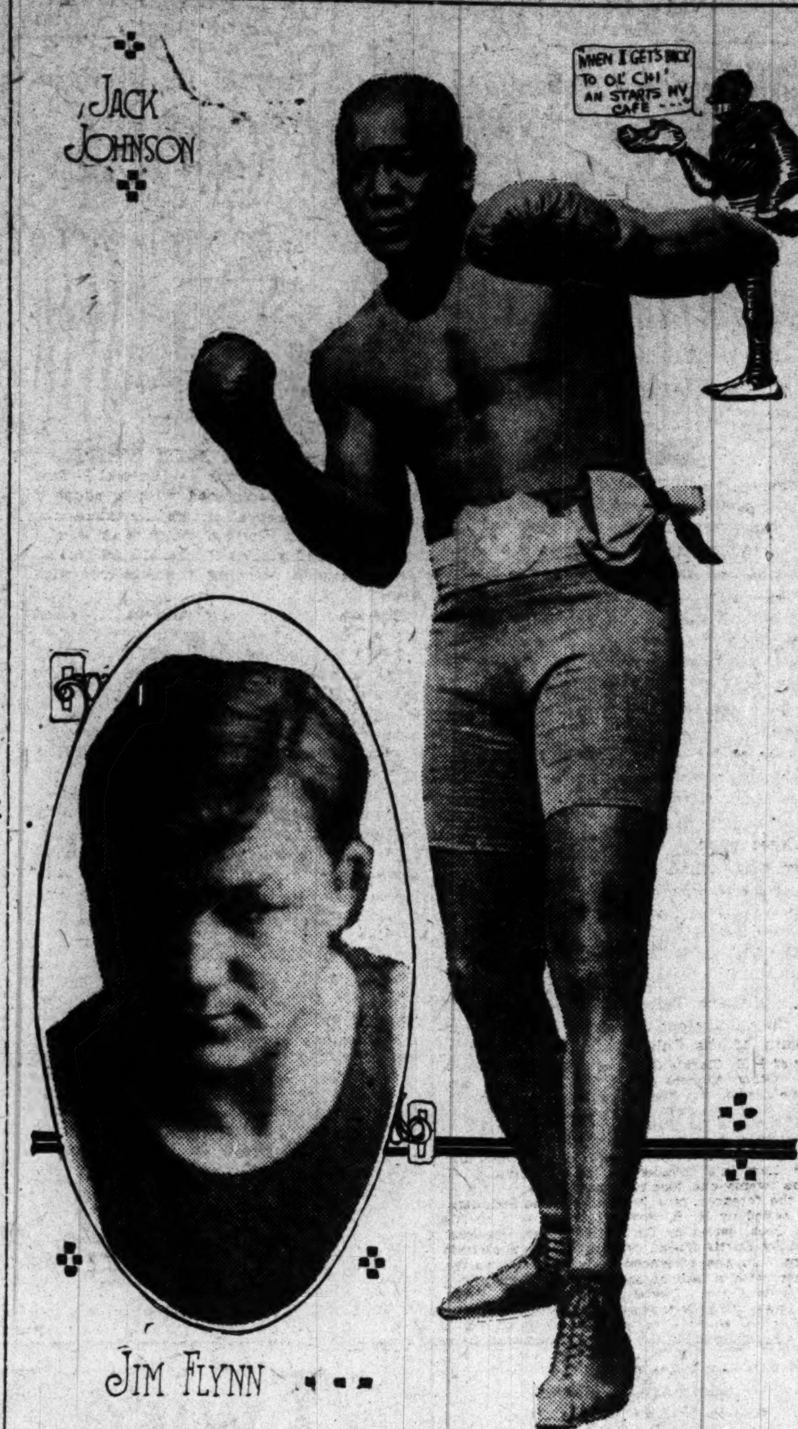

The second round was Temple's best round. Thereafter he seemed to tire and his admirers charged that he was not in the best of condition. His manager, Frank Mulkern, was not in his corner and his showing was a big disappointment to the sports, who had backed him liberally to repeat his victory over Mandot of a few weeks ago.

JACK DILLON STOPS THOMAS.

Referee Ends Terre Haute Battle in Eighth Round to Save Loser from Punishment.

Terre Haute, Ind., July 4.—[Special.]—Jack Dillon stopped Joe Thomas at White City park tonight, only the action of Referee McLaughlin saving Thomas from a knockout. In the eighth round Dillon sent Thomas to the mat for the count of nine. Thomas staggered to his feet, but received another staggering blow on the jaw and went down again. It appeared to be a clean knockout, but the referee stopped the bout and awarded the fight to Dillon. Jack was two pounds heavier than Thomas, but no complaint was made. He led the fighting from the start, the pace beginning to tell on Thomas in the seventh. Dillon forced his advantage and sent Joe through the ropes. Thomas came up weak in the eighth and went down at the first stiff jolt.

Negro Champion; Defeated 'White Hope'

Johnson-Flynn Fight by Rounds.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

FIRST ROUND—"Will you shake hands, Jack?" queried Flynn as he opened the battle by rushing into a clinch. "No," retorted the black. Flynn kept in close, but Johnson easily avoided his attempts and flung a stiff left to the ear. The champion pushed his man across the ring and hooked his left to the ear, and a moment later flung a hard short arm jolt to the jaw. Johnson smiled constantly and fought with great care. Flynn backed the negro against the ropes, and the champion rewarded him with a right that cut a deep gash under his left eye. Round all Johnson's.

SECOND ROUND—As Flynn rushed Johnson simply grasped him about the shoulders and held him at bay, all the while grinning like an ape. The champion pecked at the fireman's face with light lefts and as they clinched uppercut twice heavily with rights to the jaw. The champion toyed with Flynn, twice more shooting right uppercuts to the jaw, one of which sent the fireman's head bobbing. The champion early indicated it was to be a battle of words as well as of blows, time and again exchanging his usual repartee with the spectators. Flynn's mouth bled as he took his seat, much worsted during the three minutes of fighting in this round.

THIRD ROUND—Flynn cut short a remark of Johnson by twice hooking his right to the jaw. This nettled the black and he cut loose with short arm uppercuts to the jaw. Johnson bled slightly from the mouth as he emerged from a midring mixup, but Flynn spat blood in a stream as the champion cut his mouth with a volley of rights and lefts.

FOURTH ROUND—Flynn rushed in close and was met with the customary rain of right and left upper cuts to the face. At that time it seemed as if the champion was holding himself in check. He shook Flynn with a few stomach taps, scarcely trying to protect his body from Flynn's attacks. Johnson constantly shoved his stomach and invited him to blaze away, which convulsed the spectators. Flynn elicited a great cheer when he rushed the black to the ropes and planted a solid left to the jaw. The round ended with Flynn's face covered with blood. Johnson's round.

FIFTH ROUND—Johnson turned his head to the spectators and hardly noticed his white antagonist. Flynn banged away at the stomach, but this time Johnson covered up and shot four lefts to the face in quick succession, varying it with a left uppercut to the jaw. Flynn, at close range, sent half a dozen punches to the stomach, but Johnson only smiled and made no apparent attempt to protect his midsection. Johnson aroused the crowd to merriment by releasing Flynn's hold and clapping his own gloves together like a happy schoolgirl. "I can't fight while he's holding me," shouted Flynn, protesting to the referee. The round ended then, with Johnson holding a running conversation with his wife and seconds.

SIXTH ROUND—Flynn butted with his head three times and complained that Johnson made it justifiable by holding him. Flynn was severely reprimanded for deliberately butting the champion, and it looked as if he was seeking a loophole to stem the beating being administered by the black. Johnson dazzled the fireman with his speed, landing left and right to the face, and Flynn again was warned for butting. This time the champion objected strenuously. "He's holding me," was Flynn's excuse. Johnson, maddened, landed a volley of straight left and right punches to the face, fairly bewildering Flynn. Then he stopped himself, apparently with a view to prolonging the contest. Flynn's seconds also warned him to cease butting when he came to his corner.

SEVENTH ROUND—Johnson landed fully a dozen rapid fire rights and lefts to the fireman's face, and at the same time placed himself in a position to withstand Flynn's butting tactics. "Wait a minute," cried the champion to a spectator, who had shouted for him to end it. Flynn bled profusely from the nose as Johnson beat a healthy tattoo with left and right to that organ. Flynn failed to land a glove on the champion, the black's defense proving impregnable. Johnson made the blood fairly spurt as he rained blow after blow on his bewildered opponent. There was not a drop of blood on the champion as he took his seat.

EIGHTH ROUND—Flynn again tried to butt, and was warned. The round was much like its preceding ones, with Johnson uppercutting and Flynn butting viciously and at the same time losing a world of blood. Flynn was helpless in the champion's hands, and for the tenth time in this round was warned by the referee, who added: "Once more and I'll disqualify you." Johnson held the fireman at arm's length.

NINTH ROUND—Johnson held the fireman at arm's length in an attempt to guard himself against the fireman's constant butting. Flynn finally got in close, jumped a foot in the air, and landed with the top of his head against the negro's jaw. Captain of Police Cowles, realizing that the referee seemed loath to end the contest on a foul, jumped into the ring and brought the battle to an end. Referee Smith thereupon gave the decision to Johnson. Johnson was given a terrific cheer while the crowd wended its way out.

"BLACK BELT" HAS DELIRIUM OVER VICTORY OF JOHNSON.

Mob of Thousands Gathers in Streets and Police Are Compelled to Disperse Parade of Negroes.

From 5 to 6 o'clock last evening a "sane Fourth" was turned into a delirium of joy in the center of the "black belt," at Thirty-first and State streets. The occasion was the outcome of the Johnson-Flynn battle at Las Vegas.

The first "flash" announcing Jack Johnson had won in nine rounds was the signal for beginning a celebration that gathered in size like a dark hued snowball rolling down hill on a thawing day.

Returns of the fight were received in every café, show house, and saloon in the district, which accounts for the fact that every one, apparently, learned of Johnson's victory at the same time. Out into State street they poured, all of one color. From Dearborn street and Armour avenue they came also, the latter crowd the most demonstrative of them all.

While State street at Thirty-first street fairly swarmed with Johnson admirers, an impromptu parade was quickly organized. Automobiles, cabs, and even wagons were impressed into service. Those who could get nothing to ride marched on foot. Conspicuous among the latter was a dusky person carrying a curtain pole, to which he had attached a frying pan and a side of bacon, typifying "bringing home the bacon."

Mrs. Tiny Johnson, the champion's mother, and other near relatives of the fighter received the news of his victory at the Grand theater, Thirty-first and State streets. Before the result came in, pictures showing Johnson and Flynn preparing for the battle were thrown on the screen.

Former Champion Shows Old Time Form in Fast Ten Round Fight in Tacoma Arena.

Tacoma, Wash., July 4.—Abe Attel showed his old time form last night by defeating Eddie Marino in ten rounds of fast boxing in which the former champion led all the way. Marino retreated around the ring, giving Attel small chance to land effectively.

M'GOORTY DEFEATS KNOCKOUT BROWN

Sheriff Stops Bout in Tenth Round and Arrests Referee and Principals

GREEK RALLIES AT END.

Oshkosh Boxer Nearly Scores Victory in Early Sessions; Uses Poor Judgment.

BY WALTER H. ECKERSALL.

Benton Harbor, Mich., July 4.—[Special.]—Eddie McGoorty of Oshkosh, Wis., won a clean cut victory over George ["Knockout"] Brown, the Chicago Greek. Brown, however, must be given credit for gameness and ability to take punishment under adverse conditions.

Sheriff Johnson jumped into the ring and stopped the fight in the tenth round. He immediately placed the fighters and Referee Floyd Fitzsimmons under arrest for violation of the Michigan boxing statutes. The sheriff acted upon instructions from the governor, who gave orders the contest be stopped the moment it ceased to be a boxing bout. A test case will be made, as the promoters want to match McGoorty with Howard Morrow for Labor day.

In the fourth round McGoorty landed a short right uppercut to the point of Brown's jaw. The Greek went to the canvas for the count of eight. Although McGoorty tried hard for a knockout, he was unable to land. In this round the Badger displayed his poorest ring judgment.

McGoorty Scores Knockdown.

McGoorty also knocked Brown down for the eight count after the third round was only thirty seconds old. With two minutes and thirty seconds yet remaining, Eddie made the fatal error of going after his opponent too fast, instead of measuring his man and then cutting loose. At the end of the round McGoorty apparently was as tired as Brown, who began a great uphill battle from that point.

Brown's recuperative powers were so great that in the last round he stood toe to toe with McGoorty and exchanged wallops. In this session Eddie received a few hard right swings to the stomach. As he attempted to retaliate for one he missed a hard left swing and slipped on the ropes. He was up instantly. Then Sheriff Johnson stopped the fight.

The fighters made the stipulated weight, 158 pounds, at 10 o'clock. Brown was two pounds under the notch, while McGoorty saved his forfeit by a few ounces.

A crowd of 3,500 boxing fans sat under a sweltering sun in the House of David baseball park, which has been used for professional games all year. Before the principals entered the ring challenges to the winner were read from George Carpenter, Jimmy Clabby, and Howard Morrow.

Story of Fight by Rounds.

The story of the fight by rounds follows:

FIRST ROUND—McGoorty put a light left to the face and Brown missed a right swing for the body and Eddie then put two lefts to the nose. The Greek was wild and could not land effectively, while McGoorty shot in tantalizing lefts to the right eye and nose. It was McGoorty's round.

SECOND ROUND—The Oshkosh miller caught the Chicago boy on the point of the jaw with a left hook as Brown was coming in. The blow jarred Brown considerably, but he came back for more. The Greek played for the stomach and kidneys and hammered a tattoo on Eddie's back whenever they went to a clinch. McGoorty missed several right uppercuts in the closing stages of the round and Brown put light lefts to the face. McGoorty's round.

THIRD ROUND—McGoorty put a left hook to the jaw and kept putting lefts on Brown's right eye, which soon took on a ruddy hue. Brown put a right hook to the jaw, which was the first good blow he landed. He followed this up by rushing McGoorty to the ropes, but the latter more than met him half way. In one of his attempts to land the Greek missed a terrific left swing for the jaw and nearly fell out of the ring at the bell. McGoorty's round.

FOURTH ROUND—Brown rushed and put rights and lefts to the stomach and kidneys. As they went into a clinch at the breakaway McGoorty shot in a short right uppercut to the jaw and Brown took the count of eight. He regained his feet and by perfect blocking and judgment weathered the storm. It was all McGoorty's round.

FIFTH ROUND—Brown came back strong and game and rushed McGoorty to the ropes with a volley of rights and lefts to the body. McGoorty countered with right uppercuts and short left hooks and soon took the dash out of Brown. Just before the bell McGoorty shot over a right cross which rocked the Greek's head. McGoorty's round.

SIXTH ROUND—They met in a clinch at the center of the ring. As they broke each put rights and lefts to the head. Brown put a hard right to the stomach and McGoorty came back with a left hook to the jaw. McGoorty had a shade.

SEVENTH ROUND—An exchange of rights and lefts to the body followed a clinch on the ropes. A right hook to Brown's left eye tore off some skin and caused the blood to flow. They put light lefts to the face in the remaining punches of any consequence. Honors even.

EIGHTH ROUND—Brown began to come strong and went after his opponent in whirlwind fashion, but McGoorty always met him with straight lefts which straightened up the Greek and stopped his attacks. The Badger city fighter put light lefts to the face and Brown cut McGoorty's lip by accidentally butting him. McGoorty had a shade.

NINTH ROUND—Brown put left and right swings to the jaw and McGoorty went to a clinch. The Greek played for the body and wind, but Eddie did not appear anxious to send home any returns. It was Brown's round.

TENTH ROUND—After shaking hands they darted at each other and slammed away with both hands. Brown put in some stiff rights to the body. McGoorty in attempting a right swing missed and slipped to the canvas. As he arose Sheriff Johnson leaped upon the platform and stopped the mill and placed the principals under arrest. Brown had a slight advantage in this round up to the time the fight was stopped.

In the first preliminary Young Jack Johnson of Kenosha and Red Lane of Benton Harbor fought a four round draw. In the six round semi-windup "Young" Sweeney of Chicago Heights defeated "Young" Shirley of Indianapolis.

KILBANE BESTS TOMMY DIXON IN FAST BOUT AT CLEVELAND.

Featherweight Champion Finds Southern Boxer a Hard Proposition, but Earns Popular Verdict.

Cleveland, O., July 4.—[Special.]—Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion, ably defended his title by earning a decision over Tommy Dixon in a twelve round battle here tonight at the Luna Park Motordrome. Although Kilbane did not have a walkaway, he clearly outpointed his opponent, having the better of the going in a majority of the rounds.

Dixon shone at long range work and gave a good account of himself. He was aggressive throughout and gave a clever exhibition of foot work and feinting. However, he could not solve Kilbane's defense and received a great deal of punishment. Kilbane drew first blood, cutting Dixon's mouth in the fourth round. Fully 5,000 people attended the bout, among them being several hundred women. The fight was delayed almost two hours by the crowd rushing the gate and breaking down part of the fence around the arena.

At the start the two men felt each other out at long range, both showing great proficiency at this department of the game. The early rounds were mostly all Kilbane's. He peppered Dixon's head with a dazzling succession of left and right jabs, and seemed to have his opponent in distress. Several times he rocked Dixon's head with jabs to the jaw, and in the clinches did much execution with uppercuts. As the bout wore on Dixon gained in speed and did some clever blocking and punching on his own account. In the fifth particularly Dixon blocked Kilbane's leads, taking the Clevelander's blows on his arms, and shot lefts and rights to the body. Up to this time Dixon had been doing most of the rushing, but in the sixth Kilbane changed his tactics, and several times rushed his man to the ropes. He landed some telling face blows and several smashes to the stomach, one of which Dixon claimed was foul.

Kilbane had the better of the last three rounds.

CUBANS FORFEIT TO GIANTS

Umpire Awards Victory in Second Game to Colored Nine.

VISITORS TAKE FIRST, 19-4.

With two men out in the eighth, Umpire Goeckel forfeited the second game of the Chicago Giants-Cubans double header at American Giants' park to the former team by the score of 9 to 0. The first game was won by the Cubans in six innings in easy fashion, 19 to 4, the game being called by agreement. The trouble started in the second game when Goeckel called Moran out for interference at the plate on a throw to catch Chacon stealing.

The Cuban manager, Moline, who was not in uniform, rushed onto the field, and the police had to eject him, his men following him and refusing to continue play. The score when the trouble occurred was 2 to 0 in favor of the Chicago Giants, Crawford holding the Cubans to one lone single in the eight innnings. Score:

SPONGE SAVES PHIL HARRISON.

Harry Donahue Administers Severe Beating to Adversary in Fight at Peoria.

Peoria, Ill., July 4.—Phil Harrison's seconds tossed the sponge into the ring in the ninth round of a scheduled ten round bout with Harry Donahue of Pekin before the Social Athletic club here this afternoon. The Chicago fighter was knocked down twice in the ninth round. In the preliminaries "Young" Senet of Moline scored a knockout in the third round over "Young" Atwood of Peoria. "Young" Griffo of Chicago was forced to take the count by Jack Loomis of Peoria in the third round of a six round bout.

VERDICT TO TOMMIE O'KEEFE.

Philadelphia Fighter Given Decision Over Frank Whitney in Fast Bout at Atlanta.

Atlanta, Ga., July 4.—[Special.]—Tommie O'Keefe of Philadelphia was awarded the decision over Frank Whitney of Cedar Rapids, Ia., at the end of ten rounds of fast, furious, head to head fighting tonight. O'Keefe won on his infighting, Whitney being the more effective at long range. Several times O'Keefe had Whitney in bad shape, and a knockout seemed probable. O'Keefe realized Whitney's skill at long range and fought at close quarters, where he was greatly the superior of his antagonist.

Ferns and Magirl Draw.

Dewey, Okla., July 4.—Clarence Ferns of Kansas City and Art Magirl of Bartlesville fought a fifteen round draw here this afternoon without the anticipated interference of state authorities. Capt. Arthur of the state militia was at the ringside with a detachment of soldiers, but didn't deem that the fight passed the legal line between boxing and prizefighting. Ferns was the aggressor, but was twice floored.

GOTCH SECURES TWO SANE FALLS

Mat Champion Celebrates by Flopping Joseph Smejkal in 7:20 and 4:55.

CROWD FILLS COLISEUM.

Bohemian Proves No Match for Title Holder, Who Always Has Situation in Hand.

BY HAMMERLOCK.

Frank Gotch, champion of all wrestling champions, scored an easy victory over Joseph Smejkal, Bohemian wrestling champion, at the Coliseum yesterday in a match billed for the title, but which because of its one-sidedness far from resembled it. The Iowa farmer gained the first fall in 7:20 with a hammerlock and the second in 4:55 with a hammerlock followed by a crotch hold. About 6,000 spectators were present.

That Gotch never took the bout seriously for a single minute was shown throughout by his inquiries to the press stand for returns from the Flynn-Johnson fight. Never for a moment was he in distress and during the 12:15 of grappling was always on the offensive. Both falls could have been completed in shorter time had the champion cared to exert himself.

The much feared toe hold was used by Gotch only once. He applied the brakes on Smejkal's left leg early in the first fall, but when he saw the Bohemian in distress he released the hold and slipped into something else.

Easy Falls for Gotch.

Both feinted for an opening for the first three minutes, but neither gained an advantage. Gotch secured several holds but Smejkal slipped out of them. After five minutes of nose rubbing and butting the champion made a dash for Smejkal's left leg, throwing him to the mat. Immediately the Iowa farmer tried for a toe hold, but gave up this style of attack. After six minutes Gotch secured a hammerlock on the left arm. Slowly but surely wrenching it Gotch twisted the arm under Smejkal. The Bohemian appeared to be suffering all the tortures accompanying such holds. A few seconds more and Gotch won the first fall in 7:20.

Smejkal protested to Referee Cermak, but the alderman turned a deaf ear. Then he proceeded to demonstrate that his shoulders never were on the mat. The crowd jeered at him and he left the ring in a rage.

There wasn't much to the second fall. Gotch entered the ring smiling and retained that same composure throughout. In less than two minutes the champion had the Bohemian on the defensive.

After four minutes Gotch slipped into a hammerlock and then proceeded to pin Smejkal's shoulders to the mat, gradually working into a crotch and releasing the hammerlock. This was accomplished in 4:55.

Vincent Creates Scene.

A bit of melodrama was injected in the proceedings following the first and only fall of the Marvin Plestine-Ilia Vincent fiasco. Packey McFarland, who refereed the bout, gave it to Plestine when the latter put the Cuban's shoulders to the mat in twenty minutes with a half nelson and scissor on body.

Vincent, angered by the loss of the fall, rushed after Packey, but thought twice before acting rashly. He appealed to the press and the spectators at the ringside, claiming he was robbed, shouting "Robber, thief!" at the top of his voice. Rushing out of the ring, he dashed madly throughout the crowd, threatening several spectators who jeered and hissed him. Finally the police took a hand and led the Cuban to his dressing room.

There were enough preliminaries for a most portentous wrestling card. Joe Somolek, champion of something won a two fall bout from Frank Lander, champion of somethinng else, in 15:30 and 12:00.

Three bouts were necessary to give Minich, sold to be the Assyrian title holder, the victory over Christopher, termed Chicago's lightweight champion. Christopher won the first in 5:00, Minich took the second in 13:30 and the third in 5:30.

Mike Mack won his bout with Joe Soldak in 4:10 and 7:00.

DECIDE JUNIOR TENNIS TITLE.

Dorgen and Willey Take Honors in the Doubles—Rain Stops Final Match in Singles.

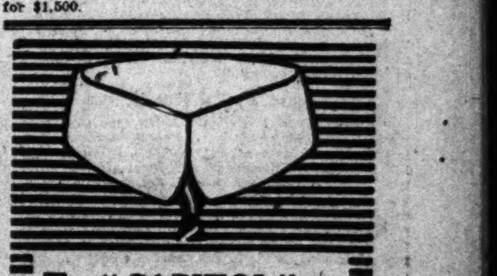

Dorgen and Willey won the city junior tennis championship from Rader and Nelson in the third annual tournament held at Hebrew institute yesterday. The scores were 4-6, 6-0, 8-1, 6-3. Rain interrupted the final in the singles with Lindauer and Weber tied, each having won two sets. Lindauer won the first two sets, 6-3 and 6-2, but fell off in the next two, which he lost to Weber, 2-6, 1-6. Weber had won four straight games in the decisive set when rain interfered. Following a precedent which was established under similar conditions in the city tournament at Aztec last year the two will play the final set on Saturday morning.

Yingling caved in under the excessive heat in the fourth and had to be assisted off the field. Ragon finished strong for Brooklyn.

Wiltse was hit hard in the early innings of the second game, while Stack was effective in every inning but the fourth, when New York bunched three of its hits for its two runs. Scores:

Other winners in the athletic contests were Bob Talbert in the boys' 75 yard dash; Miss Zernek, girls' 75 yard dash; Clyde Palmer, 100 yard dash; Miss Christopher, women's race; Varnadore and Lange tied in the bunt and run; Jimmy Kerns circling the bases; Duffy, accurate throwing; E. TALE 4 - THE ROYAL MAGICIAN

"WHAT tricks are you going to do for us?" asked the Kink, when they brought before him the Royal Magician.

"A mighty stunt, your majesty," proudly answered the man of tricks. "I shall grow from a turkey's wishbone a box of Turkish Trophies."

"And a lucky thing for you that you didn't do the trick backwards," said the Kink, as he borrowed a light from the Royal Torch Carrier.

SOX DIVIDE CARD WITH CLEVELAND

Masterly Hurling by Peters Brings Victory in Morning Game, 2 to 1.

NAPS GET SECOND, 9 TO 4.

Six Runs in First Round Give the Visitors Early Lead; Callahan Star Batter.

BY SAM WELLER.

An even break in the baseball honors of the day was the best the White Sox could do yesterday against the Cleveland huskies on the south side park. The Sox were in favor of celebrating the Fourth in a sane manner, and took the morning game by the count of 2 to 1. Cleveland was opposed to the modern sane methods, and went wild in the first inning of the afternoon contest, scoring six runs in jig time and finally winning, 9 to 4.

Everything else about the day's celebration was sane. There was a fine crowd of about 8,000 persons out for the morning entertainment, and in the afternoon about 15,000 were present. Every one sweltered in the heat, for the balmy southwest breeze had no chance to break through Mr. Comiskey's walls of concrete. There was no shooting of pistols or cannon crackers when a home run would make a base hit, as in the olden days and it was more like a Sunday afternoon than the glorious Fourth of July.

Hurlers' Battle in Morning.

The morning game was a dandy tussle. The Sox got two runs in the first round while the Cleveland boys indulged in some wonderful but wild throwing of the ball. After the first inning fit, the Naps settled down and played regular baseball, batting in one run in the eighth and coming close to getting two more. Young Chink Mattick saved the game for Chicago with a marvelous running catch of a line drive that seemed about to hit the center field wall on the fly.

Rube Peters, who has experienced many pitching difficulties of late, was the hurler for the Sox and returned to his top form. Most of the time he was invulnerable and set the slugging Clevelanders down as fast as they faced him. His deceptive fadeaway was fading most excellently and when the Naps did rally in the late rounds and threaten to break up the contest Peters' mates came to his rescue with some classy and sparkling fielding. Mr. Blanding, one of the sturdy right handed flingers of the Naps, opposed Peters on the mound.

The afternoon game practically was played in the first inning. At least nearly everything happened in that first round that one usually sees in a whole game. George Mogridge, the slender southpaw, was picked to oppose Vean Gregg, the star left hander of the Naps. Mogridge got the first man out in regular fashion and then the Naps went into a tantrum.

Seven Hits in First Round.

Before the third man could be retired, they had made seven base hits, one a triple and one a double; they had turned the trick of stealing home, Art Griggs, famed as the laziest man in the big league, being the thief; they had driven Mogridge from the mound, Jordan being substituted for him and they had executed a perfect squeeze play. That should be about enough baseball for the price of admission, but no one went home, apparently all the fans thinking that the Callahans might rally and still win.

They did rally nicely in the eighth inning, but by this time the Naps had three more runs, so the three counted by the Sox in their rally didn't cut much figure. They made another effort to revive in the ninth, but were cut off after one run had come in. Gregg, who has always been a hoodoo to the White Sox, was hit harder by the south siders than at any previous time, but his luck had kept him out of any great danger. The Sox bagged twelve safe swats all told, four of them belonging to Manager Callahan, but it would have taken about another dozen to have overhauled the Naps.

The sturdy pitching of Peters and the wild throwing of Easterly and Birmingham featured the morning game. The latter feature took place in the first inning and gave the Sox their two runs. Peters had set the Naps down nicely in the first, then Rath opened for the Sox with an infield single. Without waiting to see what Lord would do, Rath stole second and Easterly's throw went to center field. Rath picked himself up and dashed for third utterly regardless of the famous throwing arm of Birmingham. The latter scooped the ball and fired toward third base and he hit the Sox bench, thereby proving his arm is as good as ever, but the throw let Rath come on home.

Easterly Lets Collins Score.

Lord died on a ground ball, then Collins belted a single to center. He followed Rath's example and stole second and again Easterly heaved the ball to the outfield. This time it caromed off of Olson's glove and before it could be recovered Collins was sprinting clear home. Bodie popped out and Mattick walked, but was thrown out at second when he tried to steal.

These two runs were all the Sox could put over the plate during the game. They threatened several times to add to them, but three times their attack was broken by double plays.

The Naps struggled desperately against Peter's fadeaway and without success until the eighth, then they combined three singles with a base on balls and got one run out of the mess. They would have had more only Lord blocked a man off third base with his foot until he had time to tag him.

Birmingham opened the eighth with a single to left and Turner walked. Blanding died on a pop fly, then with Ryan at bat Birmingham and Turner tried a double steal. Birmingham beat the ball to third base, but Capt. Lord had his foot between Birmingham and the bag and held him off till he got the ball and tagged him. The umpire promptly called him out and Birmingham raised a cry that he was ordered out of the game. Ryan then made a single, scoring Turner from second. Olson also singled, sending Ryan to second, but Jackson died on a fly ball and the round ended.

Mattick's Catch Saves Day.

In the ninth the Naps would have still tied the score had not Chink Mattick been fleet of foot. One was out when Griggs walked. Easterly followed with a terrific drive just a bit to right center and Mattick captured the ball after a wonderful run. Hostello, who subbed for Birmingham, struck out and the game was over.

The big fireworks of the afternoon game took place before all of the spectators were in their seats. One was out when Olson singled to left. Jackson followed with a two base drive to left center and Olson raced all the way home. Lajoie singled to left and Jackson scored. Mogridge then made a wild pitch and Lajoie took second. Griggs hit one on the nose over Mattick's head for three bases, sending Lajoie home. That finished the work of Mogridge and Jordan was sent to the slab.

Before Jordan got his bearings Griggs made a clean steal of home. Then Birmingham made an infield single and Turner followed with a slam to right for one base, sending Birmingham to third. Turner pegged to third, but hit Birmingham on the ... might have been retired. Turner scooted to second on the throw. The next stunt was the success of the squeeze play, O'Neill bunting as Birmingham came racing home. Weaver threw O'Neill out at first and Turner went to third. Gregg pushed a single to right, scoring Turner, and Ryan, coming up for his second time in the inning, forced Gregg at second, ending the rampage.

Jordan Steadies Down.

After getting out of that first inning Jordan had the ball, but the Naps got two runs off him in the sixth, mainly because Bodie lost a fly in the sun. Griggs opened the round with a ... Birmingham hit a low fly to right field ... Bodie could have captured easily, but he ... it in time. Then he made an attempt ... it and failed, and the ball got past him ... away out behind the flagpole, Birmingham getting a home run on it and driving Griggs ahead of him. Turner singled, but ... fouled out. Gregg forced Turner at second and was in turn forced by Ryan.

In the eighth Griggs opened with another wallop to center for three bases. Birmingham ... to Lord, but Turner grounded out, sending ... home. O'Neil's grounder ended that round.

The Sox rally came in the eighth, when Bodie ... with a walk. Mattick fanned, but Callahan ... and Weaver followed with a double to ... Ping and the manager. Block singled and Weaver was stopped at third. Zeider ... for Jordan, and bounded a nasty one ... first base for a single, scoring Weaver, ... Block took second. McIntyre ran for Block, ... rally was stopped when Rath popped to ... Lord forced Zeider at second.

A ninth inning rally was started by the Sox, but it yielded only one run. Collins began with a single, and Bodie flied to Jackson. Mattick beat out an infield hit, putting Collins on second. Callahan raised a short fly to Birmingham, and he tried to trap the ball, with the idea of making a double play, but he messed it and Collins scooted to third while Mattick dashed to second, leaving the bases filled. Weaver drove a sacrifice fly to Ryan, Collins scoring after the catch and Lange, batting for Sullivan, ended the game by fanning.

SAM WELLERISMS.

The Detroit Tigers open a three days fracas with the Sox at the south side tomorrow.

The White Sox were shoved into fourth place while celebrating yesterday because Washington won two battles from New York.

Ping Bodie was disconsolate last night, for he had gone without a base hit all day. Twice in the morning game he slapped into double plays.

Buck Weaver had a busy time in the afternoon. The Sox made fourteen assists all told and Buck had half of them. The Naps had only six assists among them in the afternoon combat.

Callahan and Comiskey held a secret conference in the president's private office after lunch and it was hinted there was a trade in the air, but no news was given out by the officials.

Jim Scott rejoined the Sox yesterday morning after spending another brief spell at his Indiana health resort. Jim declares he is back to stay this time and is ready to pitch at the first call.

Secretary Grabiner announced yesterday that a special train has been procured to carry the White Sox and Detroit Tigers east after the game Sunday night. It is booked to leave at 6:30 p. m. and reach Philadelphia late the next afternoon.

President Comiskey tendered a buffet luncheon to the war scribes and telegraph operators in the moose room of his offices at noontime so they wouldn't forget it was a national holiday. Ted Sullivan and Manager Callahan were guests of honor.

Birmingham's attempt to make a Jimmy Sheckard play by trapping Callahan's short fly in the ninth proved a grand fizzle because Birmingham isn't a Jimmy Sheckard on that stuff. It gave Callahan his fourth hit of the game, though it should have been an easy out.

One of the best fielding plays of the day was Bodie's great running catch of Birmingham's line drive in the fifth inning of the morning game. Ping nabbed the ball close to the foul line and it was headed for the picket fence in the right field corner.

MACKS AND BOSTONS DIVIDE

Champions Take Morning Game Before Record Crowd, 4-3.

28,000 FANS ARE PRESENT.

Stahl's Men Score Runs Off Bender for Afternoon Victory, 6-5.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 4.—Philadelphia and Boston divided the Independence day bill, the champions winning in the morning, 4 to 3, and Stahl's men in the afternoon, 6 to 5.

The largest crowd that ever saw a morning game in the major leagues, 28,000, was present. The fans overflowed into the field, making ground rules necessary.

Bedient was knocked off the rubber in the first inning of the afternoon game. Hall, who took his place, was effective. The visitors tied the score in the fifth on four hits and an error. They also made hits count in the closing innings when Bender pitched for the locals. Scores:

SENATORS WIN BOTH CONTESTS

Washington Takes Morning Game, 12 to 5, and Beats New York in the Afternon, 12 to 1.

Washington, D. C., July 4.—Washington won two games from New York today, taking the morning game, 12 to 5, and the afternoon, 12 to 1. Cashion was effective in the first game, and McBride's fielding featured. It was at Quinn's expense in the afternoon. Groom was in splendid form, and Morgan and Gandil made sensational plays. Hit on Head; Made Speechless.

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 4.—[Special.]—Hit on the head with a pitched ball while at bat, James ("Vic") McGinty of Pittsburgh, lost the power of speech while playing with the Alliance Ohio and Pennsylvania league team. He joined the team only a few days before the accident. He was speechless for an entire day. He is at his home here and will be out of the game the rest of the season.

Bill Burns Joins Millers.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 4.—Bill Burns, pitcher, formerly with Detroit and now a member of the Millers, will join the team here today after an illness of nearly a month. Burns probably will not be able to work for two weeks.

CUBS TAKE PAIR FROM CARDINALS

Brown Blanks Enemy in First, 2 to 0; Tinker Makes Score 3 to 2 in Second.

HEAT STIFLES THE LAST.

St. Louis Forces Chicago to Go Nineteen Innings in Torrid Combats.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

St. Louis, Mo., July 4.—[Special.]—The Cubs celebrated the Fourth gloriously by cleaning up both games of a sane double header today, but the St. Louis Cardinals made them go through nineteen innings of steam heated endeavor in order to do it. The first game was Chicago's, 2 to 0, in regulation time, Mordecai Brown being the wielder of the whitewash brush. The second game went ten innings before the Cubs, after overcoming a two run lead, won on a three base heave by Huggins and a bread winning single by Cap Tinker.

It was hot even for St. Louis, so hot that Manager Chance had to quit the visitors' bench for fear of being overcome by the heat. He stood it until nearly time to start the combat, then went back to his hotel in a taxi. The umpires defied tradition by appearing without coats. Finneran was first to adopt the sane costume, but Rigler came to it before the first game was over. Even the natives, who always are boosting St. Louis as a glorious summer resort, ducked the sunny part of the grand stand and occupied standing room instead.

Brown was the old three fingered star revived in the first game. He had all of Mordecai's old stuff and perfect control of it. He was touched for six safeties but never for more than one in a round. Once late in the game Brown slipped his only pass to Bresnahan, and the only error in his support was Zim's harmless muff of a pop foul in the last half.

Two Cards Reach Third.

Twice in nine rounds did a Cardinal venture as far as third base. Once a single and Brown's wild shot at first base let a man to Zimtown after two were out. Another time a three base hit with only one gone put a Cardinal dangerously close to the plate. This was the only time Brownie had to pitch himself out of a hole, and he did it easily.

The Cubs pounded Sallee's curves for ten safeties, including a pair of doubles and a triple, but they had a hard time making runs with them. Two double plays by the Cardinals cut into Cub chances when things looked pretty bright. At another time two clean singles and a pass were followed by a two bagger, but counted only one run.

Zimmerman continued boosting his swat average by pasting out three singles in a row. The fourth time up Heine fouled out on a slow one. Leach combed out a single and triple and participated in both Cub runs. Tommy scored the first one himself and drove home the other one with his three bagger. Archer was there with a double and a single, one of which sent in the first tally.

The Cubs took their first grip on the game in the second. Zim led with a single, but was nailed stealing second. Leach beat out a tough bounder which Hauser knocked down. Saier fouled out. Leach stole second just before Evers was passed. Archer poled a double to left center, scoring Leach and driving Evers to third. Brown struck out.

Zim Gets Third Hit.

Zim broke open the fourth with a single and went all the way to third while Sallee was retiring Leach at first. Saier pulled a hot liner toward right, but Magee jumped, speared it, and threw to third before Zim could get back there.

Two were out in the sixth before Zim rapped out his third consecutive single. Heine stole second and registered when Leach banged a three bagger along the left foul line. Saier bounded one down the alley to Sallee for the third out.

Smith was the first Cardinal to reach third base. He singled with two gone in the opener. Then scuttled to third of Brownie's wild throw to catch him napping. Brownie wound up tighter and fanned Ellis. In the fourth Evans smashed one past Sheckard close to the line for three cushions with only one out. Hauser skied to Tinker and Oakes rolled to Evers. Four other Cardinals reached second base during the game. In every case there were two out when they got there, and Brownie made sure of the next victim.

Tale of Second Battle.

The second battle was an uphill climb for the Cubs, but they "clumb" it and planted their banner on top in the tenth. It was another pitchers' contest, in which Manager Bresnahan sent another left hander against the Cubs in Willis (no relation to Vic). Lew Richie, summoned from Chicago for the occasion, was the Cub starter, and probably would have been able to go to a finish with Willis. But he was taken out to let Archer whang for him in the seventh inning with the Cubs one run behind and three of them choking the bags. That brought Lefty Leifield into the fray in time to win it by holding the Cardinals helpless until the Bruins could catch up and then go out in front.

The Cards were first to count, but they had to wait until the fifth to do it. Previous to that they had made only one hit off Richie. Oakes broke the goose egg story by whaling a three bagger into center. Wingo scored him with a single, but Richie stopped them right there in that session. In the sixth, after Tinker had stolen a hit sensationally from Smith, Ellis banged out a double to right. Schulte whipped a long throw to third to stop the runner there, but the ball got past Zimmerman. There was nobody backing up, and Ellis kept right on to the pan. Evans and Hauser skied out.

Up to this time Willis had the numbers of all the Cubs except for three scattered singles made off him by Schulte, Tinker, and Sheckard. These came nowhere near making a run. In the seventh Tinker led a rally which almost tied the count. Joe singled, went to second on Zim's bump to Willis, waited there while Leach walked, then scored on a timely drive to left by Vic Saier. Evers' out moved the runners to third and second, and Willis passed Needham intentionally in the pinch. Whereupon Cap Tinker sent Archer to bat for Richie. Jimmy almost pushed one past Magee, but the sub first sacker got it and retired the side.

Leifield Takes the Slab.

Leifield then took the slab and held the Cardinals down. They made three hits off him in four innings, but only one in any period. The Cubs tied the knot in the eighth. Sheckard led the attack with a whistler to left center for three bases. Schulte mauled a fly to right plenty far enough to let Sheckard count. Tinker went out by the ground route, then Zimmerman singled to left, reached second on a boot by Ellis, and went to third on a short passed ball. Leach played the string to the finish, but was called out on strikes.

Not until the tenth was there a chance to break it. One was out in Chicago's half when Schulte bumped a bounder to Huggins, who pegged high over first base. Schulte legged it to third with the high speed clutch in, and Tinker immediately delivered a single to left good for the winning run. Zim flew out, but Joe got to third on a steal and Huggins' muff of the throw. Leach banged a liner toward right, but Magee pinched it. In the last half, with two down, Huggins singled and stole second, but Tinker disposed of Magee at first.

MULLIN HURLS NO-HIT GAME; TIGERS BEAT BROWNS TWICE.

Veteran Pitcher Blanks St. Louis, 7 to 0, Without Allowing Single—Morning Battle to Detroit by 9-3 Score.

Detroit, Mich., July 4.—George Mullin pitched a no-hit game against St. Louis this afternoon, the first time this feat has been accomplished here since Sept. 6, 1905, when Frank Smith held Detroit hitless. Six of the visitors reached first base, five of them by bases on balls and the other on an error. Detroit won the game easily, 7 to 0. The Tigers also won the morning game, 9 to 3.

SAMS AND GIANTS SPLIT VICTORIES

U. S. Leaguers Drop First Battle to Colored Team in Eleven Innings, 9-5.

NIESENS WIN SECOND, 5-4.

Take Afternoon Combat in Ten Rounds, Rugar's Hit Scoring Deciding Tally.

Twenty-one innings were needed at Gunther park yesterday in the two games between the American Giants and Uncle Sams. The Giants won in the morning, 9 to 5, in eleven innings, but lost the afternoon combat, 5 to 4, in ten fierce rounds.

The morning game was thrown away by the white players after they had an apparently safe lead. Umpire Mike Meyers, one of the steadiest officials on the local circuit, suffered from the heat and did poor work. He refused to officiate in the afternoon game in consequence. Rube Foster's reserves captured the game in the eleventh inning when McGuire relieved Hamilton and allowed five hits for four runs. Errors by Slight and Schall allowed the colored men to tie up the game in the ninth and tenth innings. Hamilton pitched a grand game and should have won.

COUNTY OFFICIAL CAUGHT IN THEFT?

Commissioner Said to Have Received Eggs and Butter from Oak Forest.

BARTZEN MAY TELL IT.

Talk of Immunity with Promise to Aid Construction of New Hospital.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.

A certain county commissioner probably will be involved in the stealing of provisions from the Oak Forest infirmary. He is almost certain to be, unless he buys immunity with a promise to aid with his votes the construction of the new county hospital.

Peter Bartzen himself is said to be anxious to expose the commissioner. His aids, however, are reported to be urging that the charges against the commissioner be used quietly to force the commissioner to aid in hastening the hospital building.

It is said this commissioner has been receiving eggs or butter, and often both, every week from the infirmary. In addition it is said he also has received some choice cuts of meats. The names of the two county employes who are said to have carried the provisions to the commisisoner have been whispered about for some time.

Hear of Expected Confession.

Because of the charges that B. C. Conway, a steward, and Peter Burg, food inspector, have taken steaks, chops, tenderloins, and other meats from the infirmary, word has been passed along that two carriers of provisions to the county commissioner are anxious to confess, if promised retention of their jobs.

An investigation by the civil service commission is being considered to make the facts public. It is appropriate to bring this evidence into the hearing of Conway now pending. In that event the commissioner would be forced into the position of defending himself. It is argued this would be as effective as taking the matter before the state's attorney. Besides, little hope is expressed around the county building that the prosecuter would take up the matter seriously, since most of the charges made by former Civil Service Commissioner Ballard Dunn have not been given a grand jury airing.

The merit board, however, has not been taken into the confidence of those planning the attack upon the county commissioner. One of them asserted yesterday that the board will be glad to hear any pertinent evidence in the Conway case which will aid in deciding his guilt or innocence.

Other Rumors Circulated.

Various rumors have been circulated about this commissioner heretofore—especially in connection with a deal that looked off color on its face. Several months ago he was said to have been cautioned by his friends not to be so bold in his operations, and since then has not been as prominent as formerly.

The county board has been over a year getting plans and specifications and bids on the new county hospital. Bartzen believes that it would aid his chances of reëlection if he could point during the campaign to actual construction, instead of being forced to tell only of a hole in the ground. Bids are to be opened July 29.

Some of the commissioners are known to be anxious to find some good reason for delaying the awarding of the contract.

Ten Votes Needed.

Ten votes are needed to award bids, and that comprises the total Democratic membership of the board. If one or two Democrats fail to approve the bids Bartzen cannot go along with the construction without the aid of some of the Republican commissioners. It is improbable he can get these unless he agrees to make certain important reforms and abandon the branch hospital idea.

So Bartzen is reasoning that it will be easier to drive the would-be blockaders of his own party into line.

AGED WOMAN IS SHOT DOWN WHILE CARRYING GRANDCHILD.

Assailant, Who Met Them on Street, Refuses to Give Motive—Police Investigate Mystery.

Mrs. Frances Miska, an aged Lithuanian, was shot down in a strange manner while carrying her 1 year old granddaughter back of the stockyards last night. The child escaped injury, but the grandmother will die. John Strine, a countryman, who wielded the revolver, was taken in custody, but refused to make any explanation. His attitude of unconcern leads the police to believe that the shooting was intentional and that there was some strange motive behind it.

Mrs. Miska had spent the day merrymaking with her husband, Joseph Miska, a painter and their children, all of whom are married, and the grandchildren, at the Miska home, 4537 Lincoln street. At 8:30 o'clock she decided to take her favorite grandchild for an airing. She had proceeded one block east to Honoré street and was just in front of No. 4534 when she saw Strine run from a narrow alleyway across the street, waving his revolver. She stood still, horrified.

Strine made straight for her, and apparently aiming his revolver as he ran. Despite her fright she had presence of mind to hold the child high above her head. In quick succession four shots rang out. The first two struck her in the groin, the next in the abdomen, and the fourth passed over her prostrate body and singed the hair of the child. The commotion attracted the police and Strine was captured.

JEALOUS, HE SHOOTS HIMSELF.

Husband Turns Revolver on Himself After Driving Wife from House After Attending Wedding.

Walter Zunda, 1420 West Superior street, after threatening to kill his wife, fired a shot into his left side last evening when she fled from the house to notify the police. At the county hospital it is believed Zunda will die. Mrs. Zunda said her husband became jealous because of attentions paid her by other men at a wedding early in the afternoon.

DEATH TAKES PAUL C. HULL

Chicago Postoffice Official Succumbs in Brimfield, Ill.

HAD BEEN ILL TWO YEARS.

Former Newspaper Man and Prominent in Press Club.

Paul C. Hull, superintendent of second class matter in the Chicago postoffice, former newspaper man, and for many years a prominent figure in the Chicago Press club, died at the residence of his wife's parents at Brimfield, Ill., yesterday.

Mr. Hull became ill two years ago, and his health had failed gradually ever since. Although he was confined to his bed since last September, his position in the postoffice was held open in the hope of his return. Mr. Hull was 58 years old, and leaves a widow and two children.

He started his journalistic career as editor of the Princeton Independent, from which paper he graduated to the Chicago Daily News. Later he became a member of the Chicago Times staff.

Compelled to Go to Arizona.

On account of poor health Mr. Hull was compelled to quit Chicago and he went to Arizona, where he established a weekly paper. When his condition improved he returned to Chicago and became private secretary to Postmaster F. E. Coyne.

While on the staff of the Times Mr. Hull narrowly escaped being killed on the night the bomb was thrown in Haymarket square. He had been assigned to cover the labor massmeeting there, and was present when Schraubelt hurled the bomb that brought death and injury to more than two score policemen.

Near Death at Haymarket Riot.

In the excitement that followed the explosion Hull was mistaken for an anarchist by Policeman John [Sandy] Hanley, who drew his revolver and was about to shoot him when Mr. Hull shouted "Don't shoot Sandy,' this is Paul Hull."

In late years Mr. Hull often related the incident as being his closest call to death.

Funeral services will be held at the home of H. E. Charles at 811 Fayette street, Peoria, tomorrow afternoon. The burial will be at Springdale.

GROOM IS INJURED ON WEDDING EVE

Man Chasing Hat Probably Fatally Hurt by a Street Car.

FIANCEE IDENTIFIES HIM.

Slip of Paper in Pocket Bearing Name of Bride-to-Be Gives the Clew.

Miss Mary Malatski, who lives at 1313 Chicago avenue, was called from work on her wedding trousseau yesterday to identify an unconscious man at the Cook county hospital.

The injured man proved to be her fiancé, Albert Marks of 862 North Ashland avenue, who had fallen or jumped from a Chicago avenue car at Armour street, and incurred a fractured skull. He was 23 years old and was to have married Miss Malatski today.

The accident to Marks which resulted in a fatal injury was the result of his trying to recover his hat which was blown from his head while he was riding on the car.

Tries to Recover Hat.

Whether he jumped or fell is not certain, but passengers told the police he leaned far out when his hat blew off, and a moment later fell to the pavement.

The injured man was taken in the police ambulance to the hospital, where it was said the fracture to the skull probably would prove fatal. His identity was unknown until the arrival of Miss Malatski. A slip of paper bearing her name was found in a pocket of the injured man's clothing and she was sent for at once.

Shock Prostrates Young Woman.

Marks was an Austrian, and had been in Chicago about three years. He became engaged to Miss Malatski several months ago, and preparations had been under way ever since for the marriage today. The young woman was prostrated by the shock when she discovered the identity of the injured man, and had to be taken to her home.

HEAT FACTOR IN MAN'S DEATH.

John M. Conroy Succumbs Suddenly of Heart Disease Superinduced by Temperature.

John M. Conroy, a street car conductor, dropped dead in his home, 3705 Cottage Grove avenue, yesterday morning. He is believed to have died of heart disease superinduced by the heat.

Crowds of Other Years Missed at Country Clubs.

THE list of dinner reservations at the country clubs did not equal those of other years. Whether or not this was due to the sane Fourth idea—the lack of excitement—whether the several private house parties at the Wisconsin and other nearby resorts entered into the slump in dinner giving, or whether the Dutch treat idea prevailed, is not known. Crowds of goodly size were gathered about the club grounds and verandahs, and in the evening the dining rooms were well filled, but the habit of reserving tables in advance for large private parties did not prevail to the extent of other years.

The company that gathered at the Saddle and Cycle club was "impromptu" as to dinner and luncheon parties. The yacht racing and tennis playing of the morning attracted the club members to a considerable degree and the club had its usual quota of interesting little dining groups.

The Chicago Golf club at Wheaton had one of the largest of the special dinner companies. The hosts and hostesses of the evening included Richard Prendergast and the Misses Prendergast, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Henneberry, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert E. Porter, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Whitney, Mr. and Mrs. Allan T. Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Eaton, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Howard, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Lester, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Miller, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Lyford, Ira Copely, Jarvis Hunt and Miss Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. McAuley, Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Hurley, and Mr. and Mrs. George Plamondon.

At none of the clubs did the year bring a display of fireworks. Everywhere the "sane" idea prevailed. Some particularly fine displays were features of some of the house parties, however, for instance at Danfort Lodge, Oconomowoc, where Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Valentine were having a house party of Chicago and eastern friends, this annual evening's event was not omitted. Another of the interesting house parties of the day was that in Lake Geneva at which Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank were host and hostess, their guests having motored there on Wednesday.

At Midlothian play for the Counselman cup brought a company of good proportions, but the special reservations for the evening were few. Among the hosts were E. J. Smith, R. C. Butler, F. A. Hermer, and J. T. Llewellyn. At the suburban clubs little was done. Hinsdale made no plans for its golf club's day, and at the La Grange Country club a basket luncheon for the club members was the only event. Skokie had no private parties, although the club members and their guests were gathered on the links. The Riverside Golf club had dinners and dancing in the evening, with Mrs. A. Adams, Mrs. A. Hodgen, Mrs. W. H. Ward, and E. R. Love entertaining.

The biggest club event of the day came in the Glen View club's plans for the children and their friends, the games, flag raising, and the like having been in charge of Argus Hibbard, who has guided the Glen View through their Independence day fun for many years. A special luncheon was served for the youngsters at 12:30 o'clock also, but there were no toy pistols, fireworks, and their kin.

In the afternoon the golf caddies took part in foot races, bicycle races, and a three legged race. The flag raising at 3 o'clock was preceded by a procession of children. Among those who gave dinners before the informal dance in the evening were D. A. Noyes, H. H. Walker, W. S. Cheney, A. H. Gross, Peter Berkey, Arthur Buntley, E. V. Gale, F. E. French, T. E. Tallmadge, M. M. Townley, W. A. McGuire, W. M. Thompson, J. H. Burns, R. E. Wilsey, George L. Harvey, Charles L. Bartlett, E. C. Rowe, S. H. Hardy, H. W. Stewart, and H. T. Holtz.

At Onwentsia there was golf in the afternoon, a polo match for the Mrs. Louis Swift trophy, a special table d'hôte dinner, and informal dancing in the evening. Among those who entertained at dinner and the number in their parties were: Mrs. A. B. Dick, ten; Cyrus H. Adams Jr., fourteen; F. C. Aldrich, sixteen; John A. Stevenson, ten; Mrs. E. L. Pollock, eight; Mrs. J. C. Clow, ten; J. McCluney, eight; Noble B. Judah, twelve; Miss Helen Clark, seven. Mrs. A. W. Armour entertained twelve guests at luncheon; Mrs. Arthur Meeker, eight; and Mrs. Bruce Smith, eight. A number of small luncheon parties were given.

Those who gave dinners at the South Shore were G. J. Adams, A. B. Adams, W. H. Alford, G. H. Ball, F. W. Barker, G. A. Bickett, L. E. Burr, G. H. Baird, H. Blythe, H. L. Bayliss, Frederick Bode, William Buss, R. S. Beardsley, J. G. Butler, A. V. Booth, W. K. Cockrane, W. L. Cannon, A. W. Critten, C. W. Carson, Willis Counseiman, W. S. Croft, R. H. Countiss, A. H. Dougherty, C. E. Davis, H. A. Dubier, G. H. Deeves, L. M. Gillman, G. L. Danforth, H. A. Debour, T. S. Donnelley, W. R. Emery, R. O. Evans, E. J. Everett, Walter Fitch, F. A. Fowler, W. E. Foster, W. V. Gary, A. W. Glessner, D. B. Gann, S. B. Henderson, J. A. Hall, L. S. Henoch, J. A. Harris, H. A. Hubbard, Paul Howe, C. Horix, E. H. Jones, J. A. Juex, and B. S. Johnson.

MRS. BURDETTE C. BARNES

Ten Thousand Attend Scots' Twenty-fifth Picnic.

APPROXIMATELY 10,000 persons journeyed to Elliott's park yesterday to participate in the twenty-first annual union Scotch picnic. The exercises were under the auspices of the Orkney, and Shetland, and Caithness societies of Chicago. Special trains were chartered on the Illinois Central to transport the crowds, which filled the outgoing trains until after 2 o'clock.

Postmaster D. A. Campbell, Francis O'Neill, William Walsh, T. J. Campbell, John Flaws, Patrick C. Hart, and Dan Cameron acted as judges in the A. A. U. games, which numbered twenty-two events.

Following the athletic contests, an exhibition of Scotch and Gaelic folk dances was staged in the pavilion. The Highland fling, sword dance, Highland reel, Lorne reel, Shaun Trews, Irish jig, Scotch llit, and sailors' hornpipe featured among the dances.

A band concert with individual picnic spreads concluded the day's program.

Lake View Church Branches Out.

The Lake View Congregational church has added two new departments. A trained social worker will be added to the working staff, beginning Sept. 1. Another feature will be the spending of a gift of $500 for entertainments and suppers for the boys and girls of the neighborhood. The church, which is located at Seminary and Lill avenues, is in a semi-congested district. A friend of the Rev. Ross F. Wicks, pastor, is furnishing the money. He will also furnish funds for redecorating the building.

King's Counsel of Canada Here.

George Tate Blackstock, king's counsel of Canada, was the guest of Mrs. Mary K. Hogan of the Chicago Beach hotel at a dinner at the Blackstone hotel last evening. He came to Chicago as the guest of the Canadian club of Chicago, before whom he spoke at their Dominion day banquet at the Hotel La Salle. Among other guests at the dinner, which was informal, were Mrs. Charlotte Cox of Louisville, Ky., and Judge and Mrs. Charles Fishback of Chicago.

Oddities in Chicago's Daily Life.

PATRONS of a drug store in Wilson avenue saw in cross section an affair between a man and a woman which wasn't a bit romantic. To start with, there was a heavy phone booth. His straw hat was tipped back, but even then a portion of his bald spot showed beneath the brim.

Came a woman with a set face and the stride of a grenadier at double-quick. She flung open the door of the telephone booth, grasped the receiver in one hand and the transmitter in the other. The man was so taken by surprise that he merely stared for a moment.

"You—you—you," began the woman in a bitter voice, speaking into the mouthpiece. And there she stopped. The words wouldn't come. Perhaps, she hadn't the vocabulary to describe what those who stood in the drug store had gathered was the third point of a domestic triangle.

The man seized the telephone and tried to twist the transmitter away. The woman clung to it. Neither spoke a word, but the sweat rolled down the big man's face and the woman's mouth was twisted with the effort she was making. Through the glass those who stood by could see the man pressing on her knuckles with his thumb. Nobody stirred. The struggle lasted three minutes. It was the man who gave up.

"You fool," he said in a voice that made the words utterly inadequate to his emotion.

Then he stalked out of the drug store. The woman followed a moment later, her face as set, her stride as long and quick as when she entered. Nobody laughed.

ANAMELESS, stray white cat has set a neighborhood on its ears and put all the laws of the Anti-Cruelty and Humane societies into operation. How the quarrel will end none of the neighbors would venture to predict yesterday, but all agreed the outlook is serious for the cat.

Dr. Fletcher Brainard, 4026 Lowell avenue, in whose front yard the cat has been trespassing, prepared to defend his property against the cat. He piled stones about the tree where the cat is wont to whet her nails on its bark. Then he sat himself down at his front window, watching for the cat to make her regular appearance in his flower bed. Stones lay conveniently on the front porch for his hand.

As it happened, Miss Nita Crawford, 4022 Lowell avenue, had a "hunch" that the doctor was on the warpath and kept her cat at home. "But things can't go on thus for ever," said Miss Crawford, the mistress of the cat, "for my cat will need fresh air."

She contended her pet has been abused and accused of a destructive habit which she does not possess. Miss Crawford says the neighbors' chickens scratched up the doctor's sweet peas, and not the cat, which she has kept confined in the house three weeks because the "old man hurled stones at the cat and threatened bodily violence to the whole smear."

Miss Crawford declared she has become attached to the cat given to her two years ago by a baker and does not wish to be compelled to give the pet away. Still she does wish the cat to be killed by a neighbor who is "just waiting with stones in his hand for the animal to set one paw on the tree in the back yard to kill her," and that is why she complained to the Anti-Cruelty society.

WHILE the Fourth is the biggest national holiday of the outdoor season there were thousands of Chicagoans yesterday who, with their noses to their respective styles of grindstone, had to do their celebrating before or after "hours."

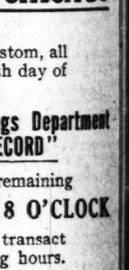

In spite of the general conception that "nobody works on the Fourth," there could be found in all parts of the city an unestimated number of men and women who had no "day off" for an outing or some other form of recreation.

The policemen and firemen were on duty, it was obvious that the street cars, the railroads, and the boat lines were operating with full crews, and that the hotels, restaurants, saloons, amusement parks, and summer gardens needed all their employés; but in addition hundreds of persons in other classes of employment were found at their regular duties.

Among the places that remained open were these: Telephone and telegraph offices, drug stores, liveries, delicatessen shops, boothing "parlors," theaters, ice cream parlors, fruit stores, undertaking shops, cemeteries, newspaper offices.

THINGS were going slowly at the Moseley playground festival at Wabash avenue and East Twenty-fourth street yesterday afternoon when a couple of mats were brought out and wrestling matches were announced. The first boy to worm his way through the crowd that served for ropes was a bullet headed white youngster about 8 years old. The master of the ceremony, a negro who had four distinct rolls of fat in the back of his neck and who wore a big gold signet ring on one little finger, grasped a pickaninny about the size of the bulelt headed one and shoved him on the mat.

The bullet head shot forward, two arms flung themselves around the little negro, and down he went as if he had been hit by a battering ram. That was all there was to Bout One. The master reached behind him and got another little negro, a shade bigger than the one who had gone down. The crowd, almost exclusively a negro crowd, cheered up.

The second little negro had seen the fate of his brother, and so when the master raised his hand he shot forward just as the white boy had done. Woolly head and bullet head met with a thump, but one proved as hard as the other, and the white boy's arms were stronger. He lifted the other clear and flung him; landed on him as a football player lands on the ball, and Bout Two was over.

The master reached behind him again and pulled out a negro and white hope went down.

CZAR GREETS THE KAISER AT RUSSIAN BALTIC PORT

Warships Fire Imperial Salute and Marines Cheer as the Ruler of Germany Arrives on Yacht.

BALTIC PORT, Russia, July 4.—The German emperor accompanied by the imperial chancellor, Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg, and his third son, Prince Adalbert, arrived here today on board the imperial yacht Hohenzollern escorted by the dreadnought cruiser Moltke, to meet the emperor of Russia, who, with the members of his family, Premier Kokovsoff and Foreign Minister Sasonoff, was already in waiting here.

A division of Russian torpedo boats, the Russian admiralty yacht Neva with the German ambassador to Russia and the attachés of the German embassy at St. Petersburg, went out to meet the German emperor.

Saluted by Russian Ships.

Upon his arrival the German ruler received the salute of the assembled Russian warships and was greeted with cheers by their crews, to which the sailors of the Moltke replied.

The Hohenzollern was then moored between the Russian imperial yachts Standart and Polarnaia Sviezda. The emperor of Russia, with a group of his officials immediately went on board the German imperial yacht and welcomed Emperor William.

Guesses at Visit's Meaning.

In the German, Russian and other capitals great political significance is attached to the imperial meeting, although semi-official statements assert its only object is the confirmation of the cordial relations between Russia and Germany, for which the way was paved at Potsdam in 1910.

It is expected, nevertheless, that the possibility of putting an end to the war between Italy and Turkey, the naval position in the Baltic resulting from the Russian naval act and other matters of international interest will be discussed.

NELLIE GRANT SARTORIS BRIDE OF FRANK H. JONES.

Wedding Takes Place at the Country Home of Daughter of Gen. U. S. Grant in Canada.

Coburg, Ont., July 4.—Mrs. Nellie Grant Sartoris, widow of the late Algernon Sartoris of Warsash Hants, England, and only daughter of the late Gen. U. S. Grant, was married today to Frank H. Jones, formerly first assistant postmaster general of the United States, at her country home here.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Canon Spragg, rector of St. Peter's church, Coburg.

The bride was given away by her son, Capt. Sartoris, while Fred B. Jones, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

The wedding was private and attended only by immediate members of the families, because of the recent death of the bride's brother, Maj. Gen. F. D. Grant of the United States army.

Among those present were U. S. Grant Jr., brother of the bride; Capt. Algernon Sartoris, Master Herbert Charles Sartoris, Mrs. Sartoris, and her sister, Mme. Marguerite Nouffard of Paris, and Mrs. U. S. Grant IV.

LONDON WELCOMES BORDEN; NAVAL HELP IS HOPED FOR.

Canada's Premier Expected to Arrange That the Dominion Give Great Britain Substantial Sea Aid.

LONDON, July 4.—Robert L. Borden, the Canadian premier, with his colleagues, J. D. Hazen, minister of marine; C. J. Doherty, minister of justice; and L. P. Pelletier, postmaster general, arrived here today, after having received a civic welcome at Avonmouth from the lord mayor of Bristol. At the London terminus waiting to greet the Canadian statesmen were Lord Strathcona and many Canadians.

Borden is the most heralded colonial visitor to come to London for years. The press and the public are making much of his pronouncement. "I stand for a great navy," which is interpreted that Canada is prepared to make a handsome contribution to the British navy in the shape of two more dreadnoughts. Borden, however, is reticent as to the form in which Canadian assistance to the mother country is to be offered.

Among the many subjects to be discussed between the Canadian statesmen and the British government is that regarding the proposal of the senate committee in Washington that no ship owned by a railway shall be allowed to use the Panama canal.

Before returning to Canada Borden intends to visit Paris to discuss trade relations with the French government and the question of steamboat connection between Canada and France.

Marion Harland's Helping Hand.

The Practical Housewife.

BY MARION HARLAND.

Dandelion Wine Recipe.

"Please give me a recipe for dandelion wine."

DANDELION WINE.—Steep dandelion flowers in boiling water for ten minutes. Strain off the liquid, pressing hard. Sweeten to taste and add brandy in the proportion of a pint to four gallons of liquid. Keep in uncorked bottles until fermentation ceases. Then rack off and bottle.

How to Can Berries.

"Will you be so kind as to publish some recipes for canning tomatoes, green beans, and corn, and tell how to make sour and sweet pickles? MRS. A. B."

These appear in every issue of the Housewife's Page. For example, this comes to hand as I write:

"CANNED BLUEBERRIES OR HUCKLEBERRIES.—Pick over and wash the berries, stew them in their own juice with perhaps a little water at first to keep the last ones from sticking. When all are swollen and well cooked turn them at once into the hot jars and seal. They will keep without sugar. Put the jars over the fire in cold water, boil, then seal. Do not remove them until they are cold; if you do they will burst. MRS. C. S."

Blackberries and raspberries may be canned in like manner.

Recipes for canning tomatoes have been published repeatedly and others will appear in good time.

* *

Pumpernickle Bread Formula.

We have had so many calls for the recipe which follows that I am surrendering more space to it than may seem fair or expedient. I judge it wise to do this in the circumstances and subjoin the warning that the recipe will not be repeated for at least a year. Space is too precious to admit a second appearance.

"PUMPERNICKEL BREAD.—To bake this bread is hard for a person who has not learned the baker's trade. However, if you will follow this you may get a fair result: One cake of yeast, one pint of water (80 degrees), enough rye flour to make a mediumly stiff dough. Put this dough into a jar (covered) for twenty-four hours. It is now sour and sticky. Add a little warm water (80 degrees) to the sour dough. Dissolve and add a little pumpernickel flour to get a good sponge. Work it well. Put the dough back in the jar for about six or seven hours. Mix this sour dough with a cake yeast and one or two quarts of water for a sponge. Let the sponge come to a 'drop.' And more water, pumpernickel flour, and one ounce of salt for each quart of water used. A little molasses will help to make a rich color in the oven. The longer you work the dough the better will be the result. When you have worked the dough sufficiently mold it into loaves at once. Line your pan with wood in the sides and grease well between the loaves. Two pounds of loaves are baked in the oven one hour and fifteen minutes. Let it rise in the pans twenty minutes or so. If the bread gets too solid and leaves the inside the first time mix in some strong, white, patent flour the next time you try it, as white flour makes expansion. Pumpernickel bread keeps fresh and good for many days. COUNTRY BAKER."

* *

To Press a New Dress.

"Could you, tell me how to press a new dress? I tried laying a damp cloth over it, but it became full of wrinkles. I also tried with a dry cloth with the same result. "MARTHA C."

Your cloth should be fine thin muslin and dampened evenly all over. A thick cloth, wet in spots and dry in other places, wrinkles the gown laid under it. See that the dress and the cloth are taut before you begin to iron.

Properly done it should not wrinkle or puff in spots.

* *

Rub with Kerosene.

"I wish to ask for some preparation for removing finger marks from a piano. The case is mahogany in a dull, waxed finish. I am afraid to use the same things as for a highly polished case. I should be glad if you or your readers could give me any useful preparation. "NEW CORNERITE."

Wring out a bit of old flannel nearly dry in kerosene and rub the finger marks with it. Do not touch until it is entirely dry.

I know of no better "preparation."

Little Quips and Quirks.

How I Rose in Business, as Unrelated by a Great Captain of Industry.

BY RICHARD HENRY LITTLE.

"I WOULD not explain the secret of my rapid rise from dire poverty to more millions than I have to count but for the fact that all the millionaires are breaking out in the magazines with their stories, and as I know they will get me in time I may as well come across now as after a while.

"I began life without a cent in the world. It was some time before I even owned a milk bottle. I pass over the first fifteen years of my existence because they were dreary, monotonous years, full of nothing but chores and country schools and stone bruises and lickings and black eyes and grief.

"When I was 16 years old my mother decided I should be sent to college, but the day before I was to go away to school I succeeded in selling our old cow to a family in town for $80. This may not seem wonderful to you until you know that that cow was older than I was and afflicted with everything from lumpy jaw to telegrapher's paralysis.

"The family I sold her to wanted a nice, kind, gentle cow that would climb over the fence every night and come up to the back porch and stand around crying for somebody to come and milk her. Our cow had hooked everything on our side of town and had a worse reputation as a man eater than any tiger ever killed in India.

"That cow was drier than the Sahara desert and I had to steal chalk every day from the school house in order to keep our customers provided with nice fresh milk. Now you see why selling this cow was considered by my mother as a good day's job. It meant I possessed splendid business ability and was far too talented to be wasted in a college.

"So mother put me in the big dry goods store in our town. I went to work as a clerk in the ribbon department at $3.50 a week. While our store was a big store it was falling behind owing to the competition of another store down the street which was owned by two young men who were very keen and aggressive.

"Our store had been established forty years and was wedded to a lot of old ideas. The owner believed in doing things just as his father and grandfather had done before him and the clerks had been employed in the store so long that the place was a sort of Old Ladies' home. The other clerk at the ribbon counter had held his job twenty-five years and thought he owned it. He disliked to sell goods because it kept him awake and he regarded the appearance of a customer at the ribbon counter as a personal insult.

"I knew that in order to have the ribbon counter show a marked increase in its profits I would have to get rid of this clerk and get his job myself. I talked to the owner and asked him to discharge the old clerk, but the owner was horrified at the suggestion and wouldn't listen to it. So that night I went over and soaped the old clerk's doorstep, and when he came out the next morning he fell and broke his legs. While he was in bed I naturally took his place and the ribbon counter began at once to show a marked improvement in sales.

"The owner of our store disliked to advertise, while our rivals spent large sums and published columns of advertisements every day. I tried to get an appropriation to carry on an advertising campaign that I had marked out, but the owner would not listen to it. So one day I thought out a good plan to attract people to our store and have it talked about. I went over to the store one night and poured kerosene all around the front door and on the floor just inside the door.

"The next afternoon when people were crowding the store of our rival down the street I threw a lighted match down near our front door and the kerosene blazed up and we soon had a nice conflagration. The fire department made a fine run and everybody in town followed the engines, and there was a crowd in front of our store that packed the street from curb to curb.

"The fire was soon extinguished, but even before the engines went away I had hung out big signs which I had previously prepared, telling of the big sale of slightly damaged goods now going on inside. The people flocked into the store and we did the biggest afternoon's business ever done in the history of the store.

"I did not tell the owner of the store all the facts regarding the fire, but he suspected I had something to do with it, so he promoted me to the management of the hardware department. In order to keep people interested in our store I decided on the following Saturday to do something else to attract attention. I hired a tramp to hang around the store all the afternoon and then to shoot four or five times at the owner as he left the store, as was his invariable habit, at 4 o'clock.

I gave the tramp a revolver and told him emphatically that he was not to shoot directly at the owner, but over his head, but the tramp got excited when he started shooting, and when I saw the top of the owner's ear fly off I knew that I could not ask for a raise of salary for this clever advertising scheme.

The tramp managed to get away, but the crowd that gathered around the store when the news of what every one thought was an attempt at assassination became known surged inside and bought goods right and left, and our cash register kept ringing like sleigh bells on a runaway mule.

I had demonstrated to myself, if to no one else, by these experiments that I possessed a great commercial instinct. I had the business acumen that would not stop at murder, and I knew that if I could keep out of jail I would soon own that store.

I started a series of Black Hand letters that excited the town to a tremendous pitch, and then, at the psychological moment, I exploded about two dozen sticks of dynamite under the store. I blew up the grocery department and the remnant counter, and people came from all over that part of the state to see where the great disaster occurred.

I arranged with all railroads leading into town to run excursions every day in the week, and I had the sightseers come in at one door and pass out at another, but before they got out they had to walk through every department in the store, and naturally they bought a great many things.

I believed thoroughly we could only show a decided per cent increase in our sales by getting in young and active clerks in place of the old barnacles. Our clerks were nice and polite, but I wanted strong, husky young men, that would look as if they were going to jump right on a customer's back and bite him in the neck if he didn't spend at least $5.

I had got rid of several clerks in the dynamite explosion, and started in to get the rest. I issued an order that all clerks who did not show a gain of 90 per cent in their departments within the next week would have to go. They begged the owner to let them stay, and he interfered, but I determined those clerks had to go.

I began to figure on how to get them into the hospital, but seeing how determined I was they resigned, and I went to Chicago and picked up a lot of splendid young footpads and porch climbers and put them behind our counters. Our sales immediately showed a healthy gain, and while I had to stick a revolver under every clerk's nose at night and search him for the coin he was trying to knock down, the large amount of money I secured justified the pains and trouble I was obliged to take.

Our men's clothing department was the hardest stock I had to get results from. We had been badly overstocked some years before, and were still trying to sell goods three or four years behind the style. I determined the only way to get action in the clothing department was to get rid of the old goods, and have a fine, new, up to date stock.

I insured the clothing department for about six times its value and set fire to it one night. With the insurance money I built a new wing to the store and put in the kind of goods it was easy to sell.

By this time the owner was afraid to come into the store, not knowing whether he would be assassinated or burned to death before he got out of the building, and he was glad to sell the business to me for a mere song. So thus it was by natural talents, by hard work, self-denial, and unswerving fidelity to high ideals that I became what I am today—a millionaire.

News of the Theaters.

BY PERCY HAMMOND.

Preceding Miss Margaret Illington's visit to Chicago and the west in "Kindling," there was sent abroad a commendatory "Round robin" signed by nearly every high brow dramatic and literary critic from Aristotle to Alan Dale. Since the play failed in New York and succeeded elsewhere, Miss Illington bestows the credit upon those efficacious "boosters," and so has presented each of them with a watch chain, at one end of which is a disc of gold bearing Miss Illington's initials and those of her benefactor.

In Atlatno City Monday night there is to be produced by Messrs. Cohan and Harris a farce written by Miss Frances Nordstrom, otherwise Mrs. Henry E. Dixey, and called "Room 44." The star of the affair will be the author's husband, and other familiar names noticed in the cast are Miss Hattie Russell, Miss Emily Wakeman, Miss Edna Baker, Miss Ada Gilman, Mrs. Stuart Robson, Ernest Truex, Lincoln Plummer, and William Boyd.

Those enlisted by Mr. Frohman in the support of Miss Hattie Williams and Richard Carle in "The Girl from Montmartre" are Lennox Pawle, William Danforth, Alan Mudie, Albert Hart, George Lydecker, Ralph Nairn, Percy Leach, Emma Janvier, Moya Mannering, Bertha Holly, Mary Gilmore, Dai Turgeon, Louise Donovan, Lela Lee, Hazel Troutman, Clara Eckstrom, Lillian Rice, and Angie Wiemers.

Henry W. Savage bids it be known that the production of "Somewhere Else" will be one of his costliest and most extensive efforts. The play is a "musical fantasy" with music by Gustav Luders and fantasy by Avery Hopwood. It will be submitted two months hence.

Those who care to trust to the judgment of Gustave von Seyffertitz, a Frohman stage manager of some renown, are referred to the following opinions on European theatricals vouchsafed by him on his return this week from abroad:

"The best comedies in Europe," he says, "are 'Primrose,' at the Comédie Française, and 'Milestones,' in London. Of the dramas the best are 'L'Honneur Japonais,' at L'Odeon, and 'La Flambe,' at the Porte St. Martin, Paris, and 'Belle Donna,' at St. James', London. The best farce I saw in all Europe was 'Pa Petite Café,' running in Paris.

"'Frauenfresser,' controlled for America by A. H. Woods and now running in Vienna, is one of the best musical plays on the boards. 'Der Tanzamwalt,' being presented in Berlin, is another good one. A musical play entitled 'Congress of Seville,' which I saw in Berlin, is another that is far above the average.

"I have come to the conclusion that the French are superior in acting and the matter of scenery to English and American productions. In England the plays are produced with a fine artistic sense. All the German plays I saw were suggestive, and some of them were positively indecent. Most of the French plays are talky—consisting of little more than brilliant dialogue. As for the quality of English plays, in the main they are worthless piffle, although they are excellently done.

"For dramatic strength and for situations I am convinced that the American play now leads the world."

Miss Nita Allen, who performed an eccentric character rôle in "The Girl of My Dreams" at the Illinois some time ago, will appear with the Lean-Holbrook aggregation at the Ziegfeld in "The Military Maid," playing a musical comedy spinster.

There is controversy in New York between the theater managers and their orchestras over the demand of the latter that the musicians be paid $30 per week instead of $24. As a result music is being provided in all the playhouses but one by pianists, with here and there a bass drummer.

Frank Keenan is the one actor who sees that the theater is being benefited by moving picture exhibitions. He figures it out thus:

"The film drama opens up a new channel of entertainment. The people who go to them form an instinct for advancement in entertainment, a greater mental and emotional stimulus than the dumb enactment of a film drama. Then they go to a regular theater and see and hear living people act and talk their way through a story that holds them. That is the process of evolution. We will have made for us with the picture shows new crops of audiences constantly, all for the good of the legitimate theater and intellectually for the good of the country."

Woman and Her Interests

Laura Jean Libbey's Comment and Advice.

Moonlight Rambles.

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY.

[Copyright: 1912: By Laura Jean Libbey.]

ALL the world loves a lover, and at no time of the year is a man more willing to play this important part than on a still summer night when the heavens are all aglow with twinkling stars and the moon floods the earth with her beautiful silvery light.

One's sweetheart seems to look fairer and her voice to take on a tenderer cadence. The clasp of her hand is more thrilling than before and her near presence is full of subtle magnetic charm.

Of all the delights known to a lover none are equal to a stroll with the girl he loves. They may not talk much—it does not seem to take words to convey how dear they are to each other. There is a glamor in the flower scented air which seems to inspire love in the heart and cause the words "I love you" to spring spontaneously to a man's lips. The same influence works havoc in women's hearts. The lover knows by his lassie's downcast eyes and the trembling of her hand that rests lightly on his arm that he will not have to plead in vain for her affection.

But right here let me say that the lover who is sincere will offer himself in marriage at the time he declares his love. If he evades asking her hand in matrimony she should realize that his love does not ring true. He is thinking only of the pleasures of the present and is not considering marriage.

Shy young girls, although they may realize this, are loath to press the subject to a better understanding after an avowal of love. There have been girls who have murmured bashfully after an ardent protestation of love from an admirer, "You mean you want to marry me?" and this artless query has not detracted from her modesty.

It is little short of cruel to expect to win a young girl's confession that she loves in return without the solemn plighting of their troth then and there. Young girls should always put in the provision "if their parents are willing." Summer beaux are usually the most lasting. The moonlight rambles draw young couples together evening after evening. Love is not a plant of slow growth. It has been known to blossom in a day. That is not saying that it comes to full fruition until the summer is well-nigh over.

Enjoys Platonic Friendship.

"Dear Miss Libbey: I am a young girl attending school in a college town. I go out frequently with college boys and enjoy the platonic friendship. But, alas! some prefer to get serious and be too affectionate and loving. Now please tell me what to do. I want their attentions, but if I am too cold they will drop me altogether. COR."

Try and treat them exactly as you would your girl friends if the platonic friendship is what you are after.

Shall He Tell 'Em?

"Dear Miss Libbey: The writer is a traveling salesman, selling goods for a drug house. Am desirous of marrying a beautiful girl whom I love and respect; my belief is that this young lady truly loves me. In course of my travels over the state have acquired eight or nine dear young lady friend. They are dear to me in a way and should I tell them I was going to be married and break off with them it would interfere with my business and make things complicated for me in more ways than one.

"The girl I hope to marry, and I love her above all the rest, has decided opinions of her own as to what is proper and right. Although she does not know much about me she has implicit confidence in me. Should we be married quietly my outside girls have no way to find it out unless by accident. While away from home I could go on as in the past and my business would not be disturbed. Under the existing circumstances would it be right for me to keep this from my intended wife or would you tell her all and risk getting queered for life. I love this one girl deeply and don't want to lose out. I have over $500 in the bank and my salary justifies my supporting a wife. "BROWNIE."

I think the decent thing to do would be to tell the girls of your coming marriage. You may depend upon it they will find it out and it will lower you in their estimation. It is much better to be frank in such matters.

Lillian Russell's Beauty Secrets.

Cultivate Bathing.

BY LILLIAN RUSSELL.

[Copyright: 1912: By Lillian Russell.]

IT takes cultivation to appreciate a bath as truly as to enjoy a painting. Curious that in an age when conveniences for bathing are common as street lamps there is not the most distant need of warning devout souls against too great indulgence in the pleasures of the bath, which the church found necessary in the middle ages. Bathing was then allowed to the devout as grudgingly as a prohibitionist would permit alcohol in case of illness, and as many good reasons were alleged against the external use of water once as they are against the inward use of ardent spirits today.

The bath has many more benefits besides laundering our garment of skin. Change of temperature from heat to cold refreshes. A hot bath in winter finished by a cold plunge or sponge will heat and stimulate the body so as to enable it to bear cold weather better for days.

Few women understand the necessity of two baths daily for freely perspiring persons in hot weather, to clear the pores and to cool the body morning and night.

Prostrations from heat would be unknown if this were the habit of all classes, especially of working women who perspire freely.

The bath as a means of physical development hardly begins to be understood. A properly fitted bathroom is not second to a gymnasium as a means of physical perfection. People, especially men, take their baths too much by theory. The rigid disciplinarian takes baths in cold water the year around as a corporeal benefit and a protest against weakness of the flesh.

Some nervous conscientious women endure this cold bath régime hoping to harden and strengthen themselves. Some injudicious parents compel their innocent fearful children to take cold baths, never dreaming of the mischief done.

Many cases of hysteria, epilepsy, and paralysis have been the result of a "hardening" children in their infancy. If the cold bath or shower frightens a child, if there is catching of the breath or tremor as the child enters the water, empty the bath at once and let in the warm water till the child is glad to get in and play in it.

If you want to give a girl a weak constitution by all means insist on the various systems of discomfort which excellent persons consider improving.

A woman of delicate constitution told me that looking back to her childhood she could hardly remember being comfortable as she was forced to bathe in cold water every morning and to wear flannels winter and summer. She was forbidden to go near a fire for fear of getting tender and was obliged to sleep and dress in icy bedrooms. Instead of hardening her she is today a delicate woman living in constant dread of tuberculosis.

Dr. Shoemaker says all persons he has known who boasted of breaking a film of ice to take their bath died early yet they probably felt good reaction at the time. It is doubtful if any sane person allowed free choice ever persisted in cold bathing which left him chilly. It is safe to take a cold bath only when it is absolutely delicious in anticipation and actual enjoyment. The bath is woman's best antidote for pain when taken warm. It is a tonic for her strength and preservative of youth and freshness.

Remember: You may drive a child to cold water, but can't compel it to jump in.

Lillian Russell's Answers.

GERALDINE B.: Brushing is good for the hair. At night after taking the hair down brush each side at least 100 strokes. The hair will at once respond and show more life. Scalp massage is also good. Massage the scalp for about ten minutes every night. This will also increase the growth. If you care for it send me a stamped, addressed envelope and I shall be glad to send you the formula for an excellent hair tonic and directions for scalp massage.

ELLA A. B.: Massage the scars with a good skin food and they will gradually disappear. If you care for it send me a stamped, addressed envelope and I shall be glad to send you the formula for the skin food with directions for massage.

Delegates Will Vote on Federal University and on Expenditure of Large Fund.

The fiftieth annual meeting of the National Educational association, the largest organization of teachers in the world, will begin tomorrow. Based on delegations of teachers and educators which began to arrive in Chicago yesterday and on advance registrations which already have come in to the bureau in the Congress hotel it is expected between 10,000 and 15,000 members will attend.

The work of registration and receiving memberships will occupy today and tomorrow. The only sessions before the regular work of the convention begins on Monday will be a meeting tomorrow of the national council of education. The general sessions will be held in the Auditorium theater. Departmental meetings and conferences will be held in various downtown halls. The directors will meet Monday morning.

Propose Federal University.

Among the important topics which will come before the association will be a proposal to support the establishment of a national university by the federal government. This project will be urged by a number of well known educators. Another proposition which is expected to develop a sharp contest is the question of expenditure of the income of the organization's accumulated fund of about $173,000. Upon this proposition hangs a distinct change in the conduct of the association.

For years, the "progressives" assert, maintenance expenses have been increasing, while the outlay for educational research work and investigations along educational lines has been reduced. The first break between the two factions came at the San Francisco convention last year. After a hard fight the "progressives," then termed "insurgents," passed a resolution to expend $10,000 within the course of several years in conducting an inquiry into teachers' salaries in comparison with other professions and trades throughout the United States.

Officers May Oppose Plan.

Other proposals for research work will be brought forth this year. These are expected to be met with strong antagonism on the part of the conservatives, led by the permanent officers of the organization. They have held that the big invested fund should be kept intact and added to, except as current expenses necessitate expenditure of the income.

The first general session will be on Monday afternoon. Addresses will be made by Thomas W. Bicknell of Providence, R. I., a former president of the association; Supt. Greenwood of the Kansas City public schools, and Miss Ellen C. Sabin of Milwaukee-Downer college. In the evening a general reception will be given in the Art institute.

On Tuesday evening at the general session the topic of establishing a national university, for which bills already have been introduced in the house of representatives and the senate by Congressman William B. McKinley of Illinois and Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire, will be discussed.

State Universities' Heads Aid.

Several former efforts to commit the Nation Educational association to opposition to this project have been made. This year arguments in favor of the project will be made by President Edmund J. James of the University of Illinois, President Charles R. Van Hise, of the University of Wisconsin, President James H. Baker of the University of Colorado, and President William O. Thompson of the Ohio State university.

The measures pending in congress call for a university exclusively for graduate students. The McKinley bill asks for an appropriation of $500,000 for the first year. Both measures provide for use of the congressional library and federal collections of scientific material at Washington, valued at between $50,000,000 and $60,000,000. The university is designed to coördinate scientific work now carried on separately by more than fifty government agencies.

URGE SPEED ON SUBWAY PLAN

Early Conferences Between Aldermen and Board Needed.

SOME ASK TRACTION PEACE.

Councilmen Want Differences with the Companies Ended.

New conferences on subway plans will have to be started at once between the city council local transportation committee and the harbor and subway commission, if the commission is to have complete plans for a municipal subway ready by Sept. 1.

This was the date set in the transportation committee resolution adopted Wednesday afternoon following the break in merger negotiations between the city and the traction interests. James J. Reynolds, a member of the subway commission, said yesterday not even the subway routing had been determined on. It was the insistance of the mayor and his council committee to have Mr. Reynolds named on the proposed new valuation commission to assess the elevated roads' properties that caused the break in the negotiations.

Must Find Aldermen's Aims.

"We will have to find out the transportation committee's desires on the subway plans before we can make any comprehensive scheme for subways," Mr. Reynolds said. "Tentative plans with suggested routes were prepared by the commission last winter and submitted to the committee in February, but nothing was decided upon.

"We have all the engineering details of the three necessary tunnels already worked out. The location of the tunnels for the downtown district would be the same no matter what routing scheme is selected. There will have to be one under the river in State street and two under the river from the west side in Randolph and Harrison streets. We are prepared to start work on the tunnels at any time.

"As it will take longer to build the tunnels than any other part of the subway, it would seem the thing to do to start work on them first. We figure two years would be the minimum time in which the tunnels could be completed."

Aldermen Seek Compromise.

It is not unlikely that some aldermen may try to reopen negotiations with the traction interests looking toward the consolidation of all the elevated and surface lines. They are not against a municipal subway in some cases, but feel the best traction service to Chicago would come from a consolidated company which would operate all surface, elevated, and subway lines as a single system. They are inclined to believe that the companies were justified in not desiring Mr. Reynolds named on the new valuation commission, inasmuch as he was a member of the first commission, whose members failed to agree on valuation figures for the elevated properties by a difference of $40,000,000.

Members of the transportation committee were not inclined to discuss the subway or merger situation during the day. Ald. Lipps said he was sorry negotiations had been broken off.

"I believe the people of Chicago are entitled to the best traction service that can be obtained," he said. "I believe that service can be secured only through a consolidation of all the traction interests. That would mean universal transfers to and from surface, elevated, and subway lines. It would mean fastest transportation combined with the most systematized operation."

BURNED WHILE COOKING MEAL.

Woman's Clothing Catches Afire When Burning Grease Spatters—Dies in Hospital.

Mrs. Catherine Mulqueen, 1543 West Twelfth street, died at the county hospital yesterday from burns suffered two hours before while frying a steak in her home. The grease became ignited and spattered on Mrs. Mulqueen's face, arms, and clothing, setting it afire. Martin Mulqueen, her son, heard his mother's screams for help and extinguished the flames with a piece of carpet, but she was burned on the face, breast and hands.

Fall of Thirty Feet Kills Man.

Frank Nigl, who lived at 3413 Hirsch street, died at the Alexian Brothers hospital yesterday of a fracture of the skull received when he fell thirty feet on July 2 into an open elevator shaft at 719 West Division street.

ANOTHER TANGLED IN FUNK INQUIRY

Court Reporter Said to Be Involved in Alienation Suit Aftermath.

HAD HARBORED HENNING.

Believed to Have Sealed Lips of Aileen Heppner, Now Under Arrest.

A court reporter—a man who has done much stenographic work for Donahoe & Hartnett—may become involved in the investigation of the peculiar phases surrounding the exploded suit for alienation of affections brought against Clarence S. Funk by John C. Henning.

It was this court reporter, according to information in the hands of Scott, Bancroft & Stephens and James M. Sheean, counsel for the International Harvester company's head, who sealed the lips of Miss Aileen Heppner, chief prosecuting witness, at the time she showed plain indications of wishing to reveal the inside facts of the case.

It was at this court reporter's home, in the south section of the city, that Henning hid and swore to the declaration filed on his first return to Chicago after the original flight to Mobile, Ala., last October. The Funk lawyers are now desirous of learning whether the man had any interest beyond taking stenographic notes in the case.

Woman Offers to Make Revelations.

Miss Heppner knew she was under surveillance the instant she left the witness stand. Donahoe & Hartnett, it is said, told her. It worried her, and through a friend she sent word to Mr. Scott that she would reveal something interesting provided there would be no formal charge of perjury lodged against her.

Mr. Scott telephoned her as suggested and then, it is said, she expressed fear of consequences at the hands of the Henning people.

Monday night last Mr. Scott sent Attorney Charles O. Rundall to the Heppner residence at 814 Eastwood avenue, when the young woman renewed her promise to appear at the Scott offices.

Developments show that Rundall was observed by detectives in the employ of Donahoe & Hartnett. Miss Heppner, when starting presumably for the Scott offices, went by a circuitous course to a couple of State street department stores, bought wearing apparel, and then suddenly turned to the office of this court reporter in the Ashland block.

Arrest Made to Head Off Flight.

It then reached the ears of the Funk lawyers that Miss Heppner "had been seen" and was preparing to depart for Seattle, Wash.

It was this information which caused Mr. Funk to swear out the perjury warrant on which the young woman was arrested Tuesday evening as she emerged from the Ashland block, which houses the reporter's offices as well as those of the Henning counsel.

Henning is still a fugitive from the perjury warrant that is in possession of city detectives, but his absence will n no wise nterfere with the grand jury investigation set for Monday. This inquiry and its disclosures is declared likely to prove a big shock to Mrs. Charles Oviatt, who chaperoned Mrs. Henning at Atlantic City.

The shock is expected to come from two good looking young men who were taken into the courtroom for identification while Mrs. Oviatt was on the stand.

Private Detectives at Seashore.

These young men, said to be private detectives, worked themselves into the good graces of Mrs. Henning and Mrs. Oviatt—both of whom went under assumed names—at the seashore, and, the story goes, procured the damaging "Dear Billie" letters that Henning wrote to his wife from Los Angeles.

The proprietor, bartender, and others connected with a South Halsted street saloon also may be drawn into the inquiry. In this saloon, according to rumor, the merits and demerits of the alienation suit were discussed from beginning to end, and the informal debates exposed the strength and weakness of different phases of the case.

Bites Bartender; Is Arrested.

Charles Eckman, 2546 Prairie avenue, was arrested in a saloon at 220 East Twenty-sixth street after he bit Joseph Akars, the bartender, on the left hand.

FAIL AGAIN TO FREE LEWICKY

Divekeeper's Lawyers Drop Second Habeas Corpus Action.

FEAR ATTITUDE OF OLSON.

Hope Now to Avert Nine Months' Sentence by Appeal on Error.

New plans to get Adam Lewicky, convicted of trafficking in women, out of the bridewell by a habeas corpus action were halted yesterday after the prisoner's attorney had his client sign the petition. Lewicky was sent to prison on Wednesday by Chief Justice Olson of the Municipal court, after being given his freedom through habeas corpus proceedings by Judge William Fenimore Cooper.

"Judge Olson has all the judges bluffed, I guess," William L. Martin, attorney for Lewicky, said. "None of them would grant us a habeas corpus petition after Judge Olson overrode the one granted by Judge Cooper. It's true I had Lewicky sign a petition to make application to Judge Dever, but I think now we'll take an appeal on error and get him out that way."

No Way to Get Him Out, Says Olson.

Judge Olson said there was no way now for Lewicky to get out of the bridewell until he had served his sentence of nine months imprisonment and a $500 fine. He said the prisoner had thrown away his right of appeal when he had had his appeal suit dismissed in the higher court in order to take advantage of the habeas corpus proceedings in Judge Cooper's court.

"Judge Cooper granted the habeas corpus petition because of a clerical error which made the mittimus read nine months in jail, while the court docket showed his sentence to be five months imprisonment," Judge Olson said. "We corrected the court record to show nine months, the real sentence, and then sentenced him. Any court has a right to correct or amend its records from court data and Lewicky is legally sentenced."

Attorney Martin said he was certain Judge Cooper would make no attempt to have his own habeas corpus action take precedence over Judge Olson's sentence, but insisted Judge Olson was without jurisdiction in sentencing his client.

"Municipal Judge Sabath was the man who tried Lewicky, and he is the judge who should have sentenced him," the attorney said. "Anyway, the new mittimus issued is illegal, because there are extra notations made on it, either by Judge Olson or by his agents."

Olson Alert for Vice Move.

The attorney had reference to a few lines addressed on the paper to Supt. Whitman of the bridewell, which were:

"If a writ arrives, notify Chief Justice Olson's office at once. If means are started to release this man, notify Judge Olson, night or day."

Attorneys Clifford G. Roe and Carl A. Waldron, who prosecuted the Lewicky case for more than a year without landing him in jail for a single night, were greatly pleased with the aid Judge Olson had given them.

They said they intended to call the attention of the justice to another similar case, in which a woman, Mary Adams, obtained her release through habeas corpus proceedings through a docket error. She was a housekeeper for Lewicky and was convicted of trafficking in women and sentenced to nine months' imprisonment. The court docket in her case showed an omission of the word "months" after the "nine."

GOVERNMENT AIDS ILLINOIS MILITIA

Money Appropriated to Carry Out Maneuvers Planned for This Summer.

PRESIDENT TO SIGN BILL.

Third and Sixth Infantry to Go Into Camp at Sparta, Wis., for Two Weeks.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., July 4.—[Special.]—Illinois militia maneuvers this summer will be carried out with an uninterrupted program.

This was assured yesterday when the senate passed the emergency measure covering the joint appropriation for militia organizations throughout the country. It is only necessary for the bill to receive the president's signature for it to become a law. The money then will be immediately available.

Only two Illinois regiments are directly affected by this appropriation. They are the Third and Sixth infantry. They will go into camp at Sparta, Wis., July 15, and the maneuvers will extend until Aug. 1. Practically all of the expenses will be paid by the government, some being supplied from the special appropriation and some from the federal permanent militia appropriation known as the "1661 fund."

Springfield Camp Opens Today.

The other six Illinois regiments will go to Springfield, where the camp will be established tomorrow. The militiamen will be kept there until Aug. 17, each regiment staying one week. Part of the expenses will be paid by the state, and the remainder out of the "1661 fund."

The six regiments are scattered over a large part of the state. The First, Second, and Seventh have headquarters at Chicago. The Fourth is scattered through Decatur, Effingham, and other towns in that vicinity. The Fifth has headquarters at Quincy. The Eighth is apportioned between Chicago, Springfield, and Bloomington. The Sixth and Third, which will go to the camp at Sparta, Wis., are both from Rock Island.

Illinois' only cavalry regiment, the First, will go on a practice march, but detailed plans have not yet been completed.

Batteries Returning Home.

Three batteries of field artillery have been engaged in maneuvers at Fort Riley, Kas., since June 25. They started yesterday to return to their headquarters. One of the batteries is from Chicago, and the other two from Waukegan. The artillery men went to the Fort Riley camp without equipment, and used the field guns, etc., belonging to the government. This resulted in saving a considerable expense.

It is planned to make the militia maneuvers throughout the country exceptionally elaborate this year. The famous German and continental field exercises, it is said, will be eclipsed in extensiveness and perfection by some of the militia regiments.

Gen. Young, in charge of the Illinois militia, probably will go to the Sparta camp to review the militiamen and witness the maneuvers.

WRECKER OF BANK TAKEN IN CHICAGO

H. B. Harter, Cashier of Indiana Institution, Returns to Stand Trial.

READY TO "FACE MUSIC."

Took Funds Amounting to $24,500 to Speculate in the Wheat Market.

Howard B. Harter, who wrecked the Citizens' bank of Akron, Ind., last November through unlucky speculations on wheat, was arrested yesterday with embezzlement of $24,500 of the bank's funds. The bank was founded by Harter's father in 1902. The younger man was cashier at the time the doors closed, due to the discovery of his peculations.

Harter was arrested at the Hannah and Hogg hotel, 214 South Clark street, where he had been living for some time.

Harter's peculations were discovered last November and the bank was closed, although the depositors were paid dollar for dollar. The young cashier, who admitted that his speculations with the bank's money had caused the crash, gave up his own home and went to live at the home of Sheriff Louis S. Sheets of Fulton county, waiting action by the grand jury.

Nothing was done, however, and he came to Chicago a few weeks ago. In the meantime an indictment was voted against him and yesterday Sheriff Sheets served a warrant on him and they left for Indiana at once.

"I am willing to 'face the music,'" said the young man, "and have been all along. I started speculating on the board of trade here and made money at first. Then I tried to 'plunge' and was wiped out.

"After that the matter was discovered by the bank officials and I admitted my part in it and I have been ready to answer to the law at any time. I never tried to run away, and the sheriff and my parents have known where I was living all the time."

Some "Don'ts" for Buyers of Electric Trucks

VI.—Don't select from a narrow, restricted line. Only the maker with a broad, full line can give you UNBIASED advice.

The shoe salesman who hasn't your size in a lace, broad-toe, russet Oxford advises you to buy a lace, broad-toe, black Oxford—or a lace, narrow-toe, russet Oxford—or some other combination in which he can fit you.

It's human nature—and all electric truck salesmen are human.

There are more "combinations" in getting fitted with trucks than there are in getting fitted with shoes. And a misfit in trucks is serious.

And so—other things being equal—it goes without saying that it is SAFER to buy trucks from the firm with the broadest line—the line most likely to have your "combination."

It just happens that when it comes to electric trucks the firm with the broadest line is also the firm with a wider experience and a stronger reputation than any other firm in the business.

"Don't" VII. next Sunday

This firm is the Studebaker Corporation—for 60 years the world's largest and most important vehicle builders.

The Studebaker line in electric trucks comprises six (6) different models of chassis—each changeable to any one of four (4) different power-plant capacities. This gives a range of twenty-four (24) different equipments—each adaptable to either stock or made-to-order bodies of any form desired.

Due to the sweeping scope of this line, we are able to offer you—not some misfit equipment—but the trucks that your business needs.

To be sure of giving the soundest advice on every delivery problem, we maintain the most able, the most extensive, Engineering Department ever organized for such study.

Whether you need one small wagon or a fleet of large trucks, we shall be glad to let our engineers advise you, if you merely write us. Ask also for detailed literature.

WRECKER OF BANK TAKEN IN CHICAGO

H. B. Harter, Cashier of Indiana Institution, Returns to Stand Trial.

READY TO "FACE MUSIC."

Took Funds Amounting to $24,500 to Speculate in the Wheat Market.

Howard B. Harter, who wrecked the Citizens' bank of Akron, Ind., last November through unlucky speculations on wheat, was arrested yesterday with embezzlement of $24,500 of the bank's funds. The bank was founded by Harter's father in 1902. The younger man was cashier at the time the doors closed, due to the discovery of his peculations.

Harter was arrested at the Hannah and Hogg hotel, 214 South Clark street, where he had been living for some time.

Harter's peculations were discovered last November and the bank was closed, although the depositors were paid dollar for dollar. The young cashier, who admitted that his speculations with the bank's money had caused the crash, gave up his own home and went to live at the home of Sheriff Louis S. Sheets of Fulton county, waiting action by the grand jury.

Nothing was done, however, and he came to Chicago a few weeks ago. In the meantime an indictment was voted against him and yesterday Sheriff Sheets served a warrant on him and they left for Indiana at once.

"I am willing to 'face the music,'" said the young man, "and have been all along. I started speculating on the board of trade here and made money at first. Then I tried to 'plunge' and was wiped out.

"After that the matter was discovered by the bank officials and I admitted my part in it and I have been ready to answer to the law at any time. I never tried to run away, and the sheriff and my parents have known where I was living all the time."
